YOU WON'T COP £50m FROM US!

London mayor nixes bonanza deal for AI giant • Scotland Yard abandons talks to use Palantir's AI technology to automate intelligence analysis

A £50m Met police deal with the controversial US tech company Palantir has been blocked by the London mayor, Sadiq Khan, with City Hall citing a "clear and serious breach" of procurement rules.

Scotland Yard had been in talks to use Palantir's AI technology to automate intelligence analysis in criminal investigations. But Khan intervened on Thursday to stop the flagship contract, which would have been Palantir's largest yet in British policing.

The Mayor's Office for Policing and Crime (Mopac), which must approve contracts of this size, withheld approval, saying Scotland Yard had seriously engaged with only one potential supplier, Palantir. Khan's office also said the Met risked becoming locked into Palantir's technology and that the proposed deal had not "ensured or demonstrated value for money".

public concern

His spokesperson said Londoners only wanted to see public money being paid to companies that "share the values of our city". There does not appear to be any block on Palantir bidding for a similar future contract and Mopac said it wanted to work with the Met on a "new procurement at pace".

There is rising public and political concern about Palantir's widening reach in UK public services, where it has more than £600m in contracts with the NHS, the Ministry of Defence, the Financial Conduct Authority and several smaller police forces.

Trump supporter

The US company was co-founded by the Trump-supporting tech billionaire Peter Thiel and also serves the Israeli military and Trump's ICE immigration crackdown operations. It worked with Peter Mandelson's lobbying company, Global Counsel, until its collapse, and Mandelson took the prime minister, Keir Starmer, on a trip to Palantir's Washington DC showroom.

Last month its chief executive, Alex Karp, published a mini-manifesto extolling the benefits of US power and implying some cultures were inferior to others, in what one MP called "the ramblings of a supervillain".

value for money

A company's ethics cannot be taken into account during public procurement processes but the mayor's spokesperson said in a statement that Khan would raise the question of whether this should be changed with the government. City Hall's reasons for blocking the two-year contract to use Palantir's AI to automate intelligence analysis included Scotland Yard's failure to obtain Mopac's approval for its procurement strategy, which meant it was not possible to determine if the market had been tested to ensure value for money.

In a letter to the Met commissioner, Mark Rowley, Khan's deputy mayor for policing and crime, Kaya Comer-Schwartz, said: "I have not been provided with any acceptable explanation for this failure, which I regard as a clear and serious breach of the applicable procedural requirements."

She said the process had created "legal and reputation risks" to Scotland Yard and the mayor. She also highlighted how the Met had originally costed the contract at £15m-£25m a year and that the proposed deal was at the top of that range

trial success

A recent Met police trial of Palantir's AI to monitor staff behaviour in an attempt to root out corrupt and failing officers was carried out under a contract that was awarded directly, without advertisement or open competition, Mopac found. The value of the contract was marginally below the threshold required for City Hall's approval. Scotland Yard last month heralded the success of the trial, saying it resulted in hundreds of officers being investigated for misdemeanors, including making money by abusing the computerized roster system.

It's business as usual, insists embattled PM

SIR KEIR STARMER has insisted it is 'business as usual' this week as he sought to shrug off the growing clouds around his future as Prime Minister.

Following a bruising set of local and devolved election results that left the Labour backbenches in a state of rolling panic and the resignation of his ambitious Health Secretary, Wes Streeting last week, the Prime Minister has resolved to simply plow on, warning his party a leadership contest could result in "chaos".

"nonsense"

In the last few days Starmer has tried repeatedly to change the subject, extending a temporary 5p cut in fuel duty to pacify cost-of-living anxieties on Thursday, having earlier held high-minded telephone calls with Volodymyr Zelenskyy to project statesmanship.

To hear Downing Street tell it, the mutiny currently rocking the Parliamentary Labour Party is mere "froth and nonsense."

But there is a distinct, chilly rhythm to the way Westminster prepares to execute a Prime Minister. It begins with the corridor whispers, morphs into the "feverish speculation" denigrated by Cabinet loyalists, and climaxes with a heavy-weight frontbencher dramatically walking out of the government to spend more time with his leadership ambitions.

Starmer's crisis is very much in act three.

exit timetable

Labour performed badly earlier this month in the biggest set of elections to be held since its landslide election victory in 2024.

Labour lost almost 1,500 councillors in local elections across England, with a surge of support for Reform UK and the Greens also eating into the party's support.

