Harry: baring his soul and dropping F-bombs

■ Prince raises more eyebrows with latest Netflix release

Prince Harry's latest Netflix documentary, Heart of Invictus, has finally dropped and features a series of explosive moments including a major dig at the Royal Family.

The show's title comes from the athletics competition Harry set up in 2014 for injured and sick military personnel and veterans.

The show forms part of the Sussexes' multimillion-pound deal with Netflix - with their main output so far having been last year's controversial Harry & Meghan documentary. And even though this series focuses more on the competitors and their stories rather than the duke and duchess, there are still many explosive moments.

One of the biggest talking points from the five-part series comes in the second episode when Invictus competitors are asked about the mental toll of going to war - and Harry is asked about how it affected him.

And in what appears to be a dig at his royal relatives, he says he "didn't have that support structure, that network or that expert advice to identify actually what was going on with me," after admitting he was angry when he returned from a tour of duty.

He added: "The biggest struggle for me is no-one around me could really help, I didn't have that support structure, that network or that expert advice to identify what was actually going on with me. Unfortunately, like most of us the first time you really consider therapy is when you are lying on the floor in the fetal position probably wishing you had dealt with some of this stuff previously and that's what I really want to change."

'trigger for me'

Meanwhile, in the same segment of the series, Harry admits that when he returned from the war in Afghanistan, it triggered the unresolved trauma of losing his mother Princess Diana, when he was just 12.

He says: "Look, I can only speak for my personal experience, my tour of Afghanistan in 2012 flying Apaches, somewhere after that there was an unravelling and the trigger for me was actually returning from Afghanistan.

"But the stuff that was coming up was from 1997, from the age of 12, losing my mum at such a young age, the trauma that I had I was never really aware of, it was never discussed, I didn't really talk about it - and I suppressed it like most youngsters would have done but when it all came fizzing out. I was bouncing off the walls, I was like, 'what is going on here? I am now feeling everything as opposed to being numb.'"

The series documents the preparations that go into the Games by both organisers and athletes alike and in the third episode, Harry can be seen on a video call with the UK Invictus team - where he made what some commentators have deemed a veiled complaint about military uniform.

Harry appears in all five episodes ©InvictusGamesDE/Twitter

Encouraging them ahead of the competition last year, he tells them: "You did it every day, wearing uniform and for one reason or another that uniform had to be hung up. That service that runs in your blood, our blood, never leaves the body. It is there."

'heartbroken'

The comment comes after Harry was banned from wearing military uniform when he and Meghan Markle quit their royal roles and Harry was forced to give up his military affiliations. At King Charles' Coronation earlier this year, he wore a morning suit. He also wore a suit for his beloved grandmother the late Queen's funeral last year - despite calls for him to be allowed to wear military dress. However, one exception was made when Harry wore uniform during a vigil around his grandmother's coffin in Westminster Hall.

However, it was later claimed Harry was "devastated" at having to remove the 'ER' symbol from the uniform even though Prince William was allowed to keep his. After the initials were not removed from William, a pal told The Sunday Times: "He [Harry] is heartbroken. To remove his grandmother's initials feels very intentional." Reports suggested Harry nearly decided to wear the morning suit anyway to avoid "humiliation".

same call, Harry appeared to shock some the UK team as he dropped the F-bomb while offering his advice to those taking part. Many laughed out loud when the duke started swearing during the morale-boosting chat.

He said: "So when you're out there kicking a**, trying to win a medal, or just having fun, making your family incredibly proud, when you feel that feeling in your throat and you feel like you might want to cry, then just f***ing cry. I mean that."

Meghan Markle only makes fleeting appearances in the documentary - but in one behind-the-scenes moment, she can be seen attempting to soothe Harry's nerves ahead of a glitzy event.

Prince Andrew welcomed back into the royal fold

■ Duke of York joins family at Balmoral gathering

PRINCE Andrew was welcomed back into the fold as he arrived at Balmoral on Sunday, driven by his nephew Prince William.

The Royal Family gathered for a church service as they enjoyed their first summer break at the estate since the Queen spent her final days there before her death a year ago.

King Charles and Queen Camilla welcomed William and Kate – sitting in the back as her husband drove – Prince Edward and Sophie, and outcast Andrew.

Prince Andrew was stripped of the majority of his titles and stepped back from royal duties due to the scandal over his friendship with the late American financier Jeffrey Epstein, who was convicted of sex crimes.

