WHAT A SHAMBLES!

- Scottish uproar as convicted rapist is placed in a WOMEN'S prison
- Sturgeon forced to intervene after trans prisoner 'games' system

SCOTLAND was in uproar this week as a trans woman who raped two women before she changed gender was remanded to a women's prison.

Only after a huge public outcry was the decision reversed and Isla Bryson, who was convicted of the rapes when she committed as a man called Adam Graham, was moved to a men's prison.

Bryson was initially sent to Cornton Vale women's prison in Stirling before being transferred to HMP Edinburgh on Thursday.

The move came only after the intervention of First Minister Nicola Sturgeon.

Bryson is due to be sentenced next month after being convicted of the rapes on Tuesday. It is thought to have been the first time a trans woman has been convicted of raping women in Scotland.

But where that sentence should be served has been the subject of heated debate, with concerns being raised about the safety of other women in the female jail if Bryson was placed there.

The Scottish Parliament passed legislation last month aimed at making it easier for people to change their legally-recognised sex, but Ms Sturgeon has said the changes did not play any part in the Bryson case.

The Gender Recognition Reform Bill has been blocked by the UK government over its potential impact on equalities laws that apply across Scotland, England and Wales.

'assurance'

Speaking at First Minister's Questions in the Scottish Parliament, Ms Sturgeon said she agreed that it was not possible to have a rapist within a women's prison.

Referring directly to the Bryson case, she said: "It would not be appropriate for me, in respect of any prisoner, to give details of where they are being incarcerated.

"But given the understandable public and parliamentary concern in this case, I can confirm to parliament that this prisoner will not be incarcerated at Cornton Vale women's prison.

"I hope that provides assurance to the public."

The first minister said any prisoner who posed a risk of sexual offending was segregated from other prisoners including while a risk assessment was carried out.

She said: "There is no automatic right for a trans woman convicted of a crime to serve their sentence in a female prison even if they have a gender recognition certificate.

"Every case is subject to rigorous individual risk assessment and the safety of other prisoners is paramount."

The first minister also stressed it was careful that people "do not, even inadvertently, suggest that trans women pose an inherent threat to women", adding: "Predatory men, as has always been the case, are the risk to women."

Speaking to journalists outside the chamber, Ms Sturgeon said she had not given any "formal direction" to the Scottish Prison Service on removing Bryson from Cornton Vale.

A spokesman for the first minister would not say if it was now Scottish

Rowling slams Sturgeon over transgender rapist

Author JK Rowling has slammed Scottish First Minister Nicola Sturgeon over the transgender double rapist who was briefly held in a women's jail.

The First Minister came under intense pressure to address the decision to house Isla Bryson in a female facility, a move that was reversed later in the week.

A Twitter user shared a photo of Ms Sturgeon holding the hands of a young girl with the caption: "Tonight's question... what's your best guess as to what Sturgeon is asking this little girl?"

Harry Potter author Ms Rowling replied to the tweet, offering: "Do you agree that a convicted double rapist who decided he was a woman after appearing in court belongs in a women's prison, or are you a nasty, far right bigot?"

Ms Rowling once photographed herself wearing a T-shirt calling the First Minister a "destroyer of women's rights".

Ms Sturgeon had

attempted to introduce a law that would have allowed Scots to change their legal sex by signing a declaration, but it was blocked by the UK Government.

During the passing of the Bill, a number of MSPs attempted to introduce safeguards, including those accused of rape charges to be prevented from changing their legal sex while awaiting trial – but some supporters dismissed these changes as "transphobic dog whistles".

Women's rights campaigner Joanna Cherry, an SNP MP, said she was concerned about the safety of prisoners in the jail. She said: "To many people, it will look like this convicted rapist has gamed the system in order to try to garner sympathy, and to end up in a women's prison. And I think a lot of people will be shocked by that."

Bryson was found guilty of raping one woman in Clydebank in 2016 and another in Glasgow in 2019 following a trial at the High Court in Glasgow.

