Three day plan to save Christmas!

■ PM's lockdown blueprint to cheer the nation

FAMILIES will be allowed to celebrate this Christmas together under plans to ease lockdown rules.

Boris Johnson wants a three-day 'window' for the festive season that will let members from a maximum of three separate households gather under the same roof.

To secure as normal a Christmas as possible, ministers are discussing an overall limit on numbers of people – likely to be around 10 – who can gather around the table for Christmas dinner.

The talks come as the Government is preparing a toughened three-tier regional regime of restrictions.

This will potentially include stricter rules than enforced before on alcohol sales and household mixing and could replace the current second lockdown across England from December 2.

The Prime Minister's spokesman said: "We are looking at ways to ensure that people can spend time with close family over Christmas at the end of what has been an incredibly difficult year."

Talks between Downing Street and the leaders of the devolved Governments in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland about imposing the same rules over the entire UK for a brief period are said to be making progress.

'separate rules'

A Downing Street spokesman said: "We are looking at ending national restrictions on December 2 and moving to a tier system.

"There will be separate rules for Christmas but no decision has been taken about those yet."

Debate about the limit on attendees at festive gatherings is continuing amid concerns about discriminating against families with large numbers of children.

Downing Street confirmed the PM intends to end the second lockdown in England on schedule next month, although work is still continuing on how the new regional system will function. Some sources claim an extra fourth tier of even stricter rules could be added for areas suffering the worst Covid outbreaks.

But Communities Secretary Robert Jenrick insisted the new regime would mark a "significant easing" of coronavirus measures.

He said: "The Prime Minister and the Government's hope and very firm expectation is that we will see a significant easing of measures as we move into December."

Mr Jenrick was asked if the Government might be forced to ban indoor meetings over Christmas if Covid-19 cases are still high.

HOW MANY IS TOO MANY? Debate about the limit on attendees at festive gatherings is continuing within the government

He said: "We don't know that yet. The hard yards that we've done in November were designed to enable most people in England to have a much more normal December so that we can go to the shops, we can use hospitality and, as far as possible, we can be together as families at Christmas.

"We can see from the data that the tiered approach in October and early November was having an impact, particularly in some parts of the country.

"It's too early to say the true impact of the new national measures because there's a lag time of two or three weeks, but hopefully by the end of November we'll be in a position to take that judgment."

Asked about the change in restrictions next month, the PM's spokesman said: "It's our intention to bring the tougher national measures to an end on December 2. That will happen in law and we will then move to a regionalised approach again. We will set that out to Parliament next week. In terms of the progress which is being made, obviously we will wait to see further data over the course of the next week or so."

The national R infection rate was falling, the spokesman added.

The UK daily death toll rose by 529 on Wednesday to a total of 53,274 since the pandemic began.

New 'mega-labs' will boost testing by 600,000 per day

■ Facilities will be "absolutely crucial" in helping us "return to normality", say UK health chiefs

BRITAIN will double its testing capacity by building two "mega-labs" early next year.

One will be in Leamington Spa, Warks, and another in Scotland – and will allow 600,000 more tests each day when fully up and running.

Health chiefs said they were "absolutely crucial" in helping us "return to normality".

According to official figures, current capacity is at an estimated 519,951 – with 379,955 tests actually processed.

Doing 300,000 more in each lab will mean faster turnaround times for results, according to health chiefs, while each facility will have a workforce of up to 2,000 people once fully staffed.

The announcement is recognition we lag behind in diagnostic testing, something Health Secretary Matt Hancock admitted at the start of the crisis.

The labs form part of the infrastructure for future epidemics. As well as processing Covid-19 tests, the facilities will be used to speed up the results of investigations into critical illnesses like cancer, cardiovascular and metabolic diseases.

They will employ British-made tech including automation, robotics and consumables, meaning more tests will be processed more quickly and at a lower cost.

Mr Hancock said: "We didn't go into this crisis with a significant diagnostics industry, but we have built one, and these two mega-labs are another step forward."

'hugely grateful'

"Transforming the UK's diagnostic facilities is not only essential to beating this virus, but it is necessary to build back better – so we are better prepared in future for testing on a massive scale."

He added: "The work going on in these labs is ultimately working to save lives and I am hugely grateful for everyone who has worked so hard to achieve this."

"Not only will that mean more tests, but it will also mean they can be processed more quickly, and the time it takes to receive results is reduced."

A recruitment drive has started for the Leamington Spa site and a campaign is due to start shortly in Scotland.

