

New royal feud erupts

■ William digs in his heels as Andrew claims return to royal duties is his 'birthright'

PRINCE Andrew believes senior royals are denying him his birthright by opposing a return to duties.

The issue exploded as he was barred from the Order of the Garter public ceremony at Windsor on Sunday.

Reports suggested Prince William may have given an ultimatum of "him or me" ahead of the service at St George's Chapel.

The late decision was a fresh blow to Andrew.

He is determined to assert what he sees as his hereditary rights to return to working royal life as soon as possible.

The prince considers that he has spent enough time away from the public spotlight following the furore around his friendship with the late billionaire paedophile Jeffrey Epstein and Andrew's huge payout to Virginia Guiffre ahead of her civil court case in the US.

But despite support in his ambitions from his mother the Queen, the Duke of York had to take a back seat away from the public gaze at the events - having originally been due to appear.

After discussions between senior family members it was decided it would be best to restrict his attendance to the event's private lunch and ceremony inside the castle.

A "family decision" was taken to shield the Duke from view.

A Royal source said: "William hasn't worked out that with hereditary monarchy you either stand together or hang separately."

They said the Queen and the Archbishop of Canterbury are aware of the need to keep Andrew involved as a working family member but senior royals do not agree.

major headache

The Duke is thought to have challenged the ceremony ban but to no avail. A source close to him insisted it was his "personal decision" not to appear in public but Buckingham Palace rejected that, calling the move a "family decision".

The issue is causing a major headache for Royal officials, since the Queen is determined to support her middle son.

Andrew, 62, has pushed for a return to royal duties and wants the colonelcy of the Grenadier Guards given back to him.

The monarch signalled her backing by arriving with him at March's memorial service for the Duke of Edinburgh, the father of two providing a steady arm as she walked into Westminster Abbey.

Having been forced to pull out of the service of thanksgiving at St Paul's at this month's Platinum Jubilee celebrations after testing positive for Covid, the Duke was looking forward to Sunday's public appearance as a small step on his way back to royal life.

He did join the Queen and family for the investiture in the castle's Garter throne room and lunch in the Waterloo Chamber. But neither he nor the 96-year-old monarch joined the public procession and church service featuring the Prince of Wales and Prince William.

Andrew was spotted driving into the castle at around midday but Charles and his elder son are said to have feared a "backlash" if he appeared in public.

A senior source said: "The Duke of Cambridge was adamant. If [the Duke of] York insisted on taking part publicly, he would withdraw."

One version of the Order of Service named Andrew among the Garter Knights, but he was omitted from one distributed to the public.

Joe Little, managing

A HOUSE DIVIDED: reports claimed Prince William threatened to quit Sunday's Garter ceremony if Andrew were included editor of Majesty Magazine, said: "Clearly it was the intention he would be there. Interesting that the family should need to intervene on something like this. This is very much a damage limitation exercise."

Mr Little speculated the events may cause Andrew to reassess his future, and how "impossible" it is for him to return to royal duties.

The Duke reportedly also hoped to attend Royal Ascot this week. A source said: "He was confident and bullish he can make a comeback."

He paid a reported £12million to settle with Ms Guiffre, who accused him of sexual assault when she was 17. He denied all the claims.

Former PM Sir Tony

Blair, the Duchess of Cornwall and Baroness Amos were installed as members of the most prestigious royal order of chivalry at the event.

Around 4,500 spectators within the castle walls watched the procession of Garter Knight and Ladies dressed in velvet blue mantles and black hats topped off with white ostrich plumes.

Her Majesty passes another milestone

THE Queen has hit another milestone by becoming the world's second longest reigning monarch.

Her Majesty, 96, has overtaken King Bhumibol Adulyadej of Thailand who was on the throne for 70 years and 126 days between 1946 and 2016.

Last month, the Queen surpassed Johann II, Prince of Liechtenstein, who reigned for 70 years and 91 days, until his death in February 1929.

Louis XIV of France remains the longest-reigning monarch, lasting for 72 years and 110 days from 1643 until 1715.

The landmark comes after Her Majesty celebrated her Platinum Jubilee. She said she had been "humbled and deeply touched" by four days of events across the nation.

