Corbyn on the retreat after 'stupid woman' uproar

Labour leader Jeremy Corbyn has denied calling Theresa May a "stupid woman" during Prime Minister's Questions.

He was asked to make a statement to MPs after facing Tory calls to apologise for the alleged insult.

Mr Corbyn said he was "opposed to the use of sexist and misogynist language in any form" and insisted he had actually said "stupid people".

Commons Speaker John Bercow said he had not seen the alleged incident and all MPs had to be taken at their word.

But Conservative MPs said they did not believe Mr Corbyn's explanation and repeated calls for an apology from him.

Corbyn told the Commons: "During prime minister's question time today, I referred to those who I believe were seeking to turn a debate about the national crisis facing our country into a pantomime as 'stupid people'."

"Mr Speaker I did not use the words 'stupid woman' about the prime minister or anyone else," he added.

Conservative MP Rachel Maclean responded to his statement by saying: "Read my lips - I don't believe him."

The Speaker said he had reviewed television footage of Mr Corbyn's alleged insult, which had not been picked up by the microphones, and it was "easy to see why the leader of the opposition's words might be construed as 'stupid woman'."

He had also consulted a "lip speaker", who are employed to interpret lip movements in court rooms

From West Wing to Westminster: even Hollywood star Rob Lowe (above) has weighed in and other settings when a lip reader can't get close enough, who had lent weight to that view but had not been conclusive.

'thought crime'

Nobody can be 100% certain, that includes professional lip readers. But I will naturally take, and would be expected to take, the word of any right honourable or honourable member.

"It's reasonable to expect the House to do the same."

He added that Mr Corbyn had been "seated at the time and not addressing the House" so his words had not been "on the record".

Mr Bercow was separately accused by Tory

MP Vicky Ford of calling her a "stupid woman" on an earlier occasion, as MPs turned the spotlight on the Speaker's own conduct.

The Speaker told Ms Ford she had not raised this point with him before, adding: "I refute it 100%"

Commons leader Andrea Leadsom had earlier reminded Mr Bercow of his failure to apologise to her for calling her a "stupid woman" during an incident earlier this year.

Mr Bercow said he had already dealt with that matter.

Mrs Leadsom said viewers and MPs would "draw their own conclusions" after Mr Corbyn's statement.

DENY, DENY, DENY: Corbyn has claimed he said 'stupid people'. Lip readers beg to differ

But Tory MP Desmond Swayne said criticising MPs for "what they might say under their breath" was moving "into the realm of thought crime".

And Labour MP Laura Pidcock said using the Commons chamber in this way was "absolutely pathetic".

And in a strange turn of events, TV's West Wing intersected with Westminster as Hollywood actor Rob Lowe weighed in on the row.

Mr Lowe, who has experienced several political tussles during his years playing Sam Seaborn in the acclaimed American TV series, tweeted: "FYI - I have to say, I saw Jeremy Corbin call the Prime Minister with my own eyes watching on @SkyNewsPolitics."

As news outlets employed lip readers to interpret the comments, Twitter users were split on which side to take.

One user told Mr Lowe what his view was, saying "your lip reading leaves a lot to be desired, much like your acting", to which the St Elmo's Fire star responded: "Amazing!"

Labour MP who lied to avoid speeding charge compares herself to Jesus

A Labour MP found guilty of lying to police to avoid a speeding charge has compared herself to Jesus and Moses in a defiant message to her colleagues.

Fiona Onasanya, 35, was suspended and urged to quit the Commons by the Labour Party Wednesday after her conviction for perverting the course of justice.

The solicitor lied "persistently and deliberately" to police about who was driving her car in an attempt to avoid penalty points after it was recorded at 41mph in a 30mph zone near Thorney in her Peterborough constituency.

But in a message sent to other Labour MPs on various WhatsApp groups on Thursday morning and leaked to The Times, Onasanya hinted she would not quit, saying this was instead "the beginning of the next chapter" of her "story".

She wrote: "As many of you are already aware, due to widespread media coverage, I was found guilty of perverting the course of justice. Although I vigorously maintained my innocence, the jury has decided that I am guilty.

"I campaigned for justice and for the interests of ordinary people throughout my entire working life to date, but it is this which has made both national and international press. The first jury was dismissed having failed to reach a decision last month but the second jury reached their conclusion within days."

She continued: "Regardless of what you believe or suspect, the fact remains that I Fiona, sought to be the choice and voice of change — but this may now take a different path. More than ever before I am asking that you commit time in prayer for my family."

"In times like these the natural inclination of believers is to ask God why? I personally do not, because in my experience the answers are usually far above and beyond my reach. What I do know is that I am in good biblical company along with Joseph, Moses, Daniel and his three Hebrew friends who were each found guilty by the courts of their day.

"While God did not save them from a guilty verdict he did save them in it and ensured that their greatest days of impact were on the other side of a guilty verdict. Of course this is equally true of Christ who was accused and convicted by the courts of his day and yet this was not his end but rather the beginning of the next chapter in his story."