Bryson first appeared in court as Adam Graham in 2019 but was later named in court papers as Isla Annie Bryson.

Bryson's estranged wife mocked the rapist's decision to become a woman as "a sham".

Shonna Graham, 31, said she believed the transition was an act to make a mockery of the justice system.

She claimed: "His gender transition is a sham for attention and an easier life in prison."

We will clean up the Met, top cop vows

A STEADY stream of Met Police officers will appear in court each week in the scandal-ridden force's drive to clean up, its chief admitted this week.

Commissioner Sir Mark Rowley said a new Met hotline has received "tens of calls" a week, leading to new investigations – a third of which relate to constabularies elsewhere in the country.

Still reeling from the horrific crimes of PC David Carrick, who admitted 24 rapes, the London force is bracing itself for more "painful truths" while purging hundreds of criminals from its ranks.

And it comes after one of its "safer schools" officers pleaded guilty on Tuesday to child sex offences.

Sir Mark told London Assembly members that rooting out corrupt officers and staff will take time.

He said: "Lifting the stone and revealing painful truths will not be resolved overnight. We have to prepare for more painful stories as we confront the issues."

The Met is reviewing previous allegations of sexual offences and domestic violence against around 1,000 officers and staff to ensure investigations were thorough and ended with appropriate action. Sir Mark said he expects two or three officers per week to appear in court charged with offences linked to dishonesty, sexual offences, violence or domestic violence. He also told the assembly's Police and Crime Committee a new Met Police integrity hotline was unearthing yet more possible cases.

He said: "Even though this is a Met appeal, one in three of the calls coming through roughly are for other forces. We're passing information on as well."

"We're helping the rest of policing confront some issues as well."

Last week Suella Braverman announced a Home Office review which would consider putting police chiefs in charge of all misconduct hearings.

corrupt officers

It could lead to automatic disciplinary action up to dismissal for officers convicted of crimes and fast-track sackings. The Home Secretary also urged all forces to double down on rooting out corrupt officers. Leader of the Women's Equality Party Mandu Reid called for a statutory inquiry into the failings and misogyny in forces.

She said: "We are supposed to have to police by consent – and we can't consent if there is no trust."

Ms Reid said it was "not just the Met", claiming there were "too many examples" across the country. But she said the Met allows officers to "continue to terrorise, brutalise and attack women".

Carrick, 48, is facing multiple life sentences at his sentencing on February 7 after admitting 49 charges relating to 12 women, including 24 counts of rape.

He was able to join Britain's biggest force despite being a suspect in two criminal investigations relating to the break-up of a relationship.

Lawyers scoff at Andrew's audacious attempt to reverse sex abuse deal

■ Prince Andrew's bid to overturn £3million deal 'has as much chance as Jeffrey Epstein coming back to life'

Prince Andrew's audacious bid to overturn his £3million sex abuse deal with Virginia Giuffre has as much chance "as Jeffrey Epstein coming back to life", incredulous US lawyers have said.

Reports that the Duke of York has consulted lawyers to get his rape accuser to retract her allegations and possibly secure an apology have been met with disbelief on this side of the pond.

Lawyers for victims of billionaire Epstein, who took his own life in jail in 2019 while facing child sex charges, have blasted Andrew, 62.

One attorney said "it was unbelievable", while another said the Duke should just "forget it".

Leading lawyer Spencer Kuvin said: "It is unbelievable how desperate Prince Andrew is. His chances of overturning a negotiated and agreed settlement are just about as much as Epstein coming back to life."

And Lisa Bloom, who also represents victims of Epstein and a woman who says she saw Andrew in London's Tramp Nightclub with Ms Giuffre in 2001, said the royal should just "forget" about it and "man up".

She added: "Prince Andrew was represented by experienced, respected counsel. He signed his name to a settlement that was surely carefully negotiated. And now he wants out? Not going to happen. Nor should it."

To overturn the settlement, which sources say his lawyers negotiated down from the previously reported £12million to around £3million, the Duke would have to file a "motion to vacate the stipulation of settlement".