Sturgeon launches fresh bid for new independence vote

■ First Minister faces uphill battle as Johnson dismisses plan

The Scottish First Minister kicked off a new campaign for Scottish independence this week by making clear she was re-elected last May on a “clear commitment to give the people of Scotland the choice of becoming an independent country”.

She released a series of supportive documents for the split which, she said, would help to put together a “full, frank and constructive” debate on a second vote for separation over the coming months.

Ms Sturgeon said that not being independent in recent years has been to Scotland’s “great cost”.

She said: “The very fact of just being independent, for any country in the world, doesn’t magically guarantee success. What it does do is put the levers that determine success into your own hands.”

Ms Sturgeon referred to economic and social differences between Scotland and other small countries, attributing the deficit to not having the full powers of an independent country. She added: “Any country will face challenges and setbacks. The question is: what is the best system of governance to equip you to deal with those?”

But at a press conference in Edinburgh yesterday, she failed to outline how a referendum would take place and indicated an update would be put before the Scottish Parliament before summer recess next month.

‘wrong priority’

And during grilling from journalists, the First Minister also accepted an independent Scotland would have a hard trade border with England under her “Scexit” plans. Ms Sturgeon has pledged to hold a referendum in 2023 but the UK Government has refused to co-operate. The SNP wants Boris Johnson to grant a section 30 order, allowing a legally binding referendum to be held, as happened in 2014.

But Mr Johnson, speaking during a visit to Staffordshire, said: “The decision was taken by the Scottish people only a few years ago, in recent memory. I think we should respect that.”

Legal advice released last week contained no reference as to whether Holyrood would have the power to legislate for Indyref2 without the UK Government’s backing. However, the First Minister insisted:

“We must forge a way forward – if necessary without a section 30 order.”

In 2014, the vote went 55-45 per cent to remain in the union.

Douglas Ross, Scottish Tory leader, added: “Pushing for another divisive referendum – possibly even an illegal wildcat referendum – is the wrong priority, at the worst possible time.

“Nicola Sturgeon should give it a rest and focus on the people of Scotland’s priorities.”

And Struan Stevenson, of Scottish Business UK, said businesses would “ignore her calls” for a second vote. He said business didn’t want a repeat of the debate “soundly lost by the SNP in 2014...especially in the teeth of a bumpy pandemic recovery”.

British soldier shot dead in Ukraine

A YOUNG soldier who recently left the British Army has been shot dead fighting Putin’s forces.

Jordan Gatley (pictured, above) was hailed as a hero by dad Dean, who heard on Friday his son had been killed.

Dean said Jordan joined the fight against Russia’s invasion only “after careful consideration”.

In a Facebook post, Dean said: “We received the devastating news our son, Jordan, has been shot and killed in Severodonetsk.

“He loved his job and we are so proud of him. He truly was a hero and will forever be in our hearts.”

Dean said that the family, from Cheshire, had been contacted by members of Jordan’s squad.

He added: “They all loved him, as did we, and he made a massive difference to many people’s lives, not only soldiering, but also by training. Jordan often told me his missions were dangerous, but necessary.”

Severodonetsk has seen some of the war’s fiercest fighting in recent weeks. Jordan is the second British fighter known to have been killed in Ukraine.

The Foreign Office said it was “supporting the family of a British man who died in Ukraine”.

Jordan, whose age has not been disclosed, served in the British Army with Edinburgh’s third battalion of The Rifles and was discharged in March before travelling to Ukraine. Will Murray, who served with him, said: “Jordan was a really good lad. He took his job very seriously and was very

40 years on, Falklands heroes are honored

Falklands veterans this week honoured the fallen at a remembrance service, 40 years on from the historic conflict.

The Tumbledown Veterans & Families Association, many of whom served in the 2nd Battalion Scots Guards, marched to the cenotaph in Blackpool.

Nine soldiers were killed during the battle for Mount Tumbledown on June 13 and 14 1982.

The victory on the heights overlooking the capital, Port Stanley, ultimately led to the Argentine surrender.

