Ye Olde King's Head celebrates 50th birthday

■ The ever popular - and world famous - local British watering hole opened its doors in April, 1974

IN NEWS that makes us at the British Weekly (and doubtless many of our readers, too) feel very old, Ye Olde King's Head will celebrate its 50th Birthday on Friday, April 5th.

incomparable This watering hole - a British institution in Santa Monica - first opened its doors back in April of 1974. Back then then the premises were considerably smaller but under the careful guidance of founders Phil and Ruth Elwell it quickly became a haven and a landing space for the flock of newlyminted UK expats and those who had had been here decades, allowing Brits in California to get a feel and taste of home and bring people together.

restaurant quickly built a strong reputation for assortment of Fleet anglophiles and so their soon-to-be-worldfamous fish and chips, front bar exchanging memories, new friends hearty British fare and imported ales, and for many new arrivals it became ground zero to meet other Brits, find a job, make connections and generally feel at home in a (slightly) foreign land.

The pub also became famous for the countless celebrities from the movie and music world, - plus the occasional royal - who graced her doors.

Indeed the King's Head was the place the current where proprietor of first newspaper glimpsed an early copy of the BW back in 1984 (the paper also celebrates its 40th birthday this year). On a Friday afternoon in those days you could usually find the British Weekly's founder Ian Brodie downing a pint in one corner, some high spirited cabin crew

ARIES: No one is more ready to go forward now than you. You might be even tempted to step out of your comfort zone. Just be sure you think hard before you do. Happy Birthday!

TAURUS: This is a time for you to sort out the mind space you are currently living in. Get it straightened out and you may even resolve some unfinished business

GEMINI: Do take note of what is your priority as you really have plenty you can do on your list. Your boss Mercury is moving backwards soon. You can put things off for a while....however only until next week.

CANCER: You are feeling more deeply this week due to Mars stirring up old stuff Uncertainty is not something you deal well with. It would be best to resolve things

LEO: Just don't forget to breathe and relax, it's the best way to get through any kind of stress. You are a leader so get your thoughts aligned and lead forward. The VIRGO: Worry is no stranger in your life. It is actually normal for you. Time will go by whether you stress or not. Be aware that life will slow down early next week when your boss Mercury goes backwards.

LIBRA: Your boss Venus is resting in dreamy Pisces currently. While it may seem a time of uncertainty it is not without its good times. Romance and healing in some situations is likely in your near future.

SCORPIO: Your mood has been lighter of late. But remember to maintaina healthy diet right and be ready to be social this next week or so. Finances are also on the up! SAGITTARIUS: You should be feeling upbeat and in good spirits. This is due to the Sun in your cousin sign Aries. Just enjoy life and get ready for a big boost in May. Try to hold back on anything important until then.

CAPRICORN: You should be ready to get busy planning some trips or events. It's going to be better for you overall and you can set those plans in motion - just expect a few delays due to Mercury going backwards.

AQUARIUS: You would benefit by working on healthy habits for yourself this coming month. You are about ready to have some time out and it's nearly time for short break, which will benefit the busy times ahead.

PISCES: You currently have Saturn the Karma planet living with you. It is likely you will have some past situations pop back up to be resolved. Best to get in a positive state of mind now!

He may have missed chances he would normally have scored but he was a driving force, refusing to give up, eventually earning Southgate's side the draw their performance merited. Penalty heartbreak for Welsh

■ Poland edge Wales in shootout for Euro 2024 finals spot

Wales captain Ben Davies said it was "cruel" to miss out on a place at Euro 2024 on a penalty shootout defeat.

Wales drew 0-0 with Poland in a game of few chances at the Cardiff City Stadium but saw their hopes of reaching the finals in Germany ended when Dan James missed his penalty.

Poland scored all five of their spot-kicks to book a place at the Euros.

"It's a difficult one to take, we put everything into the game but in the end it wasn't to be," Davies told reporters.

"I don't know what to say, it was a good performance but the result is the most important thing and that went against us tonight.

"Poland are a good team, there wasn't much between us but in the end, penalties... it's cruel.

"It's an emotional one right now, the character shown from the players showed everyone loves playing for Wales."

Wales boss Rob Page admitted he was crushed by the defeat and said the Wales squad will look after Leeds United winger James, who saw his effort saved by Juventus goalkeeper Wojciech Szczesny in the shootout.

"It's a cruel game, [we were] one kick away from qualifying. It hurts," he said.

"We rallied around Daniel James, he had the bravery to take that penalty. I am so proud of that group."

Page felt Wales were the better side, having restricted Poland to only a few half chances and no efforts on target until deep into extra time.

"My message to the players at half-time was we are the better team and we will win this game," he said.

"It's so disappointing but look how far we've come, there's something good happening with this group.

"This team is going somewhere. They're so disappointed that they haven't qualified tonight. They are hungry for it.

There's a lot more to come and plenty more good times ahead."

His Poland counterpart Michal Probierz added: "Rob Page created a strong team. I was hoping we could meet Wales at the Euros, but unfortunately only one team could qualify,"

Former Wales midfielder Joe Allen said: "Dan James has been a crucial player for Wales over the recent years. He's one of the main reasons we went to the World Cup and the Euros before that. Everyone will support him and will remember what he's done for Wales, not just a penalty miss."

BIGGER=BETTER: the England manager would welcome a squad size increase

Southgate happy to name expanded Euros squad

England manager Gareth Southgate says he will name an expanded initial Euro 2024 squad as Uefa says it will consider requests to reinstate 26man squads.

Southgate will name a provisional squad on 21 May, two days after the end of the Premier League season.

Unlike the previous two tournaments that had a 26-man limit, Southgate must then reduce his squad to 23 on 7 June.

"There are so many questions on injuries," said Southgate.

"It's inevitable we're going to be naming a longer squad, which is what we did before the Euros here even though we were dealing with 26 then.

"It seems to be [settled at 23]. There is one more Uefa meeting where there's been a little bit of talk amongst some of the coaches about possibly increasing that."

Squad limits were increased from 23 to 26 for the European Championships in 2021 and the World Cup in 2022 because of the coronavirus pandemic and the risk of multiple cases of infection within a squad forcing players to isolate.