Baroness Dido Harding, interim executive chair of the National Institute for Health Protection, said: "We have already reached our goal of 500,000 testing capacity per day by the end of October, but we have not stopped."

"Our lab network includes the NHS, academia, the not-for-profit and the private sector and the addition of these new labs will mean another step up in our testing capacity next year."

Not only will that mean more tests, but it will also mean they can be processed more quickly, and the time it takes to receive results is reduced."

Health minister Lord Bethell added: "The labs are being set up by leaders of science with decades of experience."

He said that anyone who joins "will be offered the opportunity to learn new skills while

"Transforming the UK's diagnostic facilities is not only essential to beating this virus, but it is necessary to build back better..." - Health Secretary Matt Hancock receiving training in a lab environment".

He added: "This work is absolutely crucial to tackling Covid-19 and enabling the return of more normality to our lives."

And more than 40

specialist clinics will be set up in England amid concerns thousands are suffering long-term effects of coronavirus.

The £10million scheme for 43 centres will bring together doctors, nurses, therapists and other NHs staff.

Ten areas have been earmarked for the Midlands, seven in the North-east, six in the East, south-west and southeast regions, five in London and three in the North-west.

It's the Fairytale of New York....but not how we know it

BBC Radio 1 will not play the original version of Fairytale of New York by The Pogues and Kirsty MacColl this Christmas, because its audience may be offended by some of the lyrics.

The station said young listeners were particularly sensitive to derogatory terms for gender and sexuality.

It will instead play an edited version with different lyrics sung by MacColl.

But the 1987 original will still be played on Radio 2.

A BBC spokesman said: "We know the song is considered a Christmas classic and we will continue to play it this year, with our radio stations choosing the version of the song most relevant for their audience."

The duet is one of the most enduring Christmas pop songs, having returned to the UK top 20 every year since 2005. Along with a string of other festive favourites, it is now rising the chart again, at 59 in the current midweek chart.

But Radio 1 has decided younger listeners who are unfamiliar with the track would find some of the words stark and not in line with what they would expect to hear on air.

The new edited version changes two lines - one swapped for an alternative version in which MacColl sings "You're cheap and you're haggard" in place of a homophobic slur.

MacColl sang the newly-added line on Top of the Pops in 1992. She died in a boat accident in Mexico eight years later, at the age of 41.

The same wording was used by Ronan Keating and Moya Brennan in their 2000 cover version.

When Ed Sheeran and Anne-Marie performed the song in Radio 1's Live Lounge in 2017, she opted to call him a "cheap lousy blagger".

In Radio 1's newly-edited version, another line, sung by Shane MacGowan in the second verse, has a word removed entirely.

Radio 1 has played the song in its original form in recent years, but the insults contained in the lyrics, sung in the form of a blazing row between an alcoholic and a heroin addict, have long been criticised by some.

The track was censored by Radio 1 back in 2007, but that decision was swiftly reversed after an outcry by its fans.

Andy Parfitt, the station's controller at the time, explained the U-turn by saying its audiences were "smart enough to distinguish between maliciousness and creative freedom", and there was no "negative intent behind the use of the words".

Showbiz veteran Des O'Connor dead at 88

■ Entertainer was “well loved by absolutely everybody” and “loved life”.

Entertainer Des O'Connor has died at the age of 88, his agent has confirmed.

The comedian, singer and TV host died on Saturday following a fall at his home in Buckinghamshire just over a week ago.

He was known for hosting his own chat show, as well as Take Your Pick and Countdown - and for his friendship with Morecambe and Wise.

In a statement his agent said he was “well loved by absolutely everybody” and “loved life”.

His long-time agent and family friend Pat Lake-Smith described him as the “ultimate entertainer” and said he had been recovering from the fall before his condition had suddenly deteriorated.

She said: “He was a joy to work with - he was talented, fun, positive, enthusiastic, kind and a total professional. He loved life, and considered enthusiasm almost as important as oxygen.”

Farewell to ‘true legend’ Clemence

TRIBUTES have been paid to “true legend” Ray Clemence – the former England goalkeeper who has died following a 15-year battle with prostate cancer

The 72-year-old (above) won three European Cups and five First Division titles during a trophy-laden spell with Liverpool, before winning an FA Cup and Uefa Cup with Tottenham.

His family, who were with him as he passed away on Sunday, wrote: “After fighting so hard, for such a long time, he’s now at peace and in no more pain.”

Clemence, who played 61 times for his country, had been living with advanced prostate cancer since 2005.

