

RIP: Sinéad O'Connor

Controversial Irish singer found dead at her south London home • Death 'not suspicious', say police

Irish singer and activist Sinéad O'Connor has died at the aged of 56.

In a statement, the singer's family said: "It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of our beloved Sinéad.

"Her family and friends are devastated and have requested privacy at this very difficult time."

She was best known for her single Nothing Compares 2 U, released in 1990, which went on to hit number one around the world.

Taoiseach (Irish PM) Leo Varadkar paid tribute to her, saying her music "was loved around the world and her talent was unmatched and beyond compare".

The singer, who was outspoken in her social and political views, brought out 10 studio albums in all.

Her first album The Lion and the Cobra came out in 1987, entering the top 40 in the UK and US. Her follow up I Do Not Want What I Haven't Got, which included Nothing Compares 2 U, was a number one hit.

The Dublin singer's 17-year-old son Shane died last year, days after he was reported missing.

Writing on social media following his death, she said he had "decided to end his earthly struggle" and requested "no-one follows his example".

Converting to Islam in 2018, changing her name to Shuhada', but continued to perform under her birth name.

creative talent

Her rebellious nature was mainly driven by resentment at the abuse she suffered as a child and her experience in a Dublin reformatory.

It was music that rescued her, unleashing a creative talent that made her a worldwide music star - but also a rebel prepared to be controversial and never play the game of being an image-led pop star.

With her elfin features and skinhead look she was one of pop music's most recognisable figures.

Sinéad Marie Bernadette O'Connor was born on 8 December 1966 in the affluent Glenageary suburb of Dublin.

She was the third of five children of Sean O'Connor and his wife Marie. The couple had married young and their relationship, often stormy, ended when O'Connor was eight.

Her brother, Joseph, once described their mother as deeply unhappy and disturbed and prone to physical and emotional abuse of her children.

But controversy from was never far away. She refused to perform at a concert venue in New Jersey unless it dropped its normal practice of playing the US national anthem before she went on.

The venue reluctantly agreed but it led to a boycott of her songs by a number of US radio stations.

sexual abuse

A month after the release of I'm Not Your Girl, a collection of jazz standards, O'Connor performed a version of Bob Marley's War on NBC's Saturday Night Live, substituting some of the words so it became a protest against child sexual abuse in the Catholic Church.

To the horror of the producers she held up a photo of Pope John Paul II to the camera and tore it in half. NBC received more than 4,000 complaints from viewers and many destroyed copies of her records.

At a subsequent live appearance she was booed so much she couldn't perform. At the end of 1992 she returned to live in Dublin.

O'Connor proved she could still deliver the goods with the release

O'Connor: precocious talent who used music to deal with the demons inside her of her 2014 album I'm Not Bossy, I'm the Boss. She appeared on the cover wearing a wig and figure-hugging black dress while caressing a guitar.

'badly triggered'

But her mental health was still precarious. In November 2015, after recovering from a hysterectomy, she posted a message on Facebook announcing she was in an Irish hotel and contemplating suicide. She was found safe and well and received medical treatment.

She released a memoir, Rememberings, in June 2021 and took part in media interviews to promote it, some of them fraught. The singer said she felt "badly triggered" by an interview on BBC Radio 4's Woman's Hour about her mental health struggles and the media's coverage of it.

More trauma came in January 2022, when her 17-year-old son Shane took his own life. The musician posted a series of concerning tweets in the wake of his death, indicating she was considering suicide and telling followers she had been admitted to hospital.

Sinéad O'Connor was a precocious talent who used music as a means of dealing with the demons inside her. A contradictory figure in many ways, she always refused to toe the establishment line, something that saw her achieve less success than she deserved.

“Kidnapped by the state”

■ Court of Appeal frees Andrew Malkinson after serving 17 years for a rape he did not commit

A man who spent 17 years wrongly locked up for rape has said he was “kidnapped by the state”.

Andrew Malkinson was jailed for life with a minimum term of seven years for the 2003 attack on a woman.

The 57-year-old's conviction was quashed by the Court of Appeal on Tuesday after DNA came to light which linked another potential suspect to the crime in Greater Manchester.

Lord Justice Holroyde said he could “leave the court free and no longer be subject to the conditions of licence”.

Outside the Royal Courts of Justice Mr Malkinson said: “Today

we told this court I was innocent and, finally, they listened. But I have been innocent all along, for each of those 20 years.”