Crosses with pictures of the nine Tumbledown troops were placed at a memorial near the Cenotaph.

Association president Robert Lawrence, who was paralyzed down one side after being shot in the head during the battle, was among those who laid wreaths.

He said: "I believe very strongly in seeing the boys get together."

His story featured in BBC film Tumbledown, starring Colin Firth.

The Government had warned British soldiers and ex-soldiers not to travel to Ukraine.

The first former British soldier killed was Royal Logistics Corps veteran Scott Sibley, a 36-year-old father from Lincolnshire.

Last week Britons Aiden Aslin, 28, and Shaun Pinner, 48, were given the death sentence at a sham trial in Russian-controlled Donetsk for being mercenaries. Their families say they were legitimate Ukrainian army members.

Former Old Vic director Spacey 'strenuously denies' sex charges

■ Double Oscar winner appears in court at Westminster Magistrates Court

HOLLYWOOD actor Kevin Spacey smiled as he battled his way into a British court this week to fight sex attack charges.

The double Oscar winner, 62, "strenuously denied" five offences at Westminster Magistrates Court.

His dramatic entrance came after the US actor jetted into the UK pledging to clear his name.

The American Beauty and Usual Suspects star is accused of four counts of sexual assault and one of causing a person to engage in a sex act without consent.

The charges relate to three men, now in their 30s and 40s, in London and Gloucestershire from 2005 to 2013. At the time, Spacey was artistic director of London's Old Vic theatre.

He was not asked to enter pleas during the preliminary hearing.

But his barrister Patrick Gibbs QC told the court: "Mr Spacey strenuously denies any and all criminality in this case.

formally charged

"He has returned to the UK in order to establish his innocence.

"He needs to answer these charges if he is to proceed with his life."

The actor appeared under his full name Kevin Spacey Fowler during yesterday's 28-minute hearing.

Asked by District Judge Tan Ikram if he preferred to be called Spacey or Fowler, the star shrugged, smiled and said either was fine.

He had earlier stood in the dock to confirm his full name, the address of his London flat and his date of birth.

Spacey was artistic director of London's Old Vic theatre from 2005 to 2013

The court heard Spacey has fully cooperated with police and agreed to be interviewed by Scotland Yard detectives in New York. He voluntarily returned to Britain and face the charges against him.

The Crown Prosecution Service authorized charges against Spacey last month but he could only be formally charged once he arrived here earlier this week. An arrest warrant Judge Ikram issued after the CPS decision to charge was withdrawn.

'disappointed'

The judge told him: "You have cooperated, I am told, with the authorities in New York and you have voluntarily attended these proceedings here today."

He released Spacey on unconditional bail and adjourned the case to Southwark Crown Court on July 14.

Spacey lives in America where he has family as well as his nine-year-old pet dog Boston. Despite his fame and starring roles in successful movies and TV blockbuster House of Cards, he has to be in the US to audition for work, the court was told.

Earlier, he was flanked by lawyers, aides and two police officers as he made his way into court, dressed in a blue suit, white shirt, dark blue tie and blue suede shoes.

He was mobbed by photographers for the second time as he left the court to be driven off in a silver Mercedes.

After the CPS moved to charge him, Spacey said: "While I am disappointed with their decision to move forward, I will voluntarily appear in the UK as soon as can be arranged and defend myself against these charges, which I am confident will prove my innocence."

Spacey won a Best Supporting Actor Oscar for The Usual Suspects in 1995 and a second gong for Best Actor in 1999's American Beauty.

He was also handed an honorary knighthood for services to British theatre by Prince Charles in 2016.

Prince honors fallen US capitol riot police officer

Prince William has sent a personal letter of support and sympathy to the partner of the US policeman who died after the attack on the Capitol.

The letter from the Duke of Cambridge praised police officer Brian Sicknick, for ensuring “democracy was upheld” as rioters attacked the building in Washington DC.

The duke sent his condolences to the officer’s partner, Sandra Garza.

Kensington Palace said it could not comment on private correspondence.

The Capitol building was stormed on 6 January 2021 in the aftermath of Joe Biden’s presidential victory.