Labour cannot force Onasanya to stand down, although by urging her to resign it has effectively called for a by-election in the seat, which she narrowly won from the Conservative last year by 607 votes. Under laws introduced in 2015 any prison term, even a suspended one, can trigger a "recall" petition. This can force a by-election if signed by 10 per cent of voters in a constituency.

John Peach, 59, a former Tory mayor of Peterborough said that Onasanya should step down and trigger a by-election.

"She has been completely out of her depth on this really, the poor old girl," he said.

Employees 'terrified of JK's moods'

JK ROWLING was a generous but scary and moody boss, said a former personal assistant accused of fraudulently using the author's credit card for spending sprees.

Amanda Donaldson was dismissed last year over allegedly benefitting to the tune of almost £24,000. The author, under her married name of Joanne Murray, is seeking damages in a civil case. It is alleged Ms Donaldson spent £3,629 in retailer Molton Brown, £2,139 in card shop Paper Tiger and more than £1,800 in Starbucks and Costa coffee shops on a company credit card without authorisation. Ms Donaldson told Airdrie Sheriff Court the author "could be really generous" and bought her a new pushchair when her child's was damaged. She claimed she was never given specific instructions for using the company credit card.

Ms Donaldson said Ms Rowling was often "busy writing and you had to respect that". She added: "Approachable isn't something I would say. "People in the office would sometimes ask if she was in a good mood, in a terrified way."

The PA said her boss had asked her to buy cards and gift wrapping from Paper Tiger and claimed money spent on cakes and coffees was for business meetings and staff birthdays. Ms Donaldson said the purchases in Molton Brown were for the office while spending in Jo Malone was at the request of Ms Rowling. The defendant said she was told not to disturb the author when busy so had to make her own spending decisions.

The case continues.

Palace gets antsy as Meghan's dad speaks out again over silent treatment

■ Thomas Markle tells Piers Morgan he texts his daughter 'every day' without a response

KENSINGTON Palace officials were under growing pressure this week to help heal the rift between the Duchess of Sussex and her father after he complained of being shunned in an explosive interview.

Thomas Markle appealed to the Queen to mediate after months of radio silence from his daughter.

But royal sources and former aides doubted the 92-year-old monarch would intervene and urged Prince Harry and Meghan to use their staff to try to rebuild bridges with the former Hollywood lighting director.

Mr Markle, 74, complained that he had listened to advice to stop speaking out about the fractured relationship in the hope that Meghan would then get back in touch – but he had been frozen out by his daughter and her mother, his former wife, Dora Ragland.

"I've been quiet for six months and no one's returned anything back to me. No one's said a word to me. I'm confused by it," he said.

He told Piers Morgan on ITV's Good Morning Britain that he has texted Meghan, 37, every day but has heard nothing from her, not even a Christmas card, but hoped they would soon be talking.

Morgan said he too was cut off – or "ghosted" – by Meghan, a former friend, when she started dating Harry. Mr Markle agreed he had suffered the same fate as the television presenter. "Ghosted like you, yes."

"I'm hopeful that soon something will be resolved and we'll be talking," he added. "This can't continue forever. People are saying I should be quiet about this and not speak, that if I don't speak, they will speak to me. That hasn't happened. I don't plan to be silent for the rest of my life.

"I love my daughter very much and she has to know that. I would really appreciate it if she would just call me, reach out to me somehow, send me a text. Just say you're there and you're hearing me."

Royal sources have acknowledged that Mr Markle, who pulled out of walking his daughter down the aisle in May after claiming he had suffered a heart attack, will come back to haunt her at every landmark moment in her life. They accept that the American former actress, who is due to give birth to her first child in the spring, needs to re-establish ties with him.

'a place for me'

He spoke this week about Meghan's pregnancy and his forthcoming grandchild.

"I'm certainly hoping that everything goes well and they produce a beautiful baby and I'll get to see a little Meghan or little Harry. That would be very nice and I look forward to that happening. I'm hopeful. I think it should happen.

"I think she'll make a great mum and maybe things will soften a little bit and we'll connect again.

"There has to be a place for me. I'm her father and I will be the grandfather to the children, so all I can say is that I'm here, she knows it. "I've reached out to her and I need her to reach back to me. I love her very much."

He insisted he was

MEGHAN MARKLE AND FATHER THOMAS:

"I've reached out to her and I need her to reach back to me."

puzzled by reports that Meghan had been rude to palace staff and become distanced from the Duchess of Cambridge after some behind-the-scenes spats in the run-up to her wedding in May.

"She was raised on Hollywood stages and learned to respect the crew and learned to respect every one. I just can't see her being rude to anyone, it's not her," he said.

She's always been a very controlling person and that's part of her nature. She's never been rude. The ghosting I don't completely understand. To my knowledge she's always been in charge – that's her nature – but she's always been polite with it."

In another looming PR disaster for Meghan, her father revealed that while she will have a luxury Christmas Day at Sandringham with the Queen, he will be on the Mexican-US border, handing out sweets and toys to underprivileged children.

"I would appreciate a card or a phone call, some sign she knows I'm here. No, I have not [received a Christmas card]," he added.