He accused Greater Manchester Police of being “liars” and said he endured a decade-and-a-half nightmare, wondering if he would be killed or would take his own life in prison. He said: “As a minority of one, you are forced to live their false fantasy.”

Mr Malkinson added: “It has taken nearly 20 years to persuade my kidnappers to let me go...

“After every parole hearing I sat before a panel who shook their heads, considering me to be dangerous. All that time the real perpetrator was free.”

His mum Tricia Hose, who is in her mid-70s, said: “My son is no longer a monster. But what has been done to him cannot be undone.

“The damage will be with him for the rest of his life and the woman who got attacked has been denied justice.”

Mr Malkinson's conviction was based solely on identification evidence. The Crown Prosecution Service conceded it was unsafe and said it was “possible” another man will be charged.

Lord Justice Holroyde said “crucial” material not disclosed at the time of his trial “raised important points” and would be considered by the court.

Mr Malkinson was turned down twice by the Criminal Cases Review Commission, which probes possible miscarriages of justice. But after his release in 2020 DNA advances allowed his legal team to cast doubt.

The CCRC's own testing found DNA from the victim's clothes matched another man on the police database.

GMP confirmed in January that a man was held amid new information.

The force's Assistant Chief Constable Sarah Jackson apologised for “such a grave miscarriage of justice”, adding that such cases are “very rare”.

Malkinson accused Greater Manchester Police of being “liars” and said he endured a decade-and-a-half nightmare

Top bank boss quits after being revealed as source of ‘too poor’ Farage press leak

■ NatWest CEO admits ‘serious error of judgment’

NatWest boss Dame Alison Rose has resigned hours after admitting she had made a mistake in speaking about Nigel Farage's relationship with the bank.

She had been heavily criticised for being the source of an inaccurate BBC report about Mr Farage's account at Coutts, which is part of NatWest Group.

The announcement came just hours after NatWest said it had full confidence in her in continuing to lead the bank.

Dame Alison had admitted a “serious error of judgment”.

In a statement released early on Wednesday morning, NatWest Group chairman Sir Howard Davies said: “The board and Alison Rose have agreed, by mutual consent, that she will step down as chief executive of the NatWest Group.

“It is a sad moment.”

In a separate statement, Dame Alison thanked her colleagues “for all that they [had] done”, saying: “I remain immensely proud of the progress the bank has made in supporting people, families and business across the UK, and building the foundations for sustainable growth.”

“The first rule of banking is client confidentiality. She [Dame Alison] clearly broke that.”

NatWest shares fell more than 2.5% after the announcement. Dame Alison was paid £5.25m last year. Whether Dame Alison will get a severance payment will emerge in the banking group's next report on pay.

Chair Sir Howard said hours before Dame Alison resigned that it was in the interest of shareholders and customers that she stayed on as chief executive. It is understood he intends to remain as chair.

Following her resignation, ex UKIP leader Mr Farage told the BBC it had taken a long time for Dame Alison to resign.

“The first rule of banking is client confidentiality. She [Dame Alison] clearly broke that.”

He said that anybody in a more junior position at the bank would have been “out of the door”.

Dame Alison had come under mounting pressure from Downing Street, the chancellor and other senior cabinet ministers to resign, with the BBC told there were “significant concerns” over her conduct.

Spacey weeps as jury acquits him on all charges

'40c could become the norm in UK'

Experts say that extreme heat and temperatures over 40C will become increasingly likely in the UK because of climate change.

The Met Office is preparing to release its State of the UK Climate report for 2022.

Last year saw temperatures over 40C recorded for the first time ever, as well as heat-related deaths and wildfires.

Oli Claydon, from the Met Office, said: "The likelihood of exceeding [40C] is increasing due to human-induced climate change."

Experts warn that Britain is not equipped to cope with extreme weather.

Dr Candice Howarth, of the London School of Economics, said the country "only just managed to respond" to the record temperatures in 2022.

The Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs recently shared a five-year plan to protect against climate change risks.

Environment Secretary Theres Coffey said: "By taking action now... we can protect our... overall resilience in the face of these climate challenges."

Hollywood actor Kevin Spacey wept in court this week as he was cleared of all charges in his sexual assault trial in London.

Jurors at Southwark Crown Court returned not guilty verdicts for nine sexual offence charges relating to four men between 2001 and 2013.

Speaking afterwards, Mr Spacey said he was "grateful" to the jury as he thanked them for their deliberations - which took more than 12 hours.