Ms Garza, speaking on CNN where she shared contents of the letter, had said she was very honoured to have received the letter from Prince William – adding that, in contrast, “I couldn’t get a letter from President Trump”.

She accused the former president of not taking time to contact her, while Prince William had “reached out to honour Brian’s memory”.

Officer Sicknick, aged 42, who had been defending the building from rioters, died from two strokes the day after the Capitol attack.

The letter offering sympathy appeared to have been written last November, after Prince William had seen documentary footage of what he called the “harrowing events” of the attack.

“By all accounts Brian performed valiantly whilst on duty and, despite suffering injuries, continued to do his utmost to protect those inside,” wrote the prince.

Prince William said it was thanks to such officers that “the situation did not escalate further and democracy was upheld”.

He said he wanted Ms Garza to know that “you and Brian’s family are very much in our thoughts”.

Kate Bush finally runs up that hill to No 1

■ Singer breaks multiple records with Stranger Things-revived hit after ‘manual reset’ of streaming ratios

Kate Bush has scored an improbable and inspiring No 1 in the UK singles chart, with Running Up That Hill reaching the top 37 years after the song was released.

The 1985 track has stormed domestic and global charts after its inclusion in the hit Netflix series Stranger Things last month, introducing it to a new generation of fans.

Bush has broken three UK chart records with her No 1 placing. She is the oldest woman to top the chart, while 37 years is the longest time a song has taken to get to No 1, beating Wham!, whose Last Christmas finally made it in January 2021.

Bush also has the longest gap between No 1 singles, with 44 years elapsed since her debut, Wuthering Heights (Tom Jones was the previous record holder at 42 years). Running Up That Hill reached No 3 when it was originally released.

“It’s hard to take in the speed at which this has all been happening,” Bush, 63, said in a statement on her website earlier this week. “So many young people who love the show [are] discovering the song for the first time.”

“The response to Running Up That Hill is something that has had its own energy and volition. A direct relationship between the shows and their audience and one that has stood completely outside of the music business. We’ve all been astounded to watch the track explode!”

The song is currently at No 4 in the US, her highest-ever placing here.

The UK chart success of Running Up That Hill – currently achieving about 575,000 plays a day on Spotify in the UK and more than 6m a day on the platform globally – was aided by the waiver last weekend of a rule that determines how streams for older songs are tallied, sparking speculation that Bush has opened the gates for more vintage songs to return.

LONG TIME RUNNING: Kate Bush performing the song on Wogan in 1985

“Running Up That Hill has itself changed things as we know it,” said pop chart analyst James Masterton. “This is the first time in the streaming era that a back-catalogue track has not only been spontaneously resurrected but has maintained its popularity over an extended period.”

“The Kate Bush song has become a genuine sustained smash hit, and for that reason it is appropriate that the rules are waived so it joins contemporary releases on a level playing field. That’s the true game-changer, as it lays down a precedent for other classics to do the same if circumstances merit.”

Bush’s success could make labels fight harder to get archive tracks placed in popular shows in an attempt to replicate this moment, according to former NME editor Charlotte Gunn.

“Kate Bush is beloved, as is Stranger Things. Fans were rooting for her to get that No 1 because it’s a heartwarming story,” she said.

Tributes flow as legendary fly-half Phil Bennett dies at 73

The world of rugby has united in tribute to Phil Bennett, one of the greatest fly-halves to play for Wales and the British and Irish Lions. The 73-year-old, famed for his thrilling attacking play, has died after a long illness.

An integral member of a golden Welsh generation, he represented his country in 29 Tests, scored 166 points and helped secure two Five Nations grand slams, including the 1978 crown when he scored two tries in a 16-7 win over France in Cardiff.

Famed for his skilful play, his range of passes and his ankle-snapping sidesteps, Bennett, affectionately known as ‘Benny’, is universally regarded as one of Wales’ best ever players. He was the lynchpin in a team that dominated northern hemisphere rugby in the 1970s alongside Gareth Edwards, Derek Quinell, JPR Williams and Gerald Davies.