He would need to prove such things as a mistake, accident, fraud or duress took place. Andrew is said to have been inspired to act after Ms Giuffre dropped a lawsuit against US lawyer and professor Alan Dershowitz.

She accused the attorney, who once represented OJ Simpson, of sexual assault but she later admitted she "may have made a mistake" in identifying him. Ms Giuffre was forced into a climbdown last November after suing Mr Dershowitz for defamation.

He always denied her allegations. And Andrew is reported to be seeking a retraction and apology from Virginia Giuffre the Duke, who also consistently denied Ms Giuffre's claims, reportedly seized on the dropping of the lawsuit. Ms Giuffre sued Andrew in August 2021, claiming he raped and sexually abused her after she was trafficked by Epstein. The case was dismissed after the Duke paid an undisclosed amount to his accuser in March last year. The out-of-court settlement accepted no liability. But the scandal damaged the Prince's reputation and made him an outcast from the Royal Family. He was later stripped of his military titles. A spokesperson for Andrew was unavailable for comment.

Carrick was subject to a series of criminal allegations while in the service but allowed to remain until his arrest. Another Met officer Wayne Couzens got life for the kidnap, rape and murder of Sarah Everard in 2021. On Tuesday Met Police "safer schools" officer PC Hussain Chehab, 22, admitted four counts of sexual activity with a girl aged 13 to 15 before he joined the force in 2020.

He also pleaded guilty at London's Wood Green Crown Court to offences linked to indecent images of children committed while in the service.

His criminal behaviour came to light when the girl's family reported in July 2021 that their daughter had been in a sexual relationship with Chehab. That began when she was 14.

He also admitted three counts of making indecent photos of a child and one of sexual communication with a child.

The Met said some offences occurred while he was posted at a north London school between May and August 2021. Chehab will be sentenced in March.

Det Chief Supt Caroline Haines said no concerns were raised about him when he was recruited or when he was vetted for the school job: "Once allegations against PC Chehab were made, he was immediately removed from his role. We worked with the school and Enfield local authority to ensure there were no further unreported safeguarding incidents."

government policy to bar all rapists from female prisons.

Scottish Conservative leader Douglas Ross said his party had "warned for months" during the debate over the gender reforms that "violent criminals just like the sex offender, the absolute beast we are discussing today, would try to exploit loopholes in the law and attack and traumatise women."

He added: "It should not have taken public disgust and a slew of negative headlines about a double rapist being sent to a women's prison for Nicola Sturgeon to realise this was completely unacceptable and wrong."

Eugenie expecting baby no 2

Princess Eugenie is pregnant with her second child – and shared a picture of son August kissing her bump to break the news.

Queen Elizabeth's granddaughter, 32, and her tequila ambassador husband Jack Brooksbank, 36, will welcome their second child in the summer.

Buckingham Palace said that August, who turns two on February 9, was "very much" looking forward to becoming a big brother.

Eugenie, Prince Andrew's youngest daughter, commented: "We're so excited."

The baby, 13th in line to the throne, will be a plain Miss or Master.

August, who is 11th in line, went to last year's Platinum Jubilee events in a Union Jack jumper.

Eugenie, a director at the London art gallery Hauser & Wirth, met Jack on a ski trip to Verbier, Switzerland.

£30k to net Pele's final Brazil shirt

PELE'S famous number 10 shirt, made for his last Brazil game, can be snapped up by fans who have £30,000 to spare.

The football legend, who died in December aged 82, wore a short-sleeve iconic yellow shirt for the July 1971 friendly with Yugoslavia.

But the unworn long-sleeve version was gifted to his beloved masseur Abilio Jose de Silva, nicknamed Knockout Jack.

It was sold on and now belongs to a 33-year-old restaurant manager from Shropshire, who said: "It's an amazing piece of football memorabilia."

It will be sold by Hansons Auctioneers on February 15.

Cycling star describes 'struggle' to let go of horror knife attack at family home

OLYMPIC cyclist Mark Cavendish and his wife Peta have described their ongoing struggle to "erase" the terror of a knife raid on their home.