It led to a cooling of relations with Charles, but he was seen with the family as they gathered at the Queen's beloved Scottish retreat where she would spend her annual summer break. Balmoral Castle, near the village of Crathie, in Aberdeenshire, was where the Queen died on September 8.

All the senior working royals went to a local church for a traditional morning service.

The Duke and Duchess of Edinburgh accompanied the Princess Royal and Vice Admiral Sir Tim Laurence.

King Charles and Queen Camilla are known to prefer to stay at Birkhall, their private home on the estate. It is where Charles proposed to Camilla over the New

Prince William drives to Craithe Kirk near Balmoral Castle on Sunday with Kate Middleton and Prince Andrew

Year in 2004 and where they honeymooned in 2005.

But Charles has decided to honour his late mother and stay at the Scottish residence for three weeks to be there on the anniversary of his mother's death.

Andrew and his ex-wife Sarah, the Duchess of York, are staying at seven-bed Craigowan Lodge on the estate.

Sarah is currently recovering from surgery for breast cancer.

Typical British diet 'massive cause of heart attacks and strokes'

■ Artificial additives in items such as bread, soup, yoghurt and cereal creating a ticking time bomb for UK population

THE typical British diet is a massive cause of heart attacks and strokes, damning research has revealed.

Scientists have conducted a review of the impact of artificial additives in items such as bread, soup, yoghurt and cereal, considered to be ultra-processed foods.

These staple meals and snacks were found to be creating a ticking timebomb. Eating them makes people 24% more likely to suffer a heart attack or stroke.

Ultra-processed foods make up 60% of the average UK diet, it was said.

It has led a former government food expert to call for a return to home-cooked meals.

Henry Dimbleby, co-founder of healthy food chain Leon, said: "This should be a wake-up call. If there is something inherent in the processing of foods that is harmful, then that is a disaster. There needs to be much more research to find out why these foods are killing us. Once you know what the mechanism is for the harm, then you can regulate for it."

Most supermarket bread is a ultra-processed as well as shop-bought sandwiches, wraps, crisps, cheap ice creams, ham, sausages and ready meals.

Mr Dimbleby was commissioned by the Tories to conduct an independent review of the food system.

However, he resigned from his government role in March after he said ministers refused to enact his recommendations to expand free school meals, impose a salt and sugar tax and introduce GP prescriptions for fruit and veg.

He added: "Britain is particularly bad for ultra-processed food.

"It is storing up problems for the future. If we do nothing, a tidal wave of harm is going to hit the NHS.

EAT NOW, PAY LATER: Britons are second only to Americans in their consumption of processed foods

"At the same time, all these people are out of work as a result of diet-related illness. So we will end up with a sick and impoverished country.

"We need a shift in our cooking habits to eat more food cooked from scratch, with more vegetables and fibre. It requires a huge cultural shift.

"Diet-related illness is the biggest drag on our economy with people out of work."

The findings came in a review of 10 studies involving 325,000 people presented at the European Society of Cardiology congress in Amsterdam.

It was revealed that Britons consume a greater proportion of ultra-processed foods than any nation in the world, apart from the US. For one in five, they make up 80% of what they eat. However, most have no idea what this food category includes.

These foods have gone through multiple manufacturing processes and are often high in salt and sugar. Often the foods are low in fibre and lack the nutrients present in fresh and minimally processed foods, like fresh fruit and vegetables.

Sir Elton briefly hospitalized after fall at French Riviera home

■ Rock legend undergoes brain and lumbar scans after being injured 'in a slip' at his Nice mansion

SIR Elton John has undergone brain and lumbar scans after being injured in a "slip" at his French Riviera villa.

The 76-year-old rock legend was treated in hospital overnight following the accident at the Nice house.

Neither of the Sunday evening scans at the Princess Grace hospital revealed any long-term damage and Sir Elton returned home the following day.

A source in Nice said: "He had a small domestic accident at his villa in Mont Boron.

"He was hospitalised in the orthopaedic department of the Princess Grace Hospital but was only slightly injured. He had a brain scan and a lumbar scan, which revealed no fractures."

A spokesman for Sir Elton confirmed that he was discharged Monday morning and had returned home in "good health".