Kensington Palace refused to discuss the rift but faced criticism from royal insiders and Princess Diana's former police bodyguard, Ken Wharfe. He dismissed Mr Markle's call for the Queen to intervene, saying she never did with Prince Charles and Diana.

"Of course she isn't going to help. It's really a matter for Meghan and Harry. Where are her advisers?" he asked.

Joe Little, managing editor of Majesty magazine, blamed all sides. "I think they are all at fault," he said. "I think Harry and Meghan should long ago have handled this with a more magnanimous gesture. They should have gone out to see him."

News From Britain

Mystery drones bring Christmas misery to Gatwick

Passengers are facing up to three days of flight chaos at Gatwick after "industrial"-sized drones brought Britain's second busiest airport to a standstill this week.

More than 350,000 people risk having their travel plans disrupted in the run-up to Christmas after all flights were grounded or diverted on one of the busiest days of the year.

The army was called in to Gatwick to help find the drones that have forced the closure of the runway since 9pm on Wednesday.

Officers carrying sniper rifles were seen dotted around the airfield and more than 20 police units have been scouring the airport perimeter. But the drone's operator has yet to be tracked down.

Ministers were accused of being "too slow to act" over the threat posed by drones. New rules were adopted in the summer making it a criminal offence to fly a drone within 0.6 of a mile of an airport, with offenders facing up to five years in jail.

However, more substantial measures are yet to be introduced. Tests have taken place on detection and blocking technology but it cannot be brought into operational use without government licensing.

In May, Southend Airport carried out a week-long drone surveillance trial which made it possible to spot drones sooner than previously possible and track where the operator was located.

Gatwick reopened the runway at about 3am Thursday but was forced to shut it again 45 minutes later after a further drone sighting.

Drones were again spotted over the airport at 7am and between 11am and noon. It is believed that the runway will not reopen until 7pm at the earliest.

Overnight, passengers were forced to sleep on the floor in Gatwick's two terminals or on grounded jets because of a block on any take-offs. Aircraft were diverted to airports including Amsterdam, Paris, Bordeaux, Cardiff, Liverpool, Manchester, Stansted, Luton and Birmingham.

In all 760 flights, with 115,000 passengers, were affected on Thursday alone.

Gatwick warned that disruption will continue until at least Saturday because of the knock-on effects. About 126,000 passengers were due to pass through the airport on Friday - one of the busiest days of the year - followed by a similar number on Saturday.

Police said the drones are believed to be "industrial" models. Sussex police posted a message on Twitter which read: "It is believed that the Gatwick devices used are of an industrial specification. We are continuing to search for the operators."

Superintendent Justin Burtenshaw said police are acting on the basis that it is "a deliberate act to disrupt the airport".

He described attempts to catch whoever is controlling the gadgets as "painstaking" because it is "a difficult and challenging thing to locate them".

Aviation minister Baroness Sugg told reporters: "These drones have been flown illegally and the operators, who have acted incredibly irresponsibly, could face up to five years in jail."

"We are in close contact with Gatwick Airport as they work with police to safely resolve the situation as quickly as possible."

- Lord Of The Rings star Sir Ian McKellen bans 28 regulars from his London pub 'without explanation'
- Business has boomed at The Grapes in Limehouse since the actor bought the historic pub in 2011

Sir Ian McKellen's pub mysteriously 'banned 28 locals' from their favourite pub just weeks before Christmas, it has emerged.

The London drinking spot owned by the Lord of the Rings star, 79, has caused fury after a group of regulars started to be refused service and turned away.

Those refused entry have been left furious claiming they have never once caused trouble at the pub, once a favourite haunt of the Gandalf actor himself.

The 500-year-old pub, The Grapes in Limehouse, East London has been owned by Sir Ian and two others since 2011.

The pub was reportedly bought by Sir Ian and his former partner Sean Mathias. However, it is believed Mathias' current spouse Paul de Lange is the manager.