The Tour de France sprint star said they "continue to work incredibly hard" to move on from the horrific night masked raiders burst into their bedroom.

They spoke as two members of the gang faced long jail sentences for their part in the £700,000 robbery.

During the raid Mark, 37, was savagely beaten and one of the intruders held a Rambo-style knife to his throat before yelling: "Where are the watches? Do you want me to stab you up in front of your kid?"

Only just out of hospital after a serious cycle crash, he tried to hit a panic button but could not find it in the dark.

Peta, 36, grabbed their three-year-old son and covered him with a duvet as the gang burst into the couple's bedroom.

Up to five masked men escaped with two Richard Mille watches worth a total of £700,000 in the raid near Ongar, Essex.

The couple said: "Nothing can ever erase what our family went through.

"Reliving our family's experience from that night in November 2021 has been an incredibly difficult experience.

"What happened is something that no family should ever have to go through.

"There is now some comfort that two men who broke into our family home and stole from us, assaulted Mark and terrified our children are now convicted and will be facing what we hope will be an appropriate sentence for their actions.

"And we hope [it] moves some steps in preventing this horror happening to another innocent family.

"We have worked and continue to work incredibly hard to move on from that night as best we can, to make it a distant memory.

"It has been immensely difficult and in fact there have been times when it has felt impossible, but we will not let this event and these men's actions define our family. We are moving forward together."

Romario Henry, 31, of Lewisham, south London, was yesterday found guilty of two counts of robbery by a majority verdict at Chelmsford Crown Court.

Ali Sesay, 28, of Rainham, Kent, admitted the same charges at an earlier hearing. They will be sentenced on February 7.

Earlier, Peta choked back tears as she told the jury of the impact of the raid.

The former model said: "It's your worst nightmare. My first thought was that my three-year-old was in my bed.

"It was so sudden that you didn't have time to think how you react. I just knew my babies were asleep in that house."

The gang fled with her husband's £400,000 Richard Mille watch, which he wore while racing, and her bespoke £300,000 timepiece from the same brand.

They also stole three phones and Peta's Louis Vuitton suitcase bearing her initials.

Teddy the Mensa tot!

BRAINY Teddy Hobbs has become Britain's youngest member of Mensa – aged just three.

Teddy, (right) who wants to be a doctor, can already read and count to 100 in SEVEN languages.

His favourite books are Harry Potters, when his parents allow him to read them, and he does word searches and sums to relax.

The child prodigy, now four, gained entry to the intellectual elite club aged three years and nine months.

Proud parents Beth, 31, and Will, 41, say they are shocked at his academic prowess. Beth, of Portishead, Somerset, said: "When we had him assessed, that was so we could help him when he starts school in September."

Teddy, short for Theodore, scored 139 out of 160 on the Stanford Binet IQ test. He and sister Pippa were born by IVF and Beth quipped: "My husband and I are not linguists so we joke that the embryologist must have slipped a needle or something. He has ideas he wants to be a doctor. Him and his friend like to play doctors at nursery."

Thousands get stuck as as polar vortex hits Heathrow

THOUSANDS of passengers were left stuck this week as airlines cancelled scores of flights because of ice as Heathrow recorded its coldest temperature in over a decade.

While Scotland and the north of England were blessed with mild weather, the icy snap dominated the South.

While temperatures reached 50F (10.1C) in Kinlochewe in the Scottish Highlands, the mercury plunged to -9.5C in Santon Downham, Suffolk.

On Monday night Heathrow recorded its coldest night since December 2010 – and its chilliest January night since 1987 – as temperatures dropped to a teeth-chattering -8.4C.

The icy conditions at Britain's busiest airport led to the cancellation of more than 80 British Airways flights affecting some 12,000 passengers expecting to fly to destinations such as Amsterdam, Edinburgh, Milan, Paris and Stockholm.

It followed around 70 cancellations at the airport on Sunday due to freezing fog.