In a statement, he said: "We can confirm that following a slip [on Sunday] at his home in the South of France, Elton visited the local hospital as a precautionary measure."

The spokesman added: "Following check-ups, he was immediately discharged this morning and is now back at home and in good health."

The I'm Still Standing hitmaker has been spending the summer in France with his husband David Furnish and their two sons.

Sir Elton's gruelling five-year, 330-date Farewell Yellow Brick Road tour finished last month.

He was most recently seen in public enjoying a relaxing day on his superyacht with A-list friends off St Tropez last week.

Sir Elton was also spotted having dinner with Kevin Spacey, 64, at La Petite Maison restaurant in Nice earlier this month. It came after the US actor and director was cleared of sex attacks on four men.

Sir Elton has said frequently that he is determined to stay healthy for the sake of his young family. On his 75th birthday, he wrote a letter to his sons that was published in Time magazine where he called them his "proudest achievements".

His message included: "Zachary and Elijah, you two are the greatest gifts I have ever been given.

"You have filled my heart with love and my life with purpose and meaning in ways I didn't think were possible."

He added: "You are my proudest achievements, and I love you both so, so much..."

"Whoever you grow up to be, just be you - fully and completely you."

Live worm found in British woman's brain

A 64-year-old English woman who was experiencing forgetfulness and depression has had an 8cm-long parasitic roundworm removed from her brain.

The woman, who was living in New South Wales, Australia, was admitted to hospital in January 2021 after three weeks of abdominal pain and diarrhoea, followed by a dry cough and night sweats.

By 2022, her symptoms had evolved to include forgetfulness and depression, prompting medical professionals to refer her to Canberra hospital.

An MRI scan of her

Australian surgeon Dr Hari Priya Bandi describes her shock at finding the live worm in patient's brain brain revealed that a motile helminth - a parasitic roundworm - was living in the right frontal lobe lesion of her brain.

Surgical intervention became the only option, and doctors successfully removed the roundworm, which measured 8cm (80mm) in length and 1mm in diameter.

The neurosurgeon behind the surgery, Dr Hari Priya Bandi, described the case as a "mystery" when it was first presented to her team.

After the scan was performed, Dr Bandi explained how a "distinct abnormality" was present in her brain which was rapidly changing over time.

She added: "It was certainly different to textbooks of parasites in the brain and no one had seen anything similar to this case."

"It was moving!" During the surgery, Dr Bandi used forceps to lift the unknown entity from the brain and said: "To my shock there was a linear wiggling red line... We could see it was moving!"

used to at all when we do such planned surgery... but [it was] an answer to this woman who had been suffering for so long."

The woman was "pleased" to receive an explanation for her symptoms, according to the neurosurgeon who added that treatments were available despite the rarity of the case.

The worm was taken to the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation (CSIRO) in Canberra where it was "still rapidly moving... and in three days' time it was still wiggling quite happily".

It was then "sliced for genetic typing".

Identified as a third-stage larva of the Ophidascaris robertsi nematode species, the case is unprecedented in medical history, and has been documented in the journal of Emerging Infectious Diseases.

Typically, this parasitic worm lives in the digestive tracts of carpet pythons indigenous to the Australian state of New South Wales.

Medical professionals suspect the woman inadvertently ingested the worm's eggs by eating edible grasses that were tainted with snake faeces, however, the actual cause cannot be confirmed.

After the eggs hatched within her body, medics believe the larvae embarked on a journey to her brain. This could have been influenced by the medication she was taking, which compromised her immune system.

"We hypothesised that she inadvertently consumed eggs either directly from the vegetation or indirectly by contamination of her hands or kitchen equipment," the medics said.

London motorists see red as emission charges spread to entire capital

■ £12.50 daily charge introduced for some vehicles as London becomes largest pollution charging area

LONDON HAS BECOME the world's largest pollution charging area after the ultra-low emission zone (Ulez) was expanded to include the whole of the capital.

People who drive in the zone in a vehicle which does not meet minimum emissions standards are now required to pay a £12.50 daily fee or risk a £180 fine, reduced to £90 if paid within 14 days.

London mayor Sadiq Khan has faced strong opposition to the scheme, although a £160 million scheme run by Transport for London (TfL) enables residents, small businesses, sole traders and charities scrapping non-compliant cars to claim grants.

There have been regular protests against the plan and anti-Ulez vigilantes have repeatedly targeted enforcement cameras installed in the new areas in recent months.