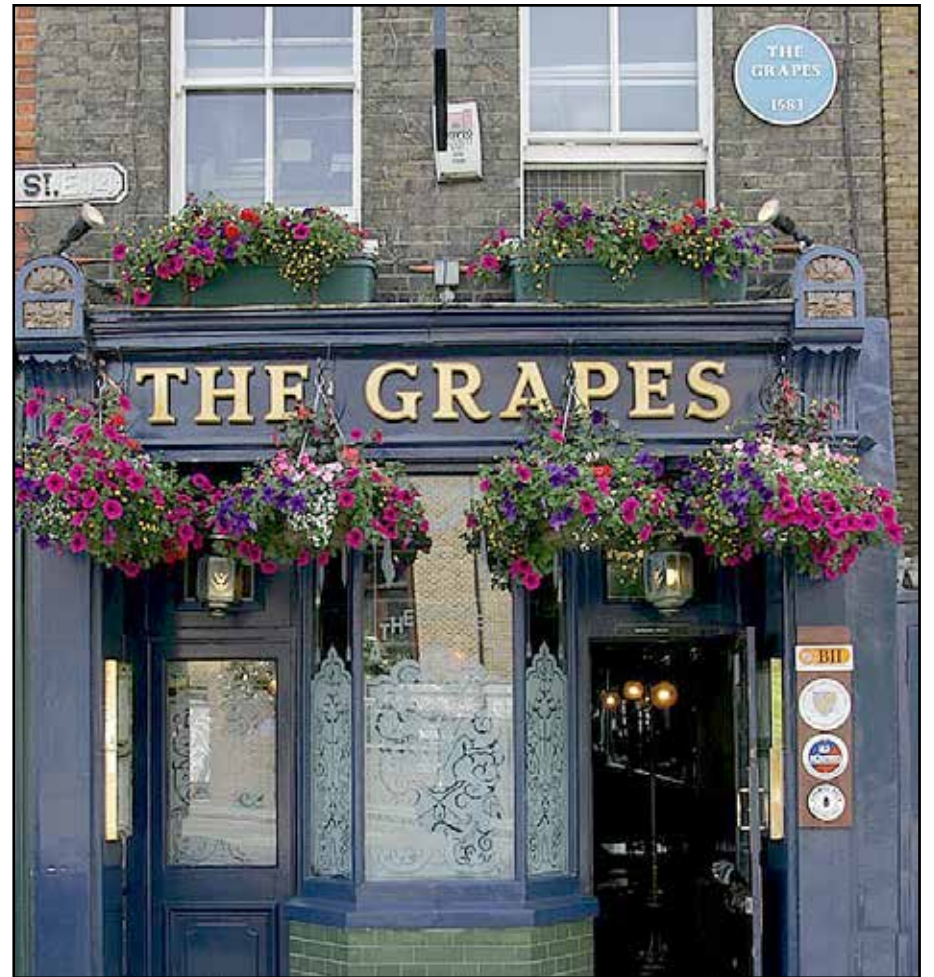

Online, the pub offers a 'friendly greeting in your local pub' but the banned locals said that could not be further from the truth.

refused entry

On Facebook, Tony Perry revealed the sudden and unexpected barrings.

He wrote: 'Over the last few days I've received loads of PMs from people who have been banned without any explanation. The common denominator being local and regulars. 'We aren't one big group and didn't all turn up together and get banned...'

'I guess each one of us has in our own

Waterside tavern: The Grapes, located right on the River Thames, was a favorite haunt of Charles Dickens way suddenly annoyed someone which is very strange as I always got along well with the staff. As did the others!'

Mr Perry said he and others were turned away, handed a business card and told to email the address for an explanation. However, they have had no reply. Former bar staff have also been refused entry, it is claimed.

'being a local'

John Sharp said: 'They like 'passing tourist trade' only in that pub — 'locals' are just too much hassle despite what their website laughably says.'

'I was barred just over a year ago and have never received any explanation

SIR IAN MCKELLEN: bought the pub in 2011

at all as to why (no matter how often or politely I asked - but you do please keep asking - you may eventually get an answer). I've looked for a 'pattern' and concluded that it is 'being a local'.'

Ric Beall added: 'Former bar staff (who didn't leave under a cloud) have also been barred just recently. No reason given.'

Another customer said both he and his wife were turned away and Sir Ian did not respond to 'polite emails' asking why.

Other said the pub has a 'Christmas clear out' for anyone who goes in there too regularly.

THE LADY IN RED!

■ Victoria Beckham's fashion company bleeds another £10m loss in 2017

VICTORIA BECKHAM: worth an estimated £240m

VICTORIA Beckham's fashion empire has fallen deeper into the red, posting a massive £10.2million loss for 2017.

Her high-end clothing line's losses increased by £2million from the previous year's deficit, meaning the business is haemorrhaging around £28,000 a day. The company, launched by the 44-year-old former Spice Girl in 2008, reported an £8.4million loss for 2016, up 78 per cent from 2015's £4.7million loss. However, it was not all doom and gloom for the wife of ex-England football captain David Beckham. Revenue from sales grew 17 per cent to £42.5million, up from £36.4million in 2016. According to accounts being filed at Companies House, clothing, accessories and eyewear performed strongly. The firm's sales were boosted in 2017 by a collaboration with US retail giant Target, which launched a limited edition line with most items below £50. Dresses from the Victoria Beckham main line typically sell for more than £1,000 – a tailored coat is an eye-watering £2,675 on the brand's website. Despite the huge loss, experts believe mother-of-four Victoria, who is worth an estimated £240million, can expect to turn a profit in the "medium term".

The latest accounts cover 2017, before the firm appointed fashion industry veteran Ralph Toledano as a new director to revamp the struggling business. Last November, the company received a £30million boost from private investors through NEO Investment Partners to grow its stores and online presence.

Victoria Beckham Ltd said last year the company "continued to invest in the business and build its talent base", insisting that its shareholders are committed to reducing its loss and expect to break even in the medium term. The company has blamed the losses on a "difficult trading environment".