The cold snap was blamed in a rare shift in the polar vortex, which is threatening to deliver further bone-chilling

Peter Wilson, 70, said he was taught to fen-skate as a child by his father temperatures well into February.

The phenomenon is a circulation of winds around 30 miles above Earth that keep cold air trapped in the Arctic.

That opens the way for an icy blast to strike Britain about two weeks later – meaning Brits could be shivering in the kind of record-breaking temperatures that saw Aberdeenshire plunge to -26C in January 2021.

But some adventurous East Anglians took advantage of the conditions to enjoy a centuries-old tradition – ice skating on the Fens.

In cold winters, the marshy, flooded meadows the area is famed for freeze and create an ideal – and safe – terrain for skating.

One local farmer, Peter Wilson, 70, said he had been taught to fen-skate as a child by his father on the same ice and he always got 'out here... when I get the chance.'

He was joined by two other locals, who gave their names only as Olga and Natalia, who usually skate at the rink, and were trying fen-skating for the first time.

Because She's Worth It! Corrie's Gail Honoured

LEGENDARY Coronation Street star Helen Worth had a double celebration this week – she was made an MBE and got to meet the "gorgeous" Prince of Wales.

The actress, (right) who has played Gail Platt on the soap since 1974, received the award from William at Windsor Castle.

Afterwards, she said: "He [William] was so lovely, so easy. He asked all the right questions. He was very complimentary."

She added: "It just feels absolutely wonderful. To collect an MBE is very special.

"But to receive it in this beautiful building – I love castles and houses in history, and so for me to come here today is just wonderful." She said she had a job and one that plans to celebrate the day with her husband and her friends in Windsor after staying overnight in a hotel.

Helen added: "To have had a job and one that I love, and to be able to work in it is quite extraordinary. And then to get an award for it is just the icing on the cake."

for the spotlight it throws upon the film.

"We hope it will encourage people to see it."

In the film, Bill – whose first screen role was in 70s cop drama Softly Softly – plays a civil servant living a humdrum existence who is inspired to make the most of his remaining days.

He is joined in the Best Actor category by another first-timer – Colin Farrell, up for The Banshees of Inisherin.

Their competition is Austin Butler for Elvis, Brendan Fraser for The Whale and Paul Mescal for Aftersun.

The sci-fi adventure Everything Everywhere All At Once leads the field at this year's Oscars, with 11 nominations.

It follows Michelle Yeoh's character hopping through different universes as different versions of herself. The movie is nominated for Best Picture, alongside Netflix-funded All Quiet On The Western Front; Avatar: The Way Of Water; The Banshees of Inisherin; Elvis; The Fabelmans; Tar; Top Gun: Maverick; Triangle Of Sadness, and Women Talking.

Rising Riseborough

English star Andrea Riseborough is nominated for Best Actress for her role in To Leslie, and will compete against Cate Blanchett for Tar, Ana De Armas for Blonde, Michelle Williams for The Fabelmans and Michelle Yeoh for Everything Everywhere All At Once.

Martin McDonagh's dark Irish comedy The Banshees Of Inisherin is one of the top films to be recognised, with nine nominations. Former Ballykissangel star Colin, 46, said: "I'm just so grateful to the Academy for all the love it's shared with the Banshees' cast and crew. Also, beyond honoured to be lumped together with my fellow nominees."

German film All Quiet On The Western Front also received nine nods, with Baz Luhrmann's Elvis earning eight, and Steven Spielberg's drama The Fabelmans on seven.

The star-studded 2023 Oscars ceremony, to be hosted by US talk show host and comedian Jimmy Kimmel, will take place on March 12 at the Dolby Theatre in Los Angeles.

Julian Sands: I know in my heart he is gone, says brother

SANDS: the actor went missing with his wife Evgenia Citkowitz on January 13th while hiking in snowy conditions on Mount Baldy

THE brother of missing actor Julian Sands believes "he is resting in a place he would truly approve of".