Videos have been posted online showing people described as Blade Runners cutting the cameras' wires or completely removing the devices.

The Metropolitan Police said it had recorded 288 crimes relating to the cameras as of 1 August.

Ulez expansion has become a political issue, being blamed for Labour's failure to win last month's Uxbridge and South Ruislip parliamentary by-election.

In an interview with the PA news agency, the Labour mayor said: "The vast majority of Londoners want to see clean air and I recognise there are some Londoners with genuine concerns.

"My job is to try and address those concerns and I have been doing that."

Khan said he was "disappointed" at the lack of government support for the policy and its accompanying scrappage scheme.

He expressed frustration that the scrappage programme has no government

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT: London drivers protesting this week funding, unlike those run in several other English cities.

He said: "It was this government that gave financial support to cities like Bristol, Birmingham and Portsmouth towards their clean air zones.

"If clean air is right for them then why isn't clean air right for London?"

To comply with Ulez standards, petrol cars must generally have been first registered after 2005, while most diesel cars registered after September 2015 are also exempt from the charge.

TfL says nine out of 10 cars seen driving in outer London on an average day are compliant.

Separate figures obtained by the RAC show more than 690,000 licensed cars in the whole of London are likely to be non-compliant.

Spy center worker admits trying to murder American colleague

A GCHQ worker has admitted trying to murder an American colleague because she worked at the spy agency.

Joshua Bowles, 29, punched and stabbed the woman, a US government employee, at a leisure centre some three miles from the UK intelligence agency's Cheltenham base on the evening of 9 March.

Bowles, of Welwyn Mews, Cheltenham, appeared at the Old Bailey on Wednesday, where he pleaded guilty to attempted murder and assault occasioning actual bodily harm after punching a man, Alex Fuentes, who confronted the attacker in the car park.

Bowles was charged following an investigation by counter-terror police and prosecutors said there was a terrorist connection because he targeted the woman, referred to in charges only by the code number "99230", over her work.

He was armed with two knives when he launched the attack at about 9.15pm as she left the leisure centre, in Tommy Taylors Lane, with a friend.

The victim suffered multiple stab injuries, including a wound to her abdomen that pierced her liver, and was taken to hospital, where she needed emergency surgery and spent time in the intensive care unit.

Following the hearing on Wednesday, Nick Price, head of the Crown Prosecution Service's Special Crime and Counter Terrorism Division, said: "This extremely violent attack against two innocent people was completely unprovoked.

"It is right that those who

commit violent crimes like this should be prosecuted to the full extent of the law to protect the public, and our thoughts continue to be with the victims and their families."

Prosecutor Kathryn Selby told an earlier hearing it was a "planned attack" and said: Bowles had "selected the victim because he believed she works at GCHQ and holds a view on the work he believes they conduct".

The judge, Mrs Justice Cheema-Grubb, remanded Bowles in custody ahead of sentencing before the end of October.

Totem pole begins 'rematriation' from Edinburgh to Nisga'a nation in Canada

■ Indigenous group requested return of House of Ni'isjoohl memorial pole from National Museum of Scotland

A towering, hand-carved totem pole is being 'rematriated' from Scotland to an indigenous tribe in Canada this week in what the National Museum of Scotland curator, John Giblin, has described as "a wonderful occasion"

The 37ft object was transported in a military aircraft from its current home in Edinburgh to what is, everyone involved agrees, its true home in Canada.

Scottish officials joined with tribal elders from the House of Ni'isjoohl who conducted a spiritual ceremony to begin the pole's complicated 4,200-mile journey.

"It was very emotional," said Dr Amy Parent, of Simon Fraser University in British Columbia, who has led moves to return what she regards as a stolen object. "As soon as we go near the pole we can feel this energy. We know that we will soon have our hearts at peace."

The House of Ni'isjoohl memorial pole is being returned to the Nass Valley in what is now British Columbia following a request from the Nisga'a nation, one of the Indigenous groups who were the original inhabitants of Canada.

The return of the pole has been agreed in less than a year and signed off by the Scottish government. It puts pressure on other museums and other governments to also return objects of significant cultural importance.

"We very much want to inspire other Indigenous nations that the impossible is possible," said Parent.

In Edinburgh on Monday, the bigger picture was for another day as the ceremony took place to prepare the artefact that the Nisga'a consider to have a living presence.