It was kicked out of power in Wales, where it had enjoyed political dominance for a century. Labour also won just 17 of the 129 seats in the Scottish Parliament, its worst ever result at Holyrood.

And as many as 92 Labour MPs are publicly urging the PM to resign immediately or draw up an exit timetable. In addition to Streeting's resignation, four junior ministers - Jess Phillips, Zubir Ahmed, Alex Davies-Jones and Miatta Fahnbulleh - also quit.

However, more than 150 MPs have indicated support for the PM, or say it is not the right time for a leadership contest.

MPs unhappy with Sir Keir remaining in post could try to force a leadership election.

This would require 20% of the party's MPs to back a replacement candidate. There are 403 Labour MPs, so the support of 81 would be needed.

Once a Labour leadership election is triggered, other candidates could join the contest if they also have 81 backers.

Sir Keir would not be required to gather support as he would be automatically on the ballot paper if he chose to contest the leadership election.

pro-Europe

He would continue as prime minister during any contest.

No Labour prime minister has ever faced a formal leadership challenge from their MPs.

Following Streeting's high-visibility quitting

WHAT ME, WORRY? Sir Keir Starmer was all smiles as he left No., 10 on Thursday

last week he declared a few days later that he would be a willing participant in any leadership contest, before angling for the pro-Europe vote by declaring that as Prime Minister, his first job would be to begin negotiations for the country to rejoin the EU.

"King in the North"

But Streeting is considered to the right of his party and held in suspicion by many on the rank-and-file left. He has yet to secure enough votes in the party to openly challenge his former boss. But Starmer faces a far more insidious threat from the soft left, where the shadow of the "King in the North" looms large.

Andy Burnham, the Greater Manchester Mayor, has been named Labour candidate to contest the forthcoming Megafield by-election in Greater Manchester. Should Burnham win, a leadership struggle with Starmer cannot be far behind.

In a statement on social media, Mr Burnham said he was proud and humbled to be chosen and that he was standing to get the voice of local communities heard.

But few believe his ambition ends there. This week he had said that a vote for him would be a vote to change the Labour Party. So this is a by-election like no other.

They think it's all over: US hotels fear World Cup washout

■ Rip-off prices and political fallout spark fears of empty stadiums

US hotels fear a World Cup washout, with bookings well below expectations in almost every city.

A report by the American Hotel and Lodging Association found reservations do not align with Fifa's claims that more than five million tickets have been sold, which football's ruling body denies.

The AHLA said high ticket prices, local transport and tax costs and the political backdrop have put visitors off.

And it said: "The anticipated economic lift may fall short."

As the largest hotel association in the US, the AHLA represents more than 80% of all franchised hotels. Its report partially blames Fifa, accusing it of block-booking far too many rooms for its own use and creating false demand.

This led to artificially high pricing which, after Fifa cancelled a large number of rooms, has been replaced by mass vacancies.

Up to 70% of rooms reserved by Fifa in Boston, Dallas, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Seattle have now been cancelled, the AHLA said.

When polled, 88% of hotels in Kansas City said bookings were under-performing, as did three-quarters of hotels in San Francisco, Seattle, Philadelphia and Boston. The AHLA said hotels spent years preparing and made significant investments based on official projections.

A Fifa study last year predicted the World Cup could create 185,000 jobs, adding £12.7billion in gross domestic product to the US. But the AHLA said weak overseas interest threatens the broader economic impact, three weeks until the opening game on June 11.

HS2 cost spirals up to £102.7bn

THE UK's controversial high-speed rail project HS2 could now cost up to £102.7bn, the transport secretary has announced, but vowed the government will deliver the project "to completion".

Trains will not start running until between 2036 and 2039, up to six years later than the most recent official target of 2033, Heidi Alexander told the House of Commons this week.

To save money, the trains' top speed - originally planned to be 360km/h (224mph) - will

Inquiry calls grow as it emerges Farage bought million pound home just days after huge donation from crypto billionaire

■ Reform UK leader insists he has no case to answer

Nigel Farage bought £1.4m property after receiving £5m gift from British crypto billionaire, is emerged this week.

According to property records reported by Sky News, the Reform UK leader bought the property in cash shortly after receiving a £5m personal gift from billionaire donor Christopher Harborne.

The house purchase, completed in May 2024, came weeks before Mr Farage reversed his decision not to stand in the general election.

financial backer

A spokesperson for Reform said: "The relevant chronology is straightforward. The offer and purchase process for the property commenced before the gift.

"Mr Farage had already passed proof of funds and the relevant checks before receiving the gift. The purchase was therefore already proceeding independently of it."