Nick Sands said Julian, 65, was not officially "presumed dead" after he vanished in the San Gabriel mountains on January 13th with wife Evgenia Citkowitz, 59.

But he added: "I know in my heart that he has gone."

"However, sibling rivalry being what it is, it would be just like him to walk out of there and prove me wrong."

Nick revealed his Room With a View star brother was an experienced climber – scaling the Matterhorn and Eiger – after walking the Yorkshire Dales while growing up in Gargrave.

Financial adviser Nick said: "When he recently walked the full length of the Pennine Way, he took just a small tent and averaged over 30 miles a day – not bad for a guy over 60."

In recent years Julian travelled the world in well-received one-man shows.

The Arachnophobia actor, who moved to LA after movie success in the '80s and '90s, and Evgenia were last seen near one Baldy, one of his favorite local haunts. The immediate search for the actor was hampered by snowstorms and high wind.

Another hiker, Jin Chung, of Los Angeles, was discovered by search and rescue crews Tuesday afternoon along the Baldy Bowl Trail on the 10,000-foot peak, which is an hour's drive northeast of downtown.

Chung had "suffered some weather-related injuries and a leg injury but was able to walk out with the assistance of the crew members," the sheriff's department said. Chung was transported to a local hospital for treatment.

In an update Wednesday, the sheriff's department tweeted the "search for Julian Sands continues by air only."

"The Sheriff's Department is closing in on the second full week of the search for missing hiker, Julian Sands. Numerous ground and air search efforts have taken place," the sheriff's department said in a statement Tuesday.

Sands's family said they were "deeply touched" by the "outpouring of love and support" they had received.

In the statement - put out on Tuesday, the family praised the "heroic search teams" who are working through the difficult weather conditions "on the ground and in the air to bring Julian home".

San Bernardino County Sheriff's department said it had responded to more than a dozen calls on Mount San Antonio, known locally as Mount Baldy, and in the surrounding area over the last four weeks. It warned hikers to "stay away" from that area.

"It is extremely dangerous and even experienced hikers are getting in trouble," the department said.

Born in Yorkshire, Mr Sands has appeared in dozens of films and TV shows, but it was a lead role in the 1985 British romance A Room With A View that brought him global fame.

He lives in the North Hollywood neighbourhood of Los Angeles with his wife, writer Evgenia Citkowitz. They have two children.

Mr Sands has talked in the past about his love of hiking and mountain climbing.

When asked in 2020 what made him happy, he replied: "Close to a mountain summit on a glorious cold morning."

Stargazing with Annie Shaw

ARIES: Now is a good time to get working on your financial goals for next month. This is a priority but if you are considering some travel it's best to wait a couple of weeks.

TAURUS: You could be feeling nervous about your future plans this coming week. This is due to your boss planet Venus switching signs to Pisces next week. Best to wait until the end of next week.

GEMINI: Your boss planet Mercury is moving forward and is ready to work for you. This is a good time to catch up with distant friends and unfinished business of every kind.

CANCER: Be strong now and do not let anything stop you from completing anything outstanding. Your moods always change quickly and so gravitate to friends and family who have your back.

LEO: You should be starting to feel more upbeat and ready to take the world on in every way. It's not been a settled time in your life in the past months albeit here and there. Nothing lasts forever.

VIRGO: This next week life may not go in the expected direction. This is due in part to your boss Mercury moving forwards fast. So do not push too hard, instead let fate take a hand and things will get better by mid-week.

LIBRA: Any plans set in stone will not be easy to move forward. However, if you have patience and foresight you will know nothing will go by you if it's meant for you. You can still make plans; just don't act on them yet.

SCORPIO: Your financial situation has been at somewhat at a standstill for a few weeks now. While it's not been easy for you know it can change overnight. Life is picking up speed soon.

SAGITTARIUS: It's not currently a time to be self-indulgent or indeed to give to others. This is only for a short while and in fact by late next week you will be in a better place overall.

CAPRICORN: For some of you it's time to take a break away from family and friends. For some of you life is more mellow. Wherever you stand just know to keep a low profile for a few days.