Outside the court the Oscar winner added he was "humbled".

The US actor was acquitted of seven counts of sexual assault, one count of causing a person to engage in sexual activity without consent and one count of causing a person to engage in penetrative sexual activity without consent.

After the verdict was read, he put his hand on his chest, looked at the jurors and mouthed "thank you" twice before they left the room.

Addressing journalists on the court's steps Mr Spacey said there was "a lot for me to process".

"I would like to say that I am enormously grateful to the jury for having taken the time to examine all of the evidence and all of the facts carefully before they reached their decision," he said.

"I am humbled by the outcome today. I also want to thank the staff inside this courthouse, the security, and all of those who took care of us every single day."

Jurors rejected the prosecution's claims Mr Spacey had "aggressively" grabbed three men by the crotch and had performed a sex act on another man while he was asleep in his flat.

Prosecutors told the jury the star had left the four complainants feeling "small, diminished and worthless".

Mr Spacey, who turned 64 on Wednesday, denied all charges - saying the allegations against him were "weak", "madness" and a "stab in the back".

accusations

Under questioning from Mr Spacey's lawyer, Patrick Gibbs KC, the complainants had all denied either seeking financial gain, attempting to further their career or giving false accounts to the jury. By law all complainants are entitled to life-long anonymity.

The Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) said prosecutors respected the jury's decision.

In a statement, a spokesman said: "The function of the CPS is not to decide whether a person is guilty of a criminal offence, but to make fair, independent and objective assessments about whether it is appropriate to present charges."

The trial lasted nearly four weeks and jurors heard from multiple witnesses - including Mr Spacey himself.

Defence witnesses included Sir Elton John, who appeared by video link from Monaco, as well as Sir Elton's husband, David Furnish.

The Hollywood star won best actor Oscar in 2000 for American Beauty, and best supporting actor in 1995 for The Usual Suspects.

He was also the artistic director at the Old Vic Theatre in London

Mr Spacey described the allegations as "a stab in the back" between 2004 and 2015.

Mr Spacey's career came to a halt in 2017 after a number of accusations of inappropriate behaviour were made against him.

At the time, he had the starring role of Frank Underwood in Netflix political drama House of Cards, a job he lost when the allegations were made public.

He was charged with the offences against three men by the CPS in May 2022, with additional charges from a fourth complainant added in November 2022.

No Yorkshire in sight: Feargal blasts water company's 'ridiculous' advert

Environmental campaigner Feargal Sharkey claimed Yorkshire Water has shown a "casual indifference" to its customers by running a "ridiculous" advert.

The former Undertones frontman, who has gained fame in recent years in the UK as a champion of the environment, spoke out on BBC Breakfast after the Bradford-based company was criticized for running an advert that featured stock footage of the Malvern Hills in Herefordshire, a man driving a car in Ukraine and a bar in Russia.

It was part of the word of mouth campaign, which encourages people in Yorkshire to share tips about saving water.

The company said the "teaser video" on social media which featured stock footage has been taken down and it will be replaced by one which features residents and a small business in Harrogate. Mr Sharkey said the advert shows the company is prepared to treat the "staunchly proud" people of Yorkshire with "casual indifference".

The former rock star has heavily criticised the company and other utility firms in recent years for polluting the country's waterways by discharging sewage.

He said: "I personally think it was a ridiculous thing to do and it calls into question, in my mind, who within the company actually approved it?"

"Who thought the people of Yorkshire – that this ad was supposed to be reaching out to, to

Life term for cop killer

■ Louis De Zoysa smuggled an antique revolver and holster into a police station during his arrest

A man who shot dead a Metropolitan Police custody sergeant after smuggling a gun into a holding cell has been handed a whole life jail sentence.

Louis De Zoysa was convicted of Sergeant Matt Ratana's murder in June - and it is believed he had concealed the antique revolver and holster under his armpit.

Jurors were shown distressing CCTV footage of the 26-year-old gun fanatic using the legally-bought gun to shoot Sgt Ratana.

Northampton Crown Court was told the former tax office data analyst deliberately fired the weapon without warning into the 54-year-old's chest, causing a fatal wound to his heart and lung. He later died in hospital.

De Zoysa was handcuffed at the time, and suffered brain damage after one of the shots fired hit him in the neck.

He had claimed diminished responsibility but was found guilty after a jury decided he pulled the antique weapon's trigger deliberately to fire homemade bullets, and had not suffered an autistic meltdown.