Victoria, who wore one of her designs to Prince Harry and Meghan Markle's wedding in May, has generated sales of more than £200million over the nine-year period, but she has broken even in only four financial years. Financial troubles aside, Victoria's foray into fashion has been seen as a huge success. Vogue US editor Anna Wintour is a regular on the front row of her catwalk shows and celebrities such as singer Beyonce and actresses Gwyneth Paltrow and Sienna Miller have worn Victoria Beckham dresses. Victoria was also awarded this year's fashion icon accolade at the E! People's Choice Awards and received the prestigious best designer brand at the 2011 British Fashion Awards.

The sovereign now arriving at platform two....

With little fanfare, the Queen arrived at King's Lynn railway station in Norfolk Thursday morning as her traditional Christmas break at Sandringham began in earnest.

Flanked by a team of police officers and bodyguards, the monarch travelled first class but alongside ordinary passengers on the London to King's Lynn service. The 92-year-old, who disembarked on platform 2 and strolled to a waiting car, will host both the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge and the Duke and Duchess of Sussex at the royal estate this yuletide. Prince Philip, 97, is believed to be making the journey privately.

Make sure the only thing getting stuffed this Christmas...is the turkey!

At Christmas it's not uncommon to add ten pounds to the waistline.

This is due to a combination of factors... and in this column we will look at five EASY ways to reduce the damage and get you off the treadmill of New Year diet and exercise plans - 90% of which fail.

Here are five easy ways to avoid bursting at the seams:

1. Balance and Portion control - This is especially important in the USA! When filling your plate or if somebody is serving you, ensure the plate is smaller than normal when possible. Ensure you begin your meal with veggies first, then meat, leaving the bread until last!

Being mindful at this time of year will lead to an increased chance of maintaining better habits for the following year. REMEMBER all food is good IN MODERATION. There is NO BAD FOOD as long as you avoid over eating - Balance is key!

2. Drink at least one bottle of water before eating - Drinking water will fill up the stomach, ensuring that you feel less hungry as well as flushing out toxins that may be building up.

3. Before attending a social event eat something small and healthy - If you already know you are attending a gathering, it is good protocol to eat a healthy meal before going out. This ensures the edge is taken off the hunger and you may find that you eat less at the buffet (may!!!)

4. Earn your treats and exercise every two days for 30 mins over the holiday period -

This is a top rule at our Bodycamp retreats on Ibiza and Majorca. It simply means that if you are going to eat any form of simple carbs (bread/pasta/ice cream/sweets etc) before you choose to eat such foods, exercise for a minimum of 30 minutes. Strength training or cardio are recommended. This ensures your metabolism is increased and will also alter your hunger by lowering it and might make you think about choosing a healthier meal. Make sure you exercise every two days - one day "on", one day "off".

GROANING TABLE: it's SO easy to overdo it this time of year...

5. Don't drink your calories - The number one way to increase weight in the USA at this time of year is by drinking your calories. This is not only alcoholic calories but also soft drinks, juices, coffee, lattes etc. Be mindful of your consumption and always drink at least a bottle of water every hour at an event or wherever you may be.

The holidays are a fantastic time to apply new food rules for the coming year and begin great habits for life! You can set yourself up for success by following the five strategies listed above. REMEMBER - If you can do this over the holidays you can do this anytime and say goodbye to diets for once and for all!

British surfer rides 100ft monster wave off the Portuguese coast

A BRITISH surfer claimed a world record last week for riding the biggest wave.

Tom Butler, 29, took on an Atlantic monster reckoned to be more than 100ft (30m) tall off Nazare, Portugal. He said onlookers and surfing experts were confident it had beaten the old record of 80ft.

Tom, from Newquay, Cornwall, said: "I'd say it was 20 times my height, and I'm six foot two.

"You don't really see it behind you because you're so concentrated on what's ahead of you.

"It's like running from a raging bull. You don't stop to think about how much it weighs. If you get eye contact, you've already failed.

"Time kind of slows down, it's instinct really. I was doing everything to hold my balance.

"That's when your training comes in. I do lots of gymnastics to help me keep balanced.

"I was under the whole peak of the wave and there was more risk, there's a lot more power and a higher mass of water.

"It was a monster, I know that for sure."

Tom must submit photographic evidence to the World Surf League to adjudicate ahead of an awards ceremony in April. Tom added: "I reckon it was maybe 90 or even 100ft. It's the biggest wave surfed in the world this season and could beat the current record."

That was set earlier this year by Brazilian Rodrigo Koxa. Tom is a professional surfer and grew up riding the breakers at Fistral Beach, Newquay. Since then he has become one of the world's best surfers and is sponsored by GoPro, NineFeetTall and Sudeste Sports. He spends his life surfing the best spots in the world and is a frequent visitor to Nazare. Three years ago the daredevil was left with a lung injury and bleeding from the ear when an avalanche of water hit him after he fell on to a wave at the resort. He said: "It's more terrifying afterwards when you're watching the wave back because at the time you are focused in the moment.

"I've been coming here each winter for six years with my teammate Sebastian Steudtner and now we're one of the longest-standing teams.

"On Friday, he had about five goes then I had my turn. That when the big one came."