AQUARIUS: Be honest as only you can be to yourself and see the difference soon. If you are having issues at work be sure to play by the rules. Saturn in your life will figure out the rest!

PISCES: It is the beginning of your new year and Jupiter in your house is your friend and on a long visit to you. Financially you are due a boost. Happy Birthday!

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 619-846-7649 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this internet website <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-22-926848-SH. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 619-846-7649, or visit this internet website <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-22-926848-SH to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE OWNER-OCCUPANT: Any prospective owner-occupant as defined in Section 2924m of the California Civil Code who is the last and highest bidder at the trustee's sale shall provide the required affidavit or declaration of eligibility to the auctioneer at the trustee's sale or shall have it delivered to Quality Loan Service Corporation by 5 p.m. on the next business day following the trustee's sale at the address set forth in the below signature block. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the property address or other common designation, if any, shown herein. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. If the sale is set aside for any reason, including if the Trustee is unable to convey title, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the monies paid to the Trustee. This shall be the Purchaser's sole and exclusive remedy. The purchaser shall have no further recourse against the Trustor, the Trustee, the Beneficiary, the Beneficiary's Agent, or the Beneficiary's Attorney. If you have previously been discharged through bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this letter is intended to exercise the note holders right's against the real property only. best side in the world, the Dutchman's chances of making progress with his current squad would be badly impeded if Rashford was not in it.

In a repeat of the 1992 final, the hosts recovered from a slow start and deserved to be level at the break.

They probably would have been had Surridge timed his run better or Morgan Gibbs-White played his pass a bit earlier. As it was, Surridge was marginally offside before beating David de Gea and VAR ruled it out.

De Gea saved well from Gustavo Scarpa before Brennan Johnson wasted the trickery that took him past Cristian Eriksen and Lisandro Martinez on his way into the United box by slashing his shot high and wide of the goal.

Forest kept pushing after half-time but seemed to lack belief they could salvage the situation.

Gibbs-White wasted their best chance before he made an untimely exit 18 minutes from time with what appeared to be an injury judging by his obvious disappointment and walk straight down the tunnel.

leaders Arsenal next Saturday.

Everton sacked Lampard after Saturday's 2-0 loss at West Ham left them 19th in the table with only three wins and 15 points from 20 games.

Lampard took over from Rafael Benitez on 31 January last year after the Spaniard was sacked with the Toffees in 16th place, four points above the relegation zone.

They secured their top-flight status with a game to spare after a stunning fightback from two goals down to beat Crystal Palace 3-2 at Goodison Park.

In his first public post since being sacked,

Toon edge closer to final

Newcastle United hold a slender advantage from the Carabao Cup semi-final first leg as Joelinton's goal gave them victory at Southampton Tuesday night.

The Brazilian made amends for missing an earlier easy opportunity when he arrived on the end of substitute Alexander Isak's perfect low cross to make the decisive contribution with 17 minutes left.

Newcastle will now be favourites to reach their first major Wembley final since the FA Cup in 1999 as they attempt to end a trophy drought stretching back to the 1969 Inter-Cities Fairs Cup win.

And if Newcastle do complete the job in the second leg on Tyneside they will owe a debt of gratitude to Nick Pope, who made two vital second-half saves from Southampton substitute Che Adams with the score still goalless, extending his remarkable personal record to 10 successive clean sheets.

Southampton, who had what they thought was an equaliser from Adam Armstrong disallowed for handball by VAR, saw their night of frustration complete when defender Duje Caleta-Car was sent off in the closing minutes for a second yellow card.

Joelinton was a central figure, seeing a first-half goal contentiously ruled out for handball then blazing over an open goal when it seemed easier to score, before hitting the target to reach Wembley.

The two sides meet at St James' Park in the second leg on Tuesday, 31 January. Newcastle United's dream season under Howe now carries the real prospect of a Wembley appearance to go alongside their challenge for a place in the Premier League's top four and next season's Champions League.