Paying tribute on their website, Bennetts club side The Scarlets described Bennett as follows: “A player with stardust in his boots, he possessed a sidestep that would mesmerize defenders – his jinking run to spark ‘the greatest try ever scored’ for the Barbarians against New Zealand in Cardiff in 1973 will live long in rugby folklore.”

“Phil was one of the all-time legends of the game and widely regarded as the greatest player to wear the Scarlets jersey”.

Bennett played 410

Why you need dental insurance in retirement.

Medicare doesn't pay for dental care.<sup>1</sup>

As good as Medicare is, it was never meant to cover everything. If you want protection, you need to purchase individual insurance.

Early detection can prevent small problems from becoming expensive ones.

The best way to avoid large dental bills is preventive care. Experts recommend checkups twice a year.

Previous dental work can wear out.

Your odds of having a dental problem only go up as you age.<sup>2</sup>

Treatment is expensive — especially the services people over 50 often need.

Unexpected bills, like $189 for a filling, or $1,219 for a crown<sup>3</sup> can be a real burden, especially if you're on a fixed income.

When you're comparing plans ...

- ▶ Look for coverage that helps pay for major services.
- ▶ Look for coverage with no deductibles.
- ▶ Shop for coverage with no annual maximum on cash benefits.

Simply put – without dental insurance, there may be an important gap in your healthcare coverage.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. ## Brits in LA

A Rainbow made of Beige

After 30 years in the business, UK cabaret sensation Lenny Beige is about to take to the Hollywood stage for the first time with his show, One Man & His Talent. Here, Lisa Marks talks to Steve Furst, the man behind the ultra-tanned legend, about what audiences can expect from a night of swinging Rat Pack revelry, tongue-in-cheek tomfoolery and cocksure swagger....

How would you describe Lenny Beige to someone who's never seen him before?

He's a rare kind of theatrical unicorn, that of an all-round entertainer. Lenny has a real swagger. He would have loved to have been in the Rat Pack but was born slightly too late and in the wrong country. In Britain, he would have been more like Bruce Forsyth. He plays instruments, tells gags and takes audience suggestions. There's nothing Lenny won't embrace.

Will there be any special guests?

It's basically Lenny for 75 minutes but I'll also be joined by Richard Shelton, who's my friend, and appeared on my Christmas show last year, for a Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis Jnr duet. In the last ten years, I've done tributes to Anthony Newley, Tom Waits and Neil Diamond and there's a bit of Diamond and Newley in there. Lenny's not afraid to bring in the artistes who have been influential in his life.

Part of Lenny's comedy is very much in the old Jewish tradition. Will we be seeing some of that?
Of course. I used to live in Los Angeles and know that the Jewish stuff is so well received. The audience is built in to receive that kind of comedy whereas maybe only 40% of my UK audience get it.

Why has it taken so long for LA to welcome Lenny?

I like to give my characters a backstory so the reason is that back in the day Lenny was involved with John Lennon and thinks that for some reason he was put on a cultural blacklist! But I'm glad it's happening at last. My mum and step-dad, who is an American musician and a professor at USC, have lived in LA for about ten years. It'll be lovely to see them after a long break because of lockdown.

If you could perform with anyone say from that, that Golden Age of Hollywood, who would that be?
Sammy Davis Jnr every time. In the early days we had Lionel Blair on the show and he absolutely loved Lenny. Lionel used to do all the choreography for Sammy when he visited the UK. I'm still passionate about keeping that element of old Hollywood alive.

You've been in the business a long time, what would you say to those starting out?
Keep learning and keep the tank topped up. You never know when it's going to happen.

Your screen credits include Made in Dagenham and Friday

Night Dinner but what's coming next?

I'm on a show for Starz called The Serpent Queen, with Samantha Morton. It's a big historical epic. And I'm still doing my character stuff as well. You can check out my website for all the latest news.

For tickets to see Lenny Beige in One Man & His Talent, at Feinstein's at Vitello's, in Studio City, on June 23, or New York, at 53 Above Broadway, on June 28, visit stevefurst.com.

Sadly our dear friend and long time Brits in LA member Shirley Greene passed away earlier this week.