In an interview in 2018 he said: “I just want to give a positive attitude to everybody who has a connection with prostate cancer, whether they’re helping to find cures or they’ve got it.

“There’s lots of talk about men like me only lasting five or six years with it. Well, I’m 13 years now and doing all the things that I want.”

Ian Rush, who played alongside Clemence in the Liverpool side which dominated English and European football in the late 1970s, called his friend a “true legend”.

North of the Border, Clemence is best remembered for Scotland’s second goal in their 2-1 victory at Hampden in 1976 when Liverpool team-mate Kenny Dalglish steered it between his legs.

“Gordon Banks is remembered for his save against Pele and I’m remembered for that,” he once said.

Dalglish tweeted: “Today we have lost a true legend. Clem was a fantastic teammate and great to be around. I will never forget how he helped me to settle in at Anfield.”

At Tottenham, which he joined in 1981 aged 32 for a fee of £300,000, he won more trophies and the enduring affection of fellow players.

Ossie Ardiles, who played with him at Spurs, said: “He was a great keeper, wonderful companion, friend.”

his own prime-time TV shows for more than 45 years but also had success as a singer.

His friendship with comedy duo Morecambe and Wise saw him mocked for his singing ability in sketches despite a successful career which included four Top 10 hits and more than 30 albums.

O'Connor appeared on stages around the world including hundreds of shows at the London Palladium.

His fame soared when he was hired to host The Des O'Connor Show, which ran on ITV from 1963 to 1971.

In 1977 he began hosting Des O'Connor Tonight, which started on BBC Two before moving to ITV, where it stayed until it ended in 2002.

He later hosted the Channel 4 quiz show Countdown alongside Carol Vorderman, with the pair bowing out together in 2008, and was made a CBE for his services to entertainment and broadcasting in that year’s birthday honours.

O'Connor was married four times, and has described the end of his first three relationships as casualties of his obsession with work.

‘great entertainer’

In 2007, he married long-term girlfriend Jodie Brooke Wilson, who was 37 years his junior and gave birth to their son Adam when O'Connor was 72.

O'Connor also had four daughters, Karin, TJ, Samantha and Kristina from his previous marriages.

Broadcaster Tony Blackburn said “he was a great entertainer and more importantly a very nice person”, and TV presenter Gyles Brandreth described him as “the ultimate professional”.

‘brilliant’

Speaking about his sketches with Morecambe and Wise, comedian David Baddiel said: “RIP Des O'Connor. It’s worth remembering how brilliant he is at his own expense in these sketches.”

Northampton Town Football Club also joined the tributes to their former reserve player.

The club said: “We are very sorry to learn of the passing of Des O'Connor. Des famously played for our reserve team on a few occasions just after World War Two. Our thoughts are with all who knew Des.”

Woke folk call them 'fisherpeople'

RADIO 4 listeners were left coughing up their cornflakes after the BBC's Europe Editor referred to "fisherpeople" this week.

Katya Adler coined the woke term in a report on Brexit trade talks on the Today programme.

Ashley Mullenger, who calls herself a "female fisherman", said she only knows of six women doing her job.

Ashley, from Wells-next-thesea, Norfolk, said: "I don't see the issue with being called a fisherman even if you're a female."

TV host Piers Morgan stormed that being "rough and tough in the North Sea" in January is "not up there on the to-do list of the equality brigade".

Men account for 97.3 per cent of people working on trawlers.

Taskforce of Tory MPs in fight to keep Scots in UK

BORIS Johnson aims to fight Scottish independence with a Union taskforce of Tory MPs to help him tug at heartstrings.

The Prime Minister is about to launch the group and ask it to dream up policies to keep Scotland sweet.

Previously the pro-Union arguments focused on money or Project Fear.

But the PM wants to make an emotional case too.

England and Wales will also be wooed with the approach, while new press secretary Allegra Stratton's televised addresses will go on the road from the devolved nations.

Mr Johnson's plans come after the exit of aide Dominic Cummings, who was said to have no interest in the Union.

Scotland First Minister Nicola Sturgeon wants another independence referendum in 2021. The 2014 result saw 55 per cent vote no to breaking away.

Gillian Anderson's praise for Thatcher's 'extraordinary mind'

GILLIAN Anderson has praised Margaret Thatcher's "extraordinary mind" as she talked about playing the politician in The Crown.

The actress, 52, portrays the former Prime Minister in season four of Netflix's royal drama, which launched on Sunday.