BRITS IN LA

Plenty of festive fun at our Christmas party!

IT seems everyone is really getting into the spirit this year, and with the words of John Lennon "Let's hope it's a good one, without any fear."

As usual everyone had a smashing time at the Brits in LA annual Christmas party at the No More Heroes Cocktail Lounge in West Hollywood. Thank you to Welshman Steve Kelly and the staff for hosting us. The night was sponsored by Beltran Brito Casamayor Immigration Attorneys. The wonderful crisp Gin and Tonics were supplied by "Silent Pool Gin" and Air New Zealand kindly supplied the main raffle prize of two round trip premium Economy Tickets to London, which was won by member Fred Hulls. Other prizes won were seats to the upcoming "Matthew Bourne's Cinderella" and tickets to both the Lythgoe Family Panto "Winter in Oz" and "Come From Away" at the Ahmanson. DJ Bas from Plastic Love got the crowd all excited spinning songs from the 80s and 90s and guests danced the night away while pulling crackers, feasting on mince pies and twiglets.

The space was totally extra for the holidays, not one inch of wall was free from decorations, complete with a huge tree and a snow machine. Oh what fun we had. Thanks to everyone who came and bought an unwrapped toy for Adopt-A-Letter, the charity that answers Santa's letters from impoverished children in the Los Angeles area. Visit their website at adopt-a-letter.org to see how you can still help.

Our brilliant pub quiz master Maestro Sandro Monetti was away this week so I had the honour of filling in for him and they were some mighty big shoes to fill. I switched it up a bit this year and added in an unexpected arts and crafts round - teams were challenged to make Christmas cards in five minutes using materials found in some wrapped up boxes. We all had a great time and congratulations to team "Fat Schlagers" who were first-timers but won the grand prize of $75 cash. We had a Christmas sing-off and "Ashley from Cloverdale" won a signed Chris Isaak framed poster and her hubby won a nice bottle of Jameson Cask whiskey for having the worst Xmas jumper.

New Year is almost upon us and with it come some new rules. Thanks to member and real-estate advisor Frank Sanford for sharing this nugget for property owners: new rules adopted unanimously by the City Council will take effect in July 2019 across the whole City of Los Angeles, including vacation hotspots like Venice, and will need to be signed into law by Mayor Garcetti.

Under the new short-term rental rules:

- All hosts will have to register with the City and pay an annual fee of $89.
- Only a primary residence can be rented out, defined as the place where a host lives for at least 6 months a year.
- Renters can't home-share without prior written approval of their landlord
- Rent controlled units are not eligible for home-sharing, even if you own your own RSO unit
- Hosts may not register to operate more than one home-sharing rental unit at a time in the city
- Hosts cannot home share for more than 120 days in a year, unless they have registered with the city for 'extended home sharing'

•The extended home sharing option allows hosts to rent out residences for an unlimited number of days. To get approval from the city, hosts have to pay an $850 fee. To qualify, they'll have to have been registered for at least 6 months or hosted for at least 60 days.

•Hosts who have received a citation in the past 3 years will be disqualified, unless they pay an $8,500 fee to have their case reviewed.

•Non-residential buildings and temporary structures are not eligible for home-sharing; that includes vehicles parked on the property, storage sheds, trailers, and tents.

Now you know about all these draconian new rules, you may want to review and change your strategy!

And finally The Lythgoe Family Panto is in full swing, "Winter in OZ" is playing at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium, tickets available at ticketscenter.org, good for all ages, not just the kids.

So until 2019, Merry Christmas, Happy Hogmanay and in the words of Paul McCartney I hope you're 'simply having a wonderful Christmastime'...

Our Kate won't muzzle the Mazel!

There's nothing like getting into the festive spirit...and British beauty Kate Beckinsale certainly knows how, adding a little kitsch to her usual gym attire earlier this week.

The words 'Mazel Bitches' were emblazoned on Kate's grey crew neck top.

The saying is a play on the words 'mazel tov,' which is Hebrew for good fortune.

Kate paired the top with a pair of tight high-waisted spandex leggings with a busy blue print and sheer panel on the calf along with some chunky cream sneakers.

Her brunette locks were pulled up in her signature high ponytail and the Underworld Star rocked a pair of big sunglasses.

And, it's a good thing she is a fitness fanatic because the star was lugging a huge black purse and a heavy Whole Foods tote that was filled to the brim.

The mother of one is frequently spotted leaving her workouts and posts her sweat sessions on social media.

She event spent her most recent birthday doing yoga with her daughter, Lily Mo Sheen, 19, and ex-beau Michael Sheen.

Her enviable figure is a product of working with trainer to the stars Gunnar Peterson.

Kate has been in the public eye since an early age. The daughter of two actors, Richard Beckinsale and Judy Loe, she was just five when Richard, famous for his roles in TV's Porridge and Rising Damp, died of a heart attack in 1979. Kate studied French and Russian literature at Oxford but started working regularly as an actress from the age of 18 and eventually gave up her studies as her

THAT'S ME TOLD: the message from Plastic Jesus

A funny thing happened this week. The notorious street artist known as Plastic Jesus was trying to tell me something when he anonymously sent Sean Borg Goes LA! a package to the British Weekly. In it was a T-shirt and a coffee mug...