Every year we would announce our membership numbers
And without fail Shirley would be the first to comment
"I was one of the first" and she was .
And one of the most supportive
She was as proud of us as we were to have her as a member
She was amazing, fabulous and one of a kind but her most unique skill was that she had a knack of making whomever had the pleasure of her company feel extra special.

Reading the hundreds of tributes dedicated to her this week really highlighted that.
We should all aim to be more like Shirley and make those around us feel that at that moment in time they are the most important thing in the world.

You will be sorely missed Shirley.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: RICARDO FRANZOSI AKA RICHARD FRANZOSI AKA RICARDO FRANZZOSI AKA RICARDO FRANZOSI AKA RICARDO S. FARNZOSI AKA RICARDO FRANZOSI RICARDO
CASE NO. 22STPB05857

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of RICARDO FRANZOSI AKA RICHARD FRANZOSI AKA RICARDO FRANZZOSI AKA RICARDO FRANZOSI AKA RICARDO S. FARNZOSI AKA RICARDO FRANZOSI RICARDO. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act with limited authority. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 07/18/22 at 8:30AM in Dept. 44 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

could have predicted the way New Zealand would be steamrollered in such spectacular fashion.

From 224-7 overnight, leading by 238, the Black Caps edged to 284 all out, leaving England the stiff task of scoring at more than four an over.

The home side had the benefit of a flat pitch and New Zealand being without injured fast bowler Kyle Jamieson. Even then, the run-chase was truly staggering.

England had been adamant about their intent to pursue any target and this was an awesome demonstration of what they can be capable of under Stokes and McCullum.

It resulted in victory in one of the most entertaining matches of all time. The 225 fours and 24 sixes is a new record for the most boundaries hit in a single Test.

At the centre of it all was Bairstow, who played one of the great innings by an England batter.

Though he could not be there at the end, he was given a huge hug by Stokes, then left to a spine-tingling standing ovation.

Bairstow has been one of the last to taste success. When he did, he produced arguably his finest moment in an England shirt.

£35m Mané headed to Bayern

Liverpool have accepted Bayern Munich's latest offer for Sadio Mané and the forward is due to have a medical before signing a three-year contract. Bayern are paying a guaranteed £28m and the fee could reach £35m with add-ons.

Mané told Liverpool of his desire to leave soon after the Champions League final and made Bayern his preferred destination. Bids from the German club were turned down before a deal was reached on Friday. Bayern's sporting director, Hasan Salihamidzic, confirmed the move to Sky Sports in Germany on Friday evening. "Yes, Sadio is coming to Bayern," he said.

GOOD INNINGS: Mané has been with the club since 2016

The Senegal international has been at Liverpool since 2016 and decided the time was right for a new experience. He had one year left on his contract. Liverpool wanted a replacement – as well as a suitable fee – and this week secured Darwin Núñez from Benfica in a deal that could reach £85m. Núñez, who turns 23 next week, is seven years younger than Mané.

Nunez seals Reds switch

Liverpool have completed the signing of Uruguay striker Darwin Nunez from Portuguese side Benfica on a six-year-deal for an initial £64m.

The 22-year-old could become the club's record signing, with the fee rising to a potential £85m with add-ons.

Nunez scored 34 times in 41 appearances for Benfica last season.

"I'm really happy and delighted to be here at Liverpool. It's a massive club," he said. "I want to win a lot of trophies at Liverpool."

Nunez added: "I've played against Liverpool and I've seen them in lots of games in the Champions League – and it's my style of play. There are some great players here and I think it's going to suit my style of play here."

Liverpool's current record transfer is the £75m paid to sign centre-back Virgil van Dijk from Southampton in 2018.

Nunez's fee should reach at least £75m if he plays regularly.

New Vieira heading to Arsenal

Porto say they have agreed to sell midfielder Fabio Vieira to Arsenal in a 40m euro (£34.2m) deal.

The Portuguese club released a statement on Friday saying Arsenal would pay an initial 35m euros (£29.9m) for Vieira with the rest in potential add-ons.

Vieira, 22, has yet to win a senior cap for Portugal but was voted player of the tournament at last year's European Under-21 Championship.

He provided a league-high 14 assists in the Primeira Liga last season.