Talking to Harper's Bazaar, Gillian said: "I wouldn't necessarily agree with her leadership style. By the end, I think she became quite dictatorial. She was in power for 11 years, and they say that leaders should never go beyond seven years or they start to go mad. But she had the most extraordinary mind."

Before taking on the role of the Iron Lady, Gillian learned about Mrs Thatcher's childhood.

She said: "Childhood is always a very helpful and informative place to start.

Margaret Thatcher grew up as a grocer's daughter and as an alderman's daughter - a Methodist - so all of those aspects defined who she was as Prime Minister, her policies and how she budgeted for the country.

"She built her world. She really worked hard to get to where she was. Whether you are a supporter of hers or not, or like her or don't like her, you can't let go of the fact that she really made herself."

But the series also drew fire from critics who faulted liberties taken with the facts.

Sir Bernard Ingham, former press secretary Lady Thatcher, savaged the fourth season for suggesting the former premier had a "strained" relationship with the Queen.

He said: "Margaret Thatcher revered the constitution and the Crown, and the very idea she had a scratchy relationship with the Queen is, to me, more for publicity of the film than accuracy."

Accuracy

"Why do people think that these filmmakers and producers and what-not produce the truth?"

"They're concerned about bums on seats.

ANDERSON ON THATCHER: "I wouldn't necessarily agree with her leadership style."

They're not concerned about accuracy."

Sir Bernard's blistering attack on Times Radio came hot on the heels of a similar tirade by friends of Prince Charles who accused producers of "trolling on a Hollywood budget".

Over the weekend Palace insiders accused Netflix of exploiting the Royal Family's troubles for financial gain, adding that "fiction is presented as fact".

The latest season focuses on Prince Charles, and Princess Diana's love story, and the breakdown of their marriage.

In one scene it shows Emma Corrin, who plays Diana, and Josh, 30, putting on a united front while dancing in the middle of a ball while in Australia.

Thousands of viewers took to social media to share their reviews on Olivia Colman's final outing as the Queen. But not all viewers were convinced by the historical drama, calling it "a spoof without the humour".

Music and film fan Jon Wallis said: "I tried to watch The Crown. Aside from the budget and visuals, I couldn't get over how silly it was.

"Lots of ridiculous scenes and conversations that probably never took place in reality.

It's like a spoof without the humour. And the ham acting and accents!

Is that the appeal? "I'm shocked to see five-star reviews from serious critics. It's dire. I'm not being snobby either.

"I love a bit of trash telly, but this one seems to be neither out-and-out trash nor serious drama."

Insta success for 'Potter' actor Grint

Rupert Grint has beaten the record for the fastest time to reach one million followers on Instagram.

Guinness World Records says the Harry Potter actor managed the achievement in just four hours and one minute - after joining the site earlier this month.

The previous title holder - Sir David Attenborough - achieved the same number in four hours and 44 minutes, beating Jennifer Aniston who held the title previously at five hours and sixteen minutes.

Grint used his first post to introduce his baby girl Wednesday to the world with a selfie.

He wrote: "Hey Instagram....only 10

Rupert Grint with daughter Wednesday years late, but here I am. Grint on the Gram! Here to introduce you all to Wednesday G. Grint. Stay safe, Rupert."

His Harry Potter co-star Tom Felton, who plays Draco Malfoy in the franchise, was among the first to reply writing: "Welcome Weasley, it's about time. Love to Wednesday xx."

After less than 24 hours on the social networking site Grint had more than two million followers, including singer Ariana Grande and TV presenter Sir David Attenborough.

He now has more than 3.4 million followers and follows a mixture of accounts - ranging from Greta Thunberg to Lewis Hamilton.

Grint and his partner Georgia Groome - a fellow actor - announced the birth of their first child in May.

ARIES: This coming week or so is filled with new challenges. You of course are up to it if you put your mind and energy to it. Do not think that because it's been quiet for a while past that you cannot start moving forward soon.

TAURUS: You could be feeling overwhelmed by all the setbacks in your path recently. This is not a time to give in but to take care of you for a change. The coming holiday season will lighten up your life in more than one way.

GEMINI: Your boss planet Mercury is moving fast forward now. This has been a time to pull your bootstraps up and get some energy flowing. As always you underestimate your strength of character, it will get you where you want to be in the end.

CANCER: You will have a much more positive start to your week ahead than for some time. Do not give in to any negative thoughts or feelings now. Get down to basics and prepare your ground for planting new positive ideas going forward.