Apparently Plastic Jesus has this "Stern" message targeting folk who work in the tabloid media, telling them ... "STOP MAKING STUPID PEOPLE FAMOUS."

I guess he means people like me? I shall wear it with pride....Happy Christmas to All!

career took off with a series of roles in British TV and film, including Cold Comfort Farm and Shooting Fish.

Kate got her big break in this country when she was cast opposite Ben Affleck and Josh Hartnett in Pearl Harbor, before making her name as an action star in the vampire franchise Underworld.

Kate went on to marry Underworld director Len Wiseman before they divorced in 2016 after 12 years of marriage.

She has previously been linked with American comedian and actor Matt Rife.

032 NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-18-835314-CL. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. If you have previously been discharged through bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this letter is intended to exercise the note holders right's against the real property only. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that IVANA MLADENOVIC be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act with limited authority. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 01/09/19 at 8:30AM in Dept. 29 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Case No. 18STPB11324

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of ADAM MACKENZIE RICHARDS aka ADAM M. RICHARDS

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Mark B. Richards in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Mark B. Richards be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on January 14, 2019 at 8:30AM in Dept. No. 9 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. MOURINHO: sacked by Manchester United on Tuesday

Mourinho: silent, not special

Jose Mourinho says he will not be talking about his departure from Manchester United out of the "deepest respect" for his former colleagues. The Portuguese was sacked on Tuesday after two and a half years in charge.

United are sixth in the Premier League, 19 points behind leaders Liverpool.

"I have been immensely proud to wear the badge of Manchester United since the first day I arrived, and I believe all United fans recognise this,"

Mourinho said in a statement.

"Each time a chapter is closed, I show my deepest respect by not making any comments about my former colleagues."

Former United striker Ole Gunnar Solskjaer was named the club's caretaker manager until the end of the season on Wednesday.

Mourinho has gone back to his home in London, and the former Chelsea and Real Madrid boss has also asked the media to respect his privacy before he returns to football.

Speaking to Sky Sports News earlier on Wednesday, he said: "I was always very critical of managers that leave clubs and then they come out and they speak about the details of what happened, who is to blame."

"I could speak about the not-so-good, but that's not me."

"Until I get back to football, I feel I have the right to live my normal life."

"Manchester United has a future without me and I have a future without Manchester United."

I have been immensely proud to wear the badge of Manchester United since the first day I arrived, and I believe all United supporters recognise this.

Just as was the case with my previous clubs, I have worked with some wonderful people and I believe that some will be my friends for life. I know that you are all aware of my professional principles. Each time a chapter is closed I show my deepest respect and I don't make any comments about my former colleagues. I hope the media will also respect my position and let me live my normal life until the moment I decide to return to football.

"Merry Christmas."

United midfielder Jesse Lingard was the first player to post a message to Mourinho on social media.

"Thank you for the memories and wisdom," he wrote on Twitter.

Centre-back Eric Bailly said: "Whatever they may say, I will always be thankful to the person who gave me the chance to make my debut at Old Trafford.

"Thank you for what you have taught me. Good luck, coach."

Hazard the difference as Blues edge past Cherries

Substitute Eden Hazard scored a late winner as Chelsea beat Bournemouth to reach the Carabao Cup semi-finals.

Wednesday's match was six minutes away from going to penalties when Pedro's back-heel gave Hazard a chance, with his shot deflecting off Charlie Daniels and past Artur Boruc.

Bournemouth, who were aiming to reach the semi-final of a major cup competition for the first time in their history, had chances but Callum Wilson shot just wide and Lys Mousset had an effort saved by Kepa Arrizabalaga.

The Cherries, with keeper Boruc joining the attack, had a chance from a free-kick in the 94th minute but shots from Ryan Fraser and Wilson were blocked as the hosts held on.

It means Chelsea boss Maurizio Sarri remains on course for a cup final in his first season in English football.

His side will play Tottenham, 2-0 winners over north London rivals Arsenal, in the semi-finals with the Blues away in the first leg in the week commencing 7 January, before the return at Stamford Bridge two weeks later.

Manchester City, 2018 winners, will face League

IMPACT SUB: Belgian star Hazard replaced Ross Barkley in the second half

One side Burton Albion in the other tie.

Chelsea, fourth in the Premier League and eight points behind leaders Liverpool, had the majority of the chances against Bournemouth but Boruc saved efforts from Ross Barkley, Olivier Giroud and Willian in the first half.

The impressive Ruben Loftus-Cheek hit the foot of the post with a fine strike from outside the penalty area before Hazard replaced Barkley in the 61st minute.

The Belgium international shot over the bar and had another attempt from 30 yards well saved by Boruc, before he linked up with Pedro for the game's only goal - his 10th for Chelsea in all competitions this season.

For Bournemouth, they have now lost seven of their past eight games in all competitions, failing to score in their last three matches.

arrests have been made.