CCTV footage suggests he managed to retrieve the weapon with his right hand about 16 minutes before the shooting - and used a vent at the back of his overcoat to hide the gun

De Zoysa being detained in the back of a police van shortly before the shooting until the attack.

A total of four shots were fired within 20 seconds within a custody block in Croydon, south London, in the early hours of 25 September 2020.

Sgt Ratana had worked in policing for 30 years, and was close to retirement.

Sentencing De Zoysa, Mr Justice Jeremy Johnson told the 26-year-old: "You acted in cold blood. You intended to kill Sergeant Ratana.

"You aimed the gun at his chest at near point-blank range. Even as he fell you re-aimed and fired a second shot at him.

"The aggravating factors outweigh the mitigating factors. There is therefore no justification to depart from the starting point of a whole life order."

De Zoysa showed no obvious reaction as he was told he will spend the rest of his life in prison.

Scottish man admits to burying cyclist he killed while drunk driving

A drink-driver has admitted killing a charity cyclist and burying his body to cover up the crime.

Alexander McKellar, 31, was speeding and had been drinking when he caused Tony Parsons' death.

He and twin brother Robert McKellar admitted trying to defeat the ends of justice by hiding the body in a grave in the Auch Estate near Bridge of Orchy in September 2017.

Mr Parsons' remains were not found until January 2021.

His family said it had been "heartbreaking" to live with so many unanswered questions over the six years since he went missing.

The High Court in Glasgow heard how Alexander McKellar collided with Mr Parsons on the A82 between Bridge of Orchy and Tyndrum on 29 September 2017.

McKellar did not seek medical assistance for the 63-year-old at the roadside.

The damaged car involved in the killing was dumped at the nearby Auch Estate along with the brothers' phones.

They then returned in a truck to where Mr Parsons was still lying.

He was placed into the vehicle along with his bike and other personal belongings.

The brothers went back to the Auch Estate and initially hid Mr Parsons' body in a part of the woods.

He was later taken to another location used for "the purposes of disposing of dead animals".

The brothers then dug a grave and buried Mr Parsons along with his personal possessions.

Prosecutors said the brothers got help trying to repair the car used in the killing, claiming it had been damaged when it hit a deer.

The two men had been due to stand trial accused of Mr Parsons' murder.

But Alexander McKellar pled guilty to the reduced charge of culpable homicide.

His brother had his not guilty plea to murder accepted.

Mr Parsons was last seen in September 2017 outside the Bridge of Orchy Hotel.

He then continued cycling south along the A82 in the direction of Tyndrum, but there were no further sightings.

Extensive searches were carried out in the area, involving local mountain rescue teams, volunteers, Police Scotland dogs and the force's air support unit.

His remains were eventually found in a remote area in January 2021.

The Beano turns 85...with some very special guests

■ Even the King and Queen get into the beloved comic

The Beano, the world's longest-running comic, has marked its 85th anniversary with guest appearances from Adele, Stormzy and Harry Styles.

The commemorative issue, which came out on Wednesday, also includes depictions of King Charles III and Queen Camilla.

The guests were drawn after 3,000 children - aged seven to 14 - were asked in a poll which celebrities they would like to see in cartoon form.

Sir David Attenborough, Lewis Hamilton and Jill Scott all appear too.

Footballer Marcus

Rashford is in there as well after being voted as the most inspirational celebrity, while TV presenting duo Ant and Dec topped the list of famous people that youngsters would invite to their birthday party.

Spider-Man actor Tom Holland and Manchester City player Phil Foden also figured highly on the list of celebrities that they would like to be best friends with.

Since the Beano launched in Dundee in 1938, more than 4,000 issues have been printed featuring around 700 characters, such as Dennis [the Menace] and Gnasher, the Bash Street Kids and Billy Whizz.

"As Beano proudly celebrates its 85th anniversary, it continues to champion the power and joy of childhood by doing what it's always done, showing kids being kids," said Mike Stirling, head of "mischief" at the publication.

"Here's to the next 85 years, and we dedicate this birthday issue to every child out there, because being a kid never gets old."

Speaking to BBC Radio Scotland, Stirling cheekily suggested that Sir Mick Jagger, who like the Beano also celebrates a big birthday this week - 80 - must be a reader of the publication as his band the Rolling Stones and no money went to external shareholders.