LEO: You should listen to anyone who tells you to hold back currently. It's time to take a positive attitude to everything regardless of how it may appear. You are likely feeling pressure and possibly feeling indecisive. It's best to just go with the flow.

VIRGO: Your boss Mercury moving faster now will lift your spirits. So do not hold back from setting your plans up for the next week or so. You should be cautious but not stagnant. It's just a matter of time in the end.

LIBRA: You can still make plans, just do not act on them yet. If you are cautious for another week or so it will be worth the wait. Your boss Venus in your financial area now will guarantee a good outcome in the end.

SCORPIO: Life has its ups and downs and has not been at all easy for several weeks now. Especially in family areas this is a time to plant only positive seeds you want to grow into fruitful outcomes. Financially it is a positive time. Happy Birthday.

SAGITTARIUS: Your health either (mental or physical) has been dragging you down somewhat of late. Take a chance on being open and just stopping all the mind chatter and let life take you along for the ride. Better things will come to you as a result. Happy Birthday.

CAPRICORN: For some of you regardless of your situation in life it's time to take time out. Stress is not uncommon for your life current life situations. So for all of you good souls just break away from routine and do not be afraid to be alone and you will feel stronger.

AQUARIUS: This will be a time going forward for a couple of weeks to take stock of your finances and think about how you can give them a boost. It is totally possible for you to take a leap of faith and go with your gut to improve this.

PISCES: Life can be a little emotional currently and you should not try to do too much other than just move through it. This too shall pass and all will be more peaceful sooner than you think, so be sure you take time to be alone sometimes.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: SANDRA R. CANALIS CASE NO. 20STPB08933

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of SANDRA R. CANALIS.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by KIMBERLY MCLAURY in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that KIMBERLY MCLAURY be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 12/01/20 at 8:30AM in Dept. 79 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (844)477-7869 or visit this Internet Web site www.stoxposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case 2020-00112. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Brits in LA

Open Enrollment: what you need to know

Health insurance is one of the most complicated things to deal with at the best of times.

It is even more confusing for Brits who have been lucky enough to grow up with the NHS. We are currently in open enrollment season, which is our brief window to sign up or change our health insurance policies. With the current pandemic looming over all of us, it is now even more important than ever to have decent coverage.

We contacted our friend and fellow Brit, Adam Beach and asked him and his team to put together a comprehensive guide explaining how it all works. Beach Financial Group are insurance brokers and it doesn't cost you a penny if you decide to use them to help you pick a plan. But it certainly saves you a massive headache!

They can also help to see if you qualify for Covered California. Covered California is a platform that assists Californians and connects them with health insurance carriers. Depending on your income, zip code, and household size, you are able to verify if you qualify for subsidies (financial assistance for your health insurance monthly payment.) this can result in big savings if you are on a low income.

Another thing to keep in mind when choosing your insurance policy is to ask if it covers you outside of California. Most insurance carriers will cover ER and Urgent care out of state. If you are traveling outside of the country some will even assist with the cost of any emergency medical bills when you file a claim and submit the invoices. But not all, so if this is important to you make sure to ask before you sign on the dotted line.

Last, but not least if you have a favourite doctor you should find out beforehand if they accept your insurance. My GP is actually not covered but my current plan, but I like and trust him so much that I chose to stick with him and pay out of pocket. However, if he runs any lab tests they do go through my insurance. If it hadn't been for Adam and his team explaining this scenario was possible I might have stopped visiting my preferred doctor. I honestly can't recommend them enough!

If you have questions about this or any other subject feel free to drop me a line at eileen@britsin.la

Now over to BFG who are going to try and help you understand a little bit more about how to navigate the health insurance market during open enrollment:

What is open enrollment?

Open enrollment is a period during the year where you are able to purchase health insurance or make health insurance plan changes. In the state of California, open enrollment begins on November 1st and ends on January 31st. For a January 1st, 2021 effective date, changes or enrollments need to be made by December

THEY GOT YOU COVERED: Some of the team at Beach Financial Group

15th. Any changes after December 15th will become effective on February 1st. Changes made between December 16th – January 15th will give you a February 1st effective date.

What changes to expect from open enrollment?

During open enrollment you can expect a slight premium increase and potential benefit changes. Health insurance premiums in the State of California are based on age and zip code. As we age, our health insurance premiums will increase.

What is HMO, PPO, and EPO?

Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) – Plans that tend to be more affordable but have smaller networks. You also need to request referral from your primary doctor to see any specialist.

Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) – Generally more expensive as it provides access to a larger network. You are also able to visit a specialist without a referral. This type of plan also covers out of network provider/facility costs.