"In Nisga'a culture, we believe that this pole is alive with the spirit of our ancestors," said Chief Earl Stephens, who was part of the delegation in Edinburgh.

The Nisga'a delegation at the National Museum of Scotland beside the departing pole

The pole dates from 1860 and honours a warrior called Ts'awit who was in line to be chief before being killed in a conflict.

According to the museum's records, it was purchased from its Nisga'a owners in 1929 by Marius Barbeau, an ethnographer and curator at the National Museum of Canada. Barbeau was buying on behalf of the Royal Museum of Scotland, which later became the National Museum of Scotland.

The Nisga'a argue it was stolen and Giblin, the museum's keeper of global arts, cultures and design, acknowledged it was bought from someone who did not have the cultural authority to sell it.

"It is questionable whether anybody would have the right to pass on something as important as a memorial pole," he said.

The pole, carved from a red cedar tree, has been on permanent display in the museum for 94 years and has only moved three times.

Giblin acknowledged this meant it would be "really missed, but we recognise that we've had the benefit of its presence for the last 90 years or more. The Nisga'a nation have not had that benefit, so we are also really pleased to be returning the pole to a place where its spiritual, cultural and historical significance is most keenly felt."

Cliff puts pal Olivia on album

Sir Cliff Richard has told of his "emotional" trip back in time to work on a new version of his duet with late friend Olivia Newton-John.

The singer, 82, says the track Suddenly, from 1980 movie Xanadu, is included on Cliff With Strings – My Kinda Life, out on November 3.

He said: "We recorded this version live for my 75th birthday in 2015, it always strikes me how well our voices sound together and the crystal gentility Olivia always managed to exude."

While the pair were "never an item", Cliff has said the Grease star – who died last August at 73 of cancer – felt like a "soulmate" of his.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO #### ADMINISTER ESTATE OF GREGORIO GUILLERMO STIUSO

Case No. 23STPB08389

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of GREGORIO GUILLERMO STIUSO A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Victorio Stiuso in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Victorio Stiuso be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Sept. 7, 2023 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 4 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (844) 477-7869 or visit this Internet Web site www.stoxposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case CR22-1023. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: Effective 1/1/2021.

You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer" you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (844) 477-7869, or visit this internet website www.stoxposting.com, assigned to this case CR22-1023 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT if the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Further, if the foreclosure sale is set aside for any reason, the Purchaser at the sale shall be entitled only to a return of the deposit paid and shall have no further recourse or remedy against the Mortgagor, Mortgagee, or Trustee herein. If you have previously been discharged in bankruptcy, you may have been released of personal liability for this loan in which case this notice is intended to exercise the note holders rights against the real property only. As required by law, you are notified that a negative credit reporting may be submitted to a credit report agency if you fail to fulfill the terms of your credit obligation. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address or other common designation, if any, shown above. If no street address or other common designation is shown, directions to the location of the property may be obtained by sending a written request to the beneficiary within 10 days of the date of first publication of this Notice of Sale. ## Notting Hill Carnival climaxes with joyful celebrations

■ People partied atop floats followed by feathered 'mas' bands as the smell of jerk chicken filled the air

THE STREETS of West London were filled with Caribbean rhythms and the aroma of jerk chicken on Monday as the Bank Holiday saw a raucous – but mostly peaceful – climax to the famed Notting Hill Carnival.

Colourfully-costumed revellers paraded through the streets of the pricey neighborhood as hundreds of thousands took part in an exuberant adult parade celebrating Caribbean culture and history.

Attendees were in high spirits throughout the day, partying atop floats followed by feathered 'mas' (short for 'masquerade') bands dancing to the beat, and on every side street sound systems played everything from rare groove to house, samba, reggae and ska.

More than two million people took to the streets of Notting Hill by the end of the bank holiday as the carnival, Europe's biggest street party, celebrated the introduction of sound systems and mass bands 50 years ago, which transformed it into a large-scale event

On Sunday evening the Metropolitan Police said the mood at the carnival had been "good-natured throughout the day" as they announced that a Section 60 order, providing officers with additional search powers, would be imposed overnight until 2am.

The force described it as a "precautionary step" following "information that some people had travelled to the area carrying knives.