Yorkshire Water is part of Kelda Group, which is run by Kelda Holdings Limited. Shareholders in the Jersey-based parent company include Singapore's sovereign wealth fund GIC and Australia's SAS Trustee Corporation.

Earlier this month, the finances of England's debt-laden water companies were put under the spotlight when concerns were raised about the future of Thames Water, as it has been struggling to service a £14bn debt pile.

Earlier this week, Chief Executive Nicola Shaw said the company is investing £500m in infrastructure to reduce sewage discharges, improve drinking water quality and maintain reservoir levels.

The company recorded a statutory profit of £544m in 2022/23, after a loss of £368.6m in the previous year.

Its annual report said £62.3m in dividends were paid to other companies in the Kelda Group, to help cover interest payments on loans taken out on behalf of Yorkshire Water, build that bridge of trust and begin re-engaging with customers again - should feature places like bars in Russia and national landmarks in Herefordshire?"

Mr Sharkey highlighted Environment Agency figures which show there were more than 160,000 spills in the region's waters between 2016 and 2021, with sewage pumped into the water for more than a million hours.

"I get to speak to a wider group of kids every week when we're working on the Beano and that makes you feel young and it keeps you young," he added.

For its star-studded birthday edition, Beano artist Nigel Parkinson has depicted celebrities assisting the Beantown kids in stopping Mayor Brown from carving his own face into Mount Beano.

Queen Camilla is seen informing the King that it is in fact the children, not him, that rule in the fictional town.

The Prince and Princess of Wales also appear in the new comic strip, alongside other music stars such as Dua Lipa, Lewis Capaldi and Kate Bush - who enjoyed a chart resurgence due to one of her tracks being used in a key episode of Stranger Things - as well as social media influencer KSI.

"Dennis is still the same 10-year-old kid that he was in the 1950s but he's got different references," noted Stirling.

An eight-page pull-out, entitled Beanow, has also been created inside consisting of children's comments and pictures that best sum up the best things about being a child today - like dancing, rapping and catapults.

To mark the anniversary, 2,023 issues of the special edition Beano - which first went out to subscribers at the weekend - will be given out to classrooms across the country through the Beano for Schools programme this week, while prizes can also be won on its website.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF DAVID W. PASCHEN aka DAVID PASCHEN

Case No. 23STPB07121
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of DAVID W. PASCHEN aka DAVID PASCHEN

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Dorothy J. Nowack in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Dorothy J. Nowack be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the amended petition will be held on August 10, 2023 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 79 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. One for the DA's trophy cabinet? the Spurs owner faces trial in New York

British billionaire Joe Lewis indicted on insider trading charges

UK billionaire Joe Lewis, whose family trust owns Tottenham Hotspur football club, has pleaded not guilty to insider trading charges in a Manhattan court.

He was granted $300m (£230m) bail. New York prosecutors allege he hatched a "brazen" scheme that enriched his friends.

He allegedly supplied confidential information that allowed them to profit from buying or selling related stocks.

The court granted two co-accused, Mr Lewis' pilots, bail of $250,000.

His lawyer David Zornow earlier said charging the tycoon was an "egregious error".

He added that the charges would be "defended vigorously in court", and that the 86-year-old had come to the US voluntarily to defend himself against the "ill-conceived charges".

He usually resides in the Bahamas, but surrendered on Wednesday to federal authorities in the US.

In a statement, a Tottenham Hotspur spokesperson said the charges facing Mr Lewis had no bearing on the club: "This is a legal matter unconnected with the club and as such we have no comment."

It's been noted that last October the club made a filing to Companies House confirming that Lewis was - the club said - "no longer a person with significant control at the club".

Mr Lewis was charged with 16 counts of security fraud, and three counts of conspiracy for crimes alleged to have taken place between 2013 to 2021, according to the 29-page indictment.

Allegations against Mr Lewis were laid out in a video statement posted to the US State Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York.

"We allege that, for years, Joe Lewis abused his access to corporate board rooms and repeatedly provided inside information to his romantic partners, his personal assistants, his private pilots, and his friends," US attorney Damian Williams said in the video.

The indictment quoted one pilot texting a friend that "Boss lent Marty and I $500,000 each for this," and that he thought "the Boss has inside info" because "otherwise why would he make us invest".

It listed several occasions on which Mr Lewis allegedly told his pilots to sell or invest in shares on the stock exchange, after he received confidential information.

The indictment also alleges that Mr Lewis told a girlfriend to invest in a biotech company in July 2019, before the results of its clinical trial were made public.