Exclusive Provider Organization (EPO) – This is the hybrid of the HMO and PPO. This type of plan is more affordable than a PPO, similar network to an HMO, but just like the PPO, you can make your own appointments to visit a specialist without a

Insurance Carriers to consider in the State of California:

Blue Shield of California
OSCAR Health
Kaiser
Health Net
Anthem Blue Cross

Benefits of working with Beach Financial Group:

We will listen to your needs, provide plan options that will benefit you, save you money and time. At Beach Financial Group we are contracted with all health insurance carriers and we will create a proposal that will demonstrate all your options. Once we figure out which health insurance plan will be the right one for you and your needs, we will assist with processing the application and payment, making the enrollment process smooth and simple. Whether you go through our agency or directly with the insurance carrier the cost of premium will be entirely the same. Once your health insurance is up and rolling we will always be available to you should you ever have any questions regarding visiting facilities, providers, benefits, prescriptions costs, and any other questions that come a long throughout the year.

Allow us to manage your insurance at no additional cost. You will have a local contact available to assist you day to day, answer any questions, and guide you forward.

Should you have any questions or are interested in a health insurance proposal, please email christine@beachfinancialgroup.com

Meet a Member: Dayna McKiernan

Meet Dayna McKiernan from Dublin, who moved to LA 6 years ago on a one year visa to experience LA life.

Was there a particular reason you chose LA?

I was always interested in theatre and film so that was definitely a large factor. But the deciding factor came after I did a study abroad in Santa Cruz and I had two mates from there move to LA so I thought that was a good enough reason to move!

What do you miss most from home?

Pints! No, I deeply miss Irish culture. LA has its own magic and I've loved living here so far but it's hard not to crave home. There's no comparison to the overall culture difference. The banter, pubs, and decent people that come with it. And pints.

What was your first impression of LA and has it changed since?

I was completely star struck when I first moved here. I remember going to the Chinese Theater and thinking "These are Meryl Streep's actual handprints. I'm practically shaking her hand." Growing up in Dublin you felt so far removed from the glamour of Hollywood and you idolized celebrities. Now, they could be sitting near you at dinner and you just leave them in peace!

What do you find the biggest difference is living here versus Dublin?

I mean, I'd be remiss not to mention weather. The outdoor lifestyle here never gets old for me. I'm always having coffee on a patio or catching the sunset with a glass of wine on the balcony, because here you can! And it's heaven to me. Another aspect of LA life that took me a minute to get used to was how no-one sticks to plans? When I first moved here, the amount of times I'd plan in advance to meet someone for dinner on, say, a Friday at 8pm and I'd get cancelled on at 7:45pm was insane! Now I'm used to people saying "That should work, but let me get back to you" and never really having confirmed plans. Or is that just me? Do I need new friends?

Do you have a hidden gem in LA that you want to share with us?

Yes. I am more than delighted to share this little gem because they could really use the business. Crown of India on Santa Monica and Highland is THE best Indian food I've had here and it's so affordable AND it's BYOB (whenever dining indoors can happen again.) It's a total hole in the wall but the food is unparalleled.

What would you suggest to others who are thinking about making the move here?

I did it with two suitcases and literally no plan so I probably wouldn't recommend that. I think cost of living is a significant factor to consider here. And of course the seemingly never-ending battle for visas and green cards takes a toll, so definitely do your research. I had an incredible lawyer if anyone needs a recommendation.

Lots of our members join our group Brits in LA seeking out words of wisdom - what is the best piece of advice you've been given?

That living abroad can be so tough, especially during a year like this where you feel so disconnected and far away from home but you really can rely on the BiLA community. I've seen some pretty amazing things happen in this group and know I always have a community here, which truly is so lovely. Also, IKEA has pick'n' mix!

Lastly, how can we find out more about you? Are you working on anything at the moment?

Yeah, definitely please feel free to reach out! I love connecting with expats here and saying bin instead of trash with ease. I am a realtor and the market is crazy busy at the moment despite the, well, you know, so feel free to reach out to me with any questions regarding real estate, regardless of whether you're actively buying or selling, I'd love to be your resource! Find me at theagencyre.com or drop me an email: dayna.mckiernan@theagencyre.com.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: WAYNE R. HANDLEY JR. CASE NO. 20STPB06350

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of WAYNE R. HANDLEY JR. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by KATE HANDLEY in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that KATE HANDLEY be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 12/24/20 at 8:30AM in Dept. 79 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012 IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

LEGAL NOTICES

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF ALLEN GRAYCEK

Case No. 20STPB09375

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of ALLEN GRAYCEK

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Susan D. Brouillette in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Susan D. Brouillette be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Dec. 14, 2020 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 2D located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 12/09/20 at 8:30AM in Dept. 2D located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE FOR CHANGE OF NAME

Superior Court of California
County of Los Angeles
275 Magnolia Ave
Long Beach CA 90802

In the Matter of the Petition of Nicholas Scott McGee, an adult over the age of 18 years.