In an update released just before midnight on Sunday, the Met said 85 people had been arrested, including 11 for sexual assault and 10 for assault on a police officer.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: LISA BELL-SCHNYDER CASE NO. 23STPB09002

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of LISA BELL-SCHNYDER. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by KYLE SCHNYDER in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that KYLE SCHNYDER be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 10/31/23 at 8:30AM in Dept. 11 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Rangers routed by ruthless PSV

Rangers' dreams of an immediate return to the Champions League group stage were extinguished in excruciating fashion by a ruthless PSV in Eindhoven in midweek.

The Ibrox side had harboured hopes of exorcising last season's disfigured continental campaign but were unable to eject the Dutch from the competition in the way they did last term.

Ismael Saibari's first-half header nudged PSV ahead on aggregate for the first time in the tie, and the Moroccan added a second not long after the break.

James Tavernier's strike gave Rangers a slither of hope, but Luuk de Jong guided in a header within a couple of minutes, before Joey Veerman's suspiciously offside effort and a grotesque Connor Goldson own goal completed a chastening evening.

It means that instead of joining Celtic in the Champions League, Rangers will return to the Europa League group stage for their first foray in that competition since the 2022 final defeat in Seville.

"It's fair that PSV goes through," said Rangers manager Michael Beale. "I thought the story of the two legs was we couldn't handle [Ismael] Saibari and [Luuk] de Jong.

"I think we played against an excellent team over two legs. For this team coming together after a lot of change, this game came far too soon, that's what's clear."

City confirm Nunes signing

Manchester City have reached a formal agreement with Wolves to sign midfielder Matheus Nunes for £53m.

The deal includes a 10% sell-on clause for Wolves from any profit City make on the 25-year-old in future.

Nunes has now been cleared to have a medical in Manchester.

City had a previous bid for the Portugal international rejected last week, as Wolves held out for a fee closer to their asking price of over £60m.

Nunes has been absent from training recently after making it clear he wants to join Pep Guardiola's side.

In addition, Wolves have agreed to sign City's England Under-21 international Tommy Doyle on loan, with the option of a £4.3m transfer that would include a 50% sell-on clause.

City wanted to bolster their midfield options even before Kevin de Bruyne suffered the hamstring injury that could keep him out for four months.

West Ham's Lucas Paqueta was an option before it emerged the Brazilian, 25, is being investigated by the Football Association for potential betting rule breaches.

Wolves manager Gary O'Neil said after Tuesday's Carabao Cup win over Blackpool that he expected Nunes to stay at the club beyond Friday's transfer deadline.

The Midlands club signed Nunes on a five-year contract last summer, paying a club-record £38m to Sporting Lisbon.

He was a key figure during the second half of last season as Wolves successfully avoided relegation, finishing 13th in the table.

With De Bruyne injured for an extended period, Pep Guardiola needs more options in midfield and once he had settled in, Nunes was excellent in steering Wolves away from the relegation zone.

Van Dijk charged for ref outburst

Virgil van Dijk has been charged by the Football Association for acting in an "improper manner" after being sent off in Liverpool's win at Newcastle.

The Liverpool captain was shown a straight red card in the 29th minute at St James' Park on Sunday for fouling Newcastle forward Alexander Isak.

The defender appeared to argue with referee John Brooks while the incident was reviewed by VAR.

The FA says it is alleged Van Dijk used "abusive and/or insulting words".

"Virgil van Dijk has been charged with a breach of FA rule E3.1 following Liverpool's Premier League game against Newcastle United on Sunday, 27 August," said the FA in a statement.

"It's alleged that the defender acted in an improper manner and/or used abusive and/or insulting words towards a match official after being sent off in the 29th minute."

The 32-year-old Netherlands centre-back, who also appeared to argue with the fourth official before making his way down the tunnel, has until Friday to respond to the charge.

Currently, Van Dijk will serve a one-match ban for the initial red card and miss Liverpool's next game against Aston Villa on Sunday.

The charge comes after referees' chief Howard Webb said he was "determined" officials would not "turn a blind eye" to bad behaviour from players and coaches this season.

The incident occurred three minutes after Liverpool went behind to Anthony Gordon's opening goal and with the visitors under pressure in the game.

Darwin Nunez came off the bench to score twice late on and hand Liverpool a 2-1 victory to maintain their unbeaten start to the season.

Kudus heads to Hammers

West Ham have completed the signing of Ajax midfielder Mohammed Kudus in a deal worth at least £38m.