Cheeky Woody rolls back the years as Mick turns 80

ROLLING Stone Sir Mick Jagger is 80 – and what better way to celebrate than with this Jumpin Jack Flashback?

Bandmate Ronnie Wood shared the cheeky photo of the pair wearing Sean Lennon, Chic guitarist Nile Rodgers and Boomtown Rat Sir Bob Geldof, queued up to send birthday wishes.

And crime writer Sir Ian Rankin referenced the Stones' hit You Can't Always Get What You Want, saying: "Present-wise, hope he gets what he wants..."

Sir Mick responded: "Thanks so much for all your lovely comments and birthday wishes."

During his 61 years with the Stones, the dad-of-seven has earned a reputation as a bit of a hellraiser. But this week he saw in his new decade by enjoying a quiet family meal. The cricket fan is also expected at The Oval this weekend for the climax of The Ashes.

Quizenheimer are da bomb!

Quizenheimer are the latest Brits in LA Pub Quiz champions having won the garden gnome trophy at a packed O'Brien's in Santa Monica.

Among the teams running them close were The Three Amigos who had to settle for the consolation prize of a potato.

Join the trivia fun next Tuesday, August 1, when quizmaster Sandro Monetti will be back with more brainteasing questions.

Stargazing with Annie Shaw

ARIES: Now is a good time now to set your financial goals for the rest of the year while Mars your boss is in your financial area. At the same time set a red flag for a possible temper outburst which will end up costing you dearly.

TAURUS: You are likely feeling confused about any decision pending currently. This is not to be taken lightly or in haste, so consider it well before you decide.

GEMINI: If possible do not make any major schedule changes this week ahead. It will be better by early next month. Enjoy your current down time.

CANCER: You have some skills that you can use to help others. So with that in mind it might be time to reach out to help someone.

LEO: You are starting to feel more positive and ready to move forward in your life. However take your time as mid-August is better for action all round. Happy Birthday!

VIRGO: This week or so ahead you can expect delays in some areas. This is due to fiery Mars holding things up, but it is probably for the best overall.

LIBRA: You are nearer to completing some projects than you think. So with this in mind start preparing for the next one on your list. Mid-month ahead is looking good.

SCORPIO: Life is looking more positive and you can come to terms now with recent financial changes. Live more in the moment and expect better days by the middle of next month.

SAGITTARIUS: Your boss Jupiter is currently strolling backwards until mid-September..meaning it is best to not try too hard to make changes until then.

CAPRICORN: Your boss Saturn is in your money house for a while and this is good news for a while. Time now to hold on to your purse strings until later in August.

AQUARIUS: Whatever does not sit well with you in life is time to change. It's a good time to catch up on everyday tasks now and enjoy the current time relaxing.

PISCES: Lucky Jupiter is on his way to visit you by late Autumn. This is a time of change to start preparing to complete something long overdue.

USING HIS HEAD: Trevor Francis scored the only goal in the 1979 European Cup final

Tributes flow for Trevor Francis: “a wonderful gentleman” and British football’s first £1m transfer

FORMER England star Trevor Francis – Britain’s first £1million footballer – has died after suffering a heart attack, aged 69.

The Nottingham Forest and Birmingham City striker, who was also a successful manager and TV pundit, was staying in Spain where he spent half the year.

His family said he fell ill Sunday morning at his apartment near Malaga.

A statement released on their behalf said: “This has come as a huge shock. We are all very upset.

Tributes poured in for the father of two and two-time European Cup winner who won 52 England caps, scoring 12 goals –including two at the 1982 World Cup.

Forest, with whom he hit the heights of club football after a record-breaking move, said they were “deeply saddened” to learn of his passing and described their hero as a “true Forest legend who will never be forgotten”.

Birmingham tweeted: “Trevor will forever be revered as a giant of the club, the player everyone wanted to see.”

Match of the Day presenter Gary Lineker described Francis, who also played for Manchester City, Rangers, Sampdoria, Queens Park Rangers and Sheffield Wednesday, as a “wonderful footballer and a lovely man”.

Former England and Rangers team-mate Terry Butcher believes Francis’s playing style would have fitted in with the modern game. He said: “He was sophisticated, elegant – modern football would have suited him.

“He was just class, he really was.

“He was smooth, he was silky, scored some great goals, a phenomenal player and a very, very nice guy, as everybody says.”