Date: 12/30/20. Time: 8.30am, in Dept. 26

It appearing that the following person whose name is to be changed is over 18 years of age:

Nicholas Scott McGee. And a petition for change of names having been duly filed with the clerk of this Court, and it appearing from said petition that said petitioner(s) desire to have their name changed from Nicholas Scott McGee to Nicholas Scott Conner.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that all persons interested in the above entitled matter of change of names appear before the above entitled court to show cause why the petition for change of name(s) should not be granted.

Any person objecting to the name changes described must file a written petition that includes the reasons for the objection at least two court days before the matter is scheduled to be heard and must appear at the hearing to show cause why the petition should not be granted. If no written objection is timely filed, the court may grant the petition without a hearing.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this order be published in the British Weekly, a newspaper of general circulation for the County of Los Angeles, for four successive weeks prior to the date set for hearing of said petition.

Dated: November 18, 2020.

Relegation play-off: Cyprus (C1), Estonia (C2), Moldova (C3), Kazakhstan (C4)

England finished third, meaning they will stay in the top division next season, but not go to the finals as they did last time.

Their 4-0 win over relegated Iceland was a dead rubber.

Belgium booked their place in the finals with a 4-2 win over Denmark.

Northern Ireland have been relegated to the third tier after only picking up two points from six games.

Their hopes of survival were ended hours before their final game against Romania.

Uefa's decision to hand Romania three points after Norway were unable to play on Sunday because of Covid restrictions sealed their fate.

Northern Ireland's 1-1 draw with Romania means even a successful Norway appeal would not save Northern Ireland now.

Scotland missed out on promotion after losing their last two games when two points would

Toon to sue Premier League over failed takeover

Newcastle United have confirmed they have launched legal proceedings against the Premier League following a failed takeover bid in the summer.

The club claim the Premier League broke a confidentiality clause when it "leaked the contents" of a letter about the proceedings to a supporter group.

A Saudi Arabian-backed consortium pulled out of a £300m deal in June.

They rejected the offer from the Premier League (EPL) of arbitration to determine who would own the club.

have been enough.

They lost 1-0 to Israel to cost them the chance to go up and a possible World Cup play-off. The Czech Republic were promoted instead with a 2-0 win over neighbouring Slovakia.

Wales sealed promotion to join England in the top flight thanks to five wins and one draw from six games. A 3-1 win over Finland in the final game secured their promotion.

They will be in the 2022 World Cup play-offs unless two or more of Italy, Belgium, France and Spain fail to qualify for the tournament or play-offs next year.

The Republic of Ireland stayed up despite only scoring one goal in the tournament. A 0-0 draw with Bulgaria was enough to keep them up.

Newcastle say they have not previously commented on the proceedings "with respect to its conduct relating to the proposed takeover because of the confidentiality clause in the EPL's rules".

It relates to Newcastle Consortium Supporters Ltd (NCSL) delivering a letter to the Premier League, "questioning the body's conduct in the owners' and directors' test".

The supporters' club says it then received a response from the Premier League's lawyers, Bird and Bird, confirming there was already a legal dispute from the club.

TEARS OF A CROWN! Emotional champion Lewis in seventh heaven

LEWIS HAMILTON could not hold back the tears as he celebrated a record-equalling seventh world title in devastating fashion on Sunday.

While his rivals struggled in wet and slippery conditions at the Turkish Grand Prix, the Mercedes star kept his cool to clinch the crown with three races to spare as he drove to victory in Istanbul.

The 35-year-old matched Ferrari great Michael Schumacher's seven titles in style too, lapping his only title rival and team-mate Valtteri Bottas.

Hamilton said: "Very rarely do I lose control of my emotions but I remember those last few laps and I was just telling myself to keep it together "I was thinking about my whole career, when I was five and I drove my first kart to winning my first British championship, and driving home singing 'We are the Champions', and then dreaming of being here, and there it is, right there, just minutes away, and that was a lot to take in.