Vieira also scored six goals in 27 league outings as he helped Porto claim the top-flight title in Portugal.

He has been capped 21 times by Portugal Under-21s and will become the Gunners' third summer arrival, following USA goalkeeper Matt Turner and teenage Brazilian forward Marquinhos.

Spurs snap up Bissouma

Tottenham have completed the signing of 25-year old Mali midfielder Yves Bissouma from Brighton on a four-year deal worth £25m plus add-ons.

He becomes Spurs' third summer signing, following the arrival of goalkeeper Fraser Forster and winger Ivan Perisic on free transfers.

Bissouma made 124 appearances for the Seagulls after joining the club from Lille in July 2018.

The north London club were initially interested in signing him in January.

The coveted central midfielder started 26 Premier League games for the Seagulls last season, scoring once.

He played an influential role for Graham Potter's side as they secured ninth place in the Premier League – the highest finish in the club's history.

Potter says the transfer is "very good" for the player and the south coast club.

"Yves has shown his undoubted ability and been an important player for us during his time with us," he said. "Now he has a new challenge with Tottenham, including the opportunity to play Champions League football, and everyone at the club wishes him well."

Magyars mangle dismal England

■ Southgate's men go from bad to worse with feeble 4-0 capitulation as Molineux

England's Nations League campaign continued as they slumped to their worst home defeat since 1928 against a ruthless Hungary to leave Gareth Southgate's side rooted to the bottom of Group A3.

Wednesday's 4-0 capitulation means the Three Lions have now gone four games without a victory for the first time since 2014 and look worryingly out of form and confidence with a World Cup looming at the end of this year.

They could do nothing but capitulate to a humiliating and potentially damaging defeat that had the crowd booing and baying for Southgate's job at the final whistle.

Roland Sallai put the visitors in front with a well-taken finish at the back post, then doubled Hungary's lead with his second on the break 20 minutes from time.

There was more to come from a rampant Hungary, as Zsolt Nagy fired in from range and - after John Stones was sent off to compound a woeful evening for the hosts - Daniel Gazdag finished smartly to wrap up a second historic win over England in 10 days.

Jarrod Bowen had earlier missed a decent chance at the back post from Reece James' cross and Harry Kane flicked a header against the bar, but the hosts once again lacked the belief and inventiveness to open up their opposition.

Hungary - who top a group that also includes Germany and Italy - were well organized and clinical to earn only their second win over the Three Lions on English soil and first

That sinking feeling: England has no answer to the rampant Hungarians on Wednesday since a famous 6-3 success at Wembley in 1953.

It brings a brutal end to a long campaign for these players, who will be grateful to take a break before pre-season begins with their clubs again in a few weeks.

But Southgate will be left to ponder this defeat knowing he has just two games left in September to arrest this slide before England head to the World Cup in Qatar, and also contend with the real possibility of relegation from the top tier of Nations League football.

...but the cricket was better!

Jonny Bairstow's astonishing century led England to a stunning win in the second Test against New Zealand on Tuesday which sealed a series victory.

Chasing 299 in 72 overs on a breathless final day at Trent Bridge, Bairstow made the second-fastest century by an England batter in Test cricket as the hosts strolled to what should have been a challenging target.

Bairstow's outrageous hitting in the spell after tea took him to three figures from 77 balls, only just missing the England record of 76 balls that has stood for 120 years.

He was eventually out for 136 from 92 balls, having clubbed 14 fours and seven sixes in front of a delirious full house.

It was left to captain Ben Stokes, who ended 75 not out, to complete the win with 22 overs to spare.

SMASHING: Bairstow celebrates his lightning ton England had scored at almost a run a ball.

It sealed a remarkable turnaround from New Zealand posting 553 in their first innings after being asked to bat. It is the highest total England have conceded in a Test which they have gone on to win since 1894.

They take an unassailable 2-0 lead in the series, vindicating the freewheeling approach of new captain Stokes and coach Brendon McCullum.

The home side can complete a clean sweep in the third and final Test at Headingley next week.

The 17,000 people who grabbed the free tickets on offer knew England had a chance of pulling off a special win, but no-one