After making his first team debut at just 16 for Birmingham City, Francis scored 133 goals in 328 appearances in nine years at the club.

That success attracted the interest of Forest, who rocked the football world with a £1million offer in February 1979. The transfer was double the previous record UK sum and created headlines across the globe.

. And just three months later it paid off as Francis, then aged 24, headed the winning goal in the European Cup final against Malmo in Munich.

Aussies are the raining Ashes champs

ENGLAND'S hopes of winning back the Ashes were washed away at a soggy Old Trafford at the weekend.

After swashbuckling performances and on-field drama, repeated downpours blew away all chance of a series victory on Saturday and Sunday.

The fourth men's cricket Test was abandoned at tea time without a ball being bowled on the final day, leaving the Ashes in Australia's hands.

With England now 2-1 down, the best they can achieve is to draw the five-Test series by winning the final match, which started at the Oval on Thursday.

England fans packed the Manchester ground Sunday morning, hoping to witness history after Ben Stokes' team put themselves into a winning position.

But the stands turned into a sea of umbrellas and ponchos as the rain fell.

Hopes were raised at one point as it eased off and ground staff removed the covers from the pitch. The umpires held an inspection and play was due to begin at lunchtime – but yet another downpour put paid to that.

England's players headed out for a warm-up and even kicked a football around despite the drizzle to try to boost the morale of the spectators, but conditions became bleaker as the day wore on.

With the rain lashing down into the late afternoon, fans began heading to the exits.

Seagulls rebuff latest Caicedo bid

Brighton have rejected a further bid from Chelsea, believed to be about £80m, for midfielder Moises Caicedo.

Caicedo, 21, is with Roberto de Zerbi's squad in New Jersey, where they are set to play Newcastle on Friday.

Brighton are understood to have rejected the revised offer instantly, and are said to be committed to keeping the Ecuador international.

Caicedo is one of Chelsea's long-term transfer targets and two bids have been previously rejected.

However, Brighton adopted a similarly hardline approach with Chelsea last year and relented when the bidding rose above £60m for defender Marc Cucurella.

Brighton boss De Zerbi last week said he was planning to have Caicedo in his squad for next season.

The player was a key component in the side who finished sixth in the Premier League last season, securing a Europa League group-stage spot.

Owners want Toon to be No. 1, says Howe

EDDIE Howe has had his high-pressure mission spelled out by Newcastle's Saudi owners who want the Toon to "be No.1."

Newcastle chairman Yasir Al-Rumayyan has piled expectation on the head coach by insisting the club must have the mindset to win the Premier League.

In footage to be shown on Prime Video's new documentary 'We are Newcastle United', released on August 11, the Saudi Public Investment Fund chief sends a warning to top-four rivals Manchester City, Manchester United, Arsenal and Chelsea.

Al-Rumayyan, above, said: "To be No.1, that's the ambition. It is a mindset. It is how strong you are."

And co-owner Amanda Staveley added: "There is pressure on everyone to deliver."

Prime Video had season-long access behind the scenes at Newcastle following the revival of the Toon, from relegation candidates when Mike Ashley sold up, to their fourth-placed finish last season in just 20 months.

Newcastle have spent £340million rebuilding their squad, with Sandro Tonali and Harvey Barnes their £93m summer spending so far.

But chief executive Darren Eales has revealed that playing in the Champions League will add "£45m to the bottom line" this season at least.

It will be the first time they are in the group stages of Europe's elite club competition since 2002-03.

In the documentary, Howe is filmed giving rousing dressing room speeches ahead of a 2-0 win over Manchester United in April, saying: "They want a quick game let's f*****g give it to 'em. Let's blow them away with our running. Be intense in every action we do. Let's go."

•HARRY KANE has been praised by teammate Heung-Min Son for refusing to put himself first despite the intense speculation surrounding his future.

It emerged over the weekend that Tottenham owner Joe Lewis has told chairman Daniel Levy to sell the England captain this summer if he cannot persuade him to commit to a new £400,000-a-week contract.

Lewis is not prepared to allow such a prized asset to walk away for nothing when his current deal expires in 12 months' time.

Bayern Munich have had two bids rejected and are expected to come back in with a third before the end of the month.

Lewis' stance also appears to have reawakened Manchester United's interest, where Kane could continue to pursue Alan Shearer's Premier League goalscoring record, which he trails by 47.

Kane, who turned 30 on Friday, is currently captaining the side on their Asian tour with usual skipper Hugo Lloris left in England to focus on finding a new club after head coach Ange Postecoglou made it clear he was not part of his plans.