"When I came across the line it really hit me and I just burst into tears. I couldn't get out of the car because I couldn't believe what had happened. I didn't want the visor to come up and people to see the tears because I always would say you will never see me cry. I have seen other drivers cry in the past and I was like, I am never going to do that - but it was too much."

Hamilton paid tribute to his father, Anthony, who worked multiple jobs to fund his son's path to stardom. He said: "I couldn't have done it without the great man behind me, my dad.

"On the days I didn't think I was good enough, or wasn't going to do well enough, he stood me up and kept me going. I was thinking of him, my mum, my step-mum Linda, my brother. They have all stood by me through thick and thin."

Hamilton is now the most decorated driver the sport has ever seen, with the Briton also boasting more race wins, pole positions and podium finishes than any other driver.

Foden proves the ice man!

■ Nations League: England stroll to victory in dead rubber win over Iceland

Phil Foden led England's young brigade in style as they concluded their Nations League campaign with a comfortable 4-0 win against Iceland in a dead rubber at Wembley on Wednesday.

This final game of the qualifying campaign had nothing riding on it with England's hopes of reaching the finals ended by defeat in Belgium, and Iceland without a point in Group A2, but it was a game where Gareth Southgate's emerging youngsters staked their claims.

Declan Rice headed England in front with his first international goal after 20 minutes before Mason Mount added a second from close range four minutes later.

Manchester City's Foden, still only 20 and back in the fold after being dropped for breaking Covid-19 protocols in September, also demonstrated his huge potential and growing maturity on the international stage with a fine performance and late strikes as he swept in Jadon Sancho's pass for his first England goal with 10 minutes left before quickly adding a second with a low shot.

England's players are still fighting for places in next summer's European Championship and the likes of Foden, Aston Villa's Jack Grealish and Arsenal's teenage defender Bukayo Saka took the chance to impress manager Southgate.

Iceland were reduced to 10 men in the second half when Birgir Saevarsson was shown a second yellow card for dragging back Saka as England dominated.

Foden is a bundle of talent and confidence and it was his delivery that offered the invitation for Rice to score the opener, then got the goals his performance deserved late on to push himself right to the forefront of Southgate's thoughts.

It was summed up in the closing seconds when he showed remarkable skill to pull down a misplaced, skied, clearance from Harry Maguire, controlling and flicking it behind a bemused Icelandic defender.

Southgate defended his side's approach in the wake of the defeat against Belgium, amid suggestions his ploy of using a 3-4-3 formation with two holding midfield players was too conservative.

Here, with Liverpool captain Jordan Henderson unavailable because of injury, Southgate continued with Rice and Mount but also used both Grealish and Foden to add creativity.

And, in their different ways, all four made a big impact as England won a game that often had the intensity of a training work-out.

Grealish carried on where he left off in Leuven, carrying the ball into dangerous areas, wandering into space and continuing to draw fouls in threatening positions, while Foden was the star of the show.

Saka was another stand-out performer, solid in defence and dangerous in attack. He could have had goals himself but did enough to suggest he will be a serious contender for starting place in future. Southgate now has until March to weigh up his plans as the Euros come closer and that young brigade will be at the forefront of his mind.

Wales earn promotion

Wales were promoted to the Nations League top flight, but Scotland failed to join them - and Northern Ireland have been relegated.

Italy, Belgium, France and Spain are in next year's finals - but England, who finished third in their group, are not.

The two highest-ranking group winners not to secure a spot for the World Cup or play-offs through regular qualifying will earn a play-off place.

Wales earned more points than anybody else in League B, so with all the League A group winners likely to qualify on their own merits next year, Ryan Giggs' side will probably be in the World Cup play-offs.

Winning a group means promotion and finishing bottom of a group in the top two leagues means relegation (League C has relegation play-offs).

The finals will take place in October 2021, with Italy expected to host.

The only thing yet to be decided is relegation from Group A4. Ukraine were unable to play their match against Switzerland because they had several positive Covid tests, with Uefa to decide what the result will be.

Qualified for next year's finals: Italy (A1), Belgium (A2), France (A3), Spain (A4)

Promoted: Austria (B1), Czech Republic (B2), Hungary (B3), Wales (B4), Montenegro (C1), Armenia (C2), Slovenia (C3), Albania (C4), Faroe Islands (D1), Gibraltar (D2)

Relegated: Bosnia-Herzegovina (A1), Iceland (A2), Sweden (A3), Switzerland/Ukraine (A4),* Northern Ireland (B1), Slovakia