They needed the outstanding interventions of keeper Pope to keep Southampton at bay when they threatened after the break but Newcastle always carried a threat, even if much of their finishing was wayward, and eventually sharp work by substitute Isak delivered a chance Joelinton could not miss.

Newcastle's defence is so mean-spirited this season that one goal is invariably enough and so it proved as, for all Southampton's effort, they simply could not break through, leaving the Toon Army packed into a corner of St Mary's celebrating at the final whistle.

BIELSA: the Argentine veteran coach was sacked by Leeds after a run of heavy defeats

Lampard said he joined the club in a "tough moment" and "will always be proud of the incredible work and support from everyone involved" to stay in the Premier League last season.

"I will never forget the incredible night against Palace that we shared," he said on Instagram.

"I want to thank all Evertonians for the welcome that you gave to myself, my staff, and my family. It truly is a special club with a huge heart, and an incredible history.

"I'm disappointed that we couldn't achieve more together and wish all the players and everyone at Everton FC the very best for the future."

EFL Cup: United striker in the goals again as visitors cut down Forest

Marcus Rashford's sensational scoring streak continued at the City Ground on Wednesday night as Manchester United closed in on an EFL Cup final appearance at Wembley next month with a three-goal victory over Nottingham Forest.

Rashford's brilliant solo effort gave United the advantage six minutes into the first leg of the semi-final.

Wout Weghorst added a second just before the break with his first goal for the club and Bruno Fernandes wrapped up the scoring a minute from time to provide Erik ten Hag's men with a healthy advantage for the return at Old Trafford in seven days' time as United look to end a trophy drought stretching back to 2017.

Rashford's goal took his tally to 10 in as many games since he returned from the World Cup, underlining his status as one of England's form players at present.

It was his fifth goal in this competition alone, putting him at the head of the leading scorer's list. Weghorst has every reason to be pleased with himself too as he reacted quickest after Wayne Hennessey had saved Antony's low shot and turned home the rebound, while substitutes Facundo Pellistri and Anthony Elanga were both involved as Fernandes drove a low shot past Wayne Hennessey.

Ten Hag punching the air in celebration underlined the significance of that third goal.

Steve Cooper's hosts were adventurous in their approach but they would appear to have little chance of emulating Brian Clough's side by reaching the final, which Forest have not done since 1992.

Little wonder 'Giggs' was trending on social media immediately after Rashford's opener.

There was certainly something familiar about the way Rashford collected Casemiro's pass inside his own half, then ran at the Forest defence from his left-wing station.

Rashford opted not to take his shirt off and twirl it above his head in celebration as Ryan Giggs famously did after his 1999 FA Cup semi-final replay winner against Arsenal at Villa Park, but it was still a fabulous effort.

One moment in particular caught the eye. Racing into the box at top speed, with defenders in close attendance and the ball on his favoured right foot, Rashford ran over it, altering his balance to make it a left-footed strike, which he promptly drilled passed Hennessey at his near post.

It was indicative of his form at the moment. Only Erling Haaland has scored more than his 18 in all competitions so far this season, which puts him in a pretty strong negotiating position over a new contract, given his present deal expires in 18 months' time.

Little wonder Ten Hag took him off with half an hour left. Having stated his ambition to create the

Bielsa in frame to replace Lampard

Marcelo Bielsa has arrived in London for further talks with Everton's hierarchy as they search for a successor to Frank Lampard.

The 67-year-old former Leeds United manager is a favoured choice of Everton owner Farhad Moshiri.

Sean Dyche, who has been out of work since being dismissed by Burnley in April, is the other main contender to take over at Goodison Park.

The Toffees hope to have someone in place by the weekend.

Bielsa is believed to have reservations about the composition of Everton's squad and its ability to play his trademark high-tempo style of football, as well as taking over in mid-season.

But the fact that he has flown to England to discuss the possibility further shows there is still interest on both sides.

Dyche is also in the final round of discussions.

Should Everton get someone in place before the weekend they would have a week to work with the players before they welcome Premier League