Arteta helps me see football in a new light - Rice

DECLAN RICE claims he has taken to life at Arsenal 'like a duck to water', and says Gunners manager Mikel Arteta has helped him see football in a whole new light.

As the England midfielder promised to take his £105million fee calmly in his stride, he raved about Arteta's regime.

Rice, 24, bowed out of West Ham as a hero with a Hollywood ending in the Europa Conference League final last month and this week was with his new club in Pasadena as part of their pre-season American tour. It has taken him barely a fortnight to realise the difference between blowing bubbles and Arsenal's plan to go hell-for-lather as they chase a first title since 2004.

The price tag will not bother Rice – because he didn't set it.

"I can't control what I've been bought for," he said on the Gunners' pre-season tour of the United States.

"That's obviously determined by how well

I've played consistently over the last couple of years and what West Ham obviously set the price at.

"I've not really thought about the price tag once. I've been brought to Arsenal for a reason – to perform, to play football, to try and add to the squad, to try and win trophies. Over the six years [of the contract], hopefully I can repay that price tag."

Arsenal was always Rice's first choice when it became clear he would be leaving the Hammers and Arteta could offer him Champions League football.

But he has been taken aback by the attention to detail shown by Arteta. "I'm already seeing football in a completely different way," said Rice.

"You think you know football growing up and when you play, but when you meet managers like Mikel, you realise you don't really know anything about football."

"From the first moment that I walked through the training ground doors, it was not only the manager but all of the staff – their mindset is just about winning.

"And I think Mikel, that's exactly how he is. As well as a football coach, psychologically he's amazing and he really makes you want to play for him, which is a massive reason why I've come."

Arteta has told Rice not to change his baseline approach on the pitch, where he was outstanding as West Ham's midfield anchorman.

HARRY PLOTTERS!

Bayern despatch top duo to London as Kane transfer edges closer to completion

BAYERN MUNICH are cranking up their bid to sign Harry Kane after tasking their two big transfer hitters to get the deal done.

While Thomas Tuchel's Bundesliga champions flew out to Japan to face Treble-winning Manchester City in a pre-season friendly, chief executive Jan-Christian Dreesen and technical director Marco Neppe have stayed behind in Germany to broker Kane's £100million departure from Tottenham.

Bayern believe they now have a free run at England's record goalscorer after Manchester United dropped out of the running – and are ready to shatter their transfer record to make it happen after having two bids knocked back.

Tuchel refused to comment on Bayern's efforts to land Kane and City full-back Kyle Walker.

But when asked why Dreesen and Neppe had missed the trip to the Far East, he said: "They are doing something it is necessary to do in Europe to support us."

A meeting between Daniel Levy and the Bayern pair is understood to be pencilled in for Friday, with the Spurs chairman under orders from owner Joe Lewis to sell Kane if he refuses to extend his deal, which expires next summer.

Bayern president Herbert Hainer said: "Harry Kane is a highly attractive player, England captain and top scorer. He would do

...and Pep vows to fight off Bayern bid for 'irreplaceable' Kyle Walker

Kyle Walker has fuelled fears he may leave Manchester City for Bayern Munich this summer after refusing to respond to questions from a reporter about the German club.

Walker captained City against the German outfit in as friendly Wednesday – despite growing media speculation that he could move to the Bundesliga champions. Pep Guardiola called Walker 'irreplaceable' before the game and vowed to fight to keep him while admitting that he didn't know if his right-back would stay.

Walking through the mixed zone after the match, the right-back stopped to sign a shirt for a supporter whilst a German reporter repeatedly asked if he was joining Bayern. Walker simply ignored the repeated questions and walked through the area after signing the City fan's shirt.

Thomas Tuchel also refused to address the issue, and would only say that his club have identified their targets for next season.

"Kyle is incredibly important for us...." - Pep Guardiola

"The focus is very clear," he told reporters in Tokyo. "We focus on the team. We focus on the players that are contracted to Bayern Munich and they deserve our full support, our full attention, and appreciation.

Guardiola had earlier spoken glowingly of the player, saying: "Kyle is incredibly important for us. He has specific qualities that are so difficult to find.

"I don't know what's going to happen. Both clubs are in touch but we will fight for him.

"Kyle is still our player. We need to play against Bayern with our best players and we hope he'll stay with us for the whole season. Why shouldn't he play?"