"We have all been embarrassed by the individual who threw a bottle at Dele Alli," Arsenal added in a statement.

"Behaviour of this type has no place at Emirates Stadium and after analysing CCTV footage, which showed him leaving the stadium after throwing the bottle, we have identified an image of the suspect.

"We are liaising with the Metropolitan Police and investigations continue in order to apprehend the culprit."

The Football Association is aware of the incident and will support the police and clubs as they look into the matter.

Alli will face no action for responding with a 2-0 gesture to fans - referencing the scoreline.

Spurs manager Mauricio Pochettino praised Alli for the restraint he showed after being struck by the object thrown from the crowd.

"It was an amazing reaction," Pochettino said in his news conference to preview Sunday's match with Everton.

"In another country the player was going to be down on the pitch. Dele behaved really well. Arsenal should be grateful to him because the player could have gone down and created a massive problem.

"I think the behaviour was top from Dele. Sometimes he is criticised but he was very mature."

Arsenal's statement added: "We are not responsible for the actions of one individual, but send our apologies to Tottenham Hotspur for this incident.

"We do not tolerate any anti-social, discriminatory or violent behaviour at Arsenal Football Club."

Pochettino added that Arsenal should not be punished for the actions of one person, claiming: "One person cannot create a mess in a club like Arsenal.

"Arsenal is going to take a big decision, with responsibility to fix. People have to behave and celebrate and support your team but in the right way.

"It's such a dangerous thing, if the bottle hit him on his head or his eyes we're then talking about a very bad thing.

"There's no point when you go to enjoy a game and that happens."

Alli had earlier scored the second goal and Spurs went on to reach the semi-finals with a 2-0 victory.

Wednesday's incident follows a banana skin being thrown towards Arsenal striker Pierre-Emerick Aubameyang in the Premier League match between the sides at the same venue on 2 December.

The Spurs fan responsible was fined and banned from football for four years on Tuesday.

■ CARABAO CUP: England midfielder turns in dominant performance as on-song Spurs book semi final berth

DELE ALLI was the star Wednesday night, scoring a goal and providing the assist for the other as to give Tottenham victory over bitter rivals Arsenal, securing a two-legged Carabao Cup semi-final against Chelsea.

Heung Min Son pounced on Alli's smart ball over the top to put Spurs in front after just 20 minutes at the Emirates.

Alli then coolly chipped it over keeper Petr Cech with the outside of his boot in the second half to make it 2-0.

The England midfielder was then hit on the head by a plastic bottle thrown from the crowd shortly after that goal.

It was a heated atmosphere at what was the second north London derby in 18 days; victory ensured Spurs made the last four for the first time since 2014-15.

Back then, they went on to the final and were beaten by Chelsea - their semi-final opponents this time around.

Spurs will be at home in the first leg, scheduled for the week commencing 7 January, with the return at Stamford Bridge a fortnight later. Holders Manchester City will take on League One side Burton in the other semi-final.

Tottenham keeper Paulo Gazzaniga made two good saves in the first half of Wednesday's quarter-final - denying Henrikh Mkhitaryan from close range and later tipping Aaron Ramsey's volley on to the post.

In the second half, Alexandre Lacazette hit the post and Pierre-Emerick Aubameyang's cross curled onto the top of the crossbar before Christian Eriksen's fizzing shot was saved by Cech.

Arsenal had not lost back-to-back matches prior to this defeat since they were beaten by Manchester City and Chelsea in the Premier League back in August.

Mauricio Pochettino's decision to make four changes and leave Harry Kane out of the starting line-up paid off.

Son, Kane's replacement, caused problems in the first half and made his mark, scoring after just 20 minutes to make Tottenham's possession count.

The South Korean striker has now scored three goals in as many appearances in the League

Gunners nab bottler

Arsenal say they have identified an image of the person who threw a bottle at Tottenham's Dele Alli on Wednesday and are "embarrassed" by the incident.

England midfielder Alli, 22, was struck on the head by a plastic bottle during Spurs' 2-0 win in the Carabao Cup quarter-final at Emirates Stadium.

Police are investigating the incident. "Anyone identified will receive a lengthy club ban and their details will be passed to the police to commence legal proceedings," said the club.

Alli was hit by a bottle thrown from the crowd as Arsenal prepared to take a throw-in in the 73rd minute.

The Metropolitan Police says it is working with Arsenal to try to identify the person responsible, but no

Cup this season.

When Kane was eventually introduced after 57 minutes - for his first appearance in the competition since September 2015 - he made an instant impact, setting up Alli with a perfectly weighted ball over the top.

The ability to rest and rotate will aid Tottenham in a busy festive period, which will see them play four matches in 10 days.

Tottenham manager Mauricio Pochettino said: "It is a very difficult draw, another London derby [in the semi-finals against Chelsea]. We have already played Watford, West Ham and Arsenal.

"We shall see. Chelsea are a great team but we are excited. To be in the semi-final is fantastic for us.

"I am very pleased. The most important thing was to play well and win the game [against Arsenal]. We deserved it. We kept a clean sheet here after a very busy period."