The 23-year-old scored a hat-trick in Ajax's Europa League play-off win over Ludogorets in Bulgaria on Thursday.

"I've been dreaming to play in a league like this since I was a kid," said Kudus, as West Ham confirmed his Premier League arrival.

"I'm so happy to be here. But it doesn't stop here, I want to keep going. I can't wait to get started."

He will cost 44.5m euros plus add-ons and is relishing the prospect of elite level football in England.

"I try my best to entertain the fans as I think that's what football is all about," Kudus said.

KUDUS: "I've been dreaming to play in a league like this since I was a kid,"

Brighton were understood to have reached an agreement with Ajax for Kudus earlier this month, but they were unable to finalise personal terms.

But West Ham, flush from the recent £100m sale of England star Declan Rice to Arsenal, had no such money concerns and met all of the player's demands.

Kudus started his professional career at Danish side Nordsjaelland in 2018, before joining Ajax in 2020 where he has scored 27 goals in 87 appearances, helping his side to two Dutch league titles.

He scored 11 goals in 30 Eredivisie appearances last season as Ajax finished third.

At international level with Ghana, Kudus has scored seven goals in 24 games since making his debut in 2019 and started all three matches for his side at the 2022 World Cup in Qatar, scoring twice in a 3-2 win over South Korea.

He is West Ham manager David Moyes' second recruit from Ajax this summer following the arrival of fellow midfielder Edson Alvarez in a deal thought to be worth about £35m.

West Ham also signed midfielder James Ward-Prowse from Southampton and defender Konstantinos Mavropanos from Stuttgart earlier this month.

Harry and Hendo keep England spots

■ Southgate remains loyal to squad stalwarts for upcoming international clashes

England manager Gareth Southgate has included Jordan Henderson and Harry Maguire in his squad for September's games against Ukraine and Scotland.

Midfielder Henderson, 33, has been picked after leaving Liverpool to join Saudi Arabian side Al-Ettifaq in July.

Centre-back Maguire makes the squad despite not having played for Manchester United so far this season.

England play Ukraine in a Euro 2024 qualifier on 9 September in Poland, and Scotland in a friendly on 12 September.

The game against Scotland at Hampden Park is to mark the 150th anniversary of that fixture.

Arsenal striker Eddie Nketiah and Chelsea centre-back Levi Colwill get their first call-ups to the England squad, while midfielder Calvin Phillips is also included, even though he has yet to play for Manchester City this season.

Chelsea forward Raheem Sterling is again absent, having been left out of England's last two squads.

"He (Sterling) was not available for the last two and of course that has given other people the opportunity to play well and establish themselves in the group," said Southgate.

"It is a difficult call and Raheem isn't particularly happy about it - I'm convinced he will have a good season at Chelsea, I've no doubt about that."

Tyrone Mings, Luke Shaw and John Stones are out injured, while fellow defenders Ben Chilwell and Fikayo Tomori are recalled.

Liverpool right-back Trent Alexander-Arnold has been listed in midfield, having played there for the wins against North Macedonia and Malta in June.

Henderson has 77 England caps and spoke to Southgate about his England prospects before joining Al-Ettifaq in the Saudi Pro League.

"We've watched every game, the key as we move forward is going to be the physical intensity of the league, because of the heat as well, whether that is going to allow him to perform at the level we need," said Southgate.

"Clearly the level of the league is changing all the time, lots of countries are going to have this issue.

"Portugal have got a few players there, I'm sure they are going to be playing international football."

Henderson has been criticised by some LGBTQ+ campaigners over the transfer, as same-sex sexual activity is illegal in Saudi Arabia. The player has publicly supported the LGBTQ+ community in the past.

Asked if he was concerned about the reaction to Henderson because of the controversy over his move to Saudi Arabia, Southgate said: "We're picking a team for football reasons."

He added: "There are lots of different club ownership models. There are a lot of different players who play in countries with different religious beliefs.

"I don't know why a player would receive an adverse reaction because of where he plays football.

"I'm a bit lost with some of the questioning."

Last season, Maguire found his first-team chances limited under Manchester United manager Erik ten Hag and was stripped of the club's captaincy this summer. West Ham agreed a £30m fee to sign Maguire earlier in August but the deal collapsed with the defender intent on fighting for his place in the team at Old Trafford.