But the timing of the gift and purchase has prompted the Parliamentary Standards Commissioner to launch an inquiry into whether Farage broke Commons rules by accepting a £5m gift and not declaring it.

The Guardian first reported that Mr Harborne, a Thailand-based cryptocurrency investor who has become Reform UK's biggest financial backer, gave Mr Farage the money before the 2024 election.

MONEY TALKS: billionaire donor Christopher Harborne with Nigel Farage

Under the House of Commons code of conduct, "new MPs must register all their current financial interests, and any registrable benefits (other than earnings) received in the 12 months before their election within one month of their election".

Reform UK denies any wrongdoing and says the money was a "personal unconditional gift" unrelated to politics.

'protect myself'

Speaking previously about the gift, Mr Farage said: "I've been the most attacked, physically, politician of modern times and yet despite repeated requests to the Home Office and the police for protection and help, I've been denied at every twist and turn. This money is the only way I can look after myself and protect myself for the rest of my life."

Mr Harborne made a separate donation to Reform UK of £9m in August 2025, the biggest single donation to a UK political party by a living person.

Up to 57 'could be charged' over Grenfell Tower fire, Met suggest

■ But final decision not likely be made for another year

Up to 57 individuals and 20 companies could face criminal charges over the Grenfell Tower fire disaster, the Metropolitan Police has said.

Potential offences under consideration include corporate gross negligence manslaughter, fraud, health and safety breaches and misconduct in public office.

In an update at New Scotland Yard, the force said it would submit evidence files to the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) by the end of September this year.

A final decision on whether to bring charges could take until June 2027 - 10 years after the fire in west London, which killed 72 people. If the CPS does decide to prosecute, any trials are unlikely to begin before 2029.

A spokesman for Grenfell United, which represents some of the bereaved families and survivors, said the development was "an important step in a process that has already taken far too long".

The Grenfell Tower fire was caused by a chain of failures by governments, "dishonest" companies and shortcomings in the fire service, a public inquiry found.

Operation Northleigh, the £150m probe into the disaster of 14 June 2017, has examined the actions of 15,000 people across 700 organisations in the largest and most complex

AFTER THE INFERNO: the June 2017 fire claimed 72 lives investigation ever carried out by the Met Police.

Jackie Leger and Bernie Bernard, the sisters of Raymond "Moses" Bernard, who died in the fire, said they hoped to see charges brought against "those complicit in the deaths of the 72 victims".

Bernard told reporters:

"The decision-makers need to be brought to justice, not middle management, not lower management, but the people that made the decisions need to take responsibility for what happened at Grenfell."

Grenfell United also said those responsible must be held to account, and called for no further delay to proceedings.

The group said: "For our community, this is not news we meet with celebration. We meet it with caution, grief and determination. We have waited almost a decade for ac-be reduced to 320km/h.

The new cost range, delayed start and lower train speed are being announced as a "reset" of the delayed, over-budget and vastly scaled-back project is carried out.

As of March 2026, £44.2bn has already been spent on the program.

Heidi Alexander said Labour had inherited a "litany of failure" from the previous government.

"Instead of signalling the country's ambition, HS2 became a signal of the country's decline," she told MPs.

Alexander said the rail project was now expected to cost between £87.7bn and £102.7bn in 2025 prices.

When readjusted to 2019 prices, that is roughly double the price range set under the previous government.

"If it seems like an obscene increase in time and costs, it is because it is," she said. "If it seems like I'm angry, it is because I am."

In its original plan, the HS2 project was due to go to Manchester and Leeds, but those legs were cancelled by previous Conservative prime ministers. The current project is set to run from London to Birmingham.

Alexander said the government was committed to delivering the project despite the cost increase.

"I can confirm today that it could cost almost as much to cancel the line as it would to finish it, while delivering none of the benefits," she said.

"This country can build big things, we just need competent people at the helm to deliver them."

Attempted murder of pro-democracy Iranian journalist 'came on orders from Tehran'

A court has heard that an Iranian journalist working for a Persian language opposition television station was stabbed in London by men operating on behalf of Tehran as part of a campaign of Iranian terror.

Puri Azarati was employed by Iran International. The prosecution said the two men from Romania were proxies paid to carry out the attack. They deny the charges.

Woolwich Crown Court was told on Monday that George Stanner and Nandito Badea, both in their twenties, flew in from Bucharest to carry out the attack in March 2024. A Revolut bank account held by Mr Stanner's sister received payments of over £80,000 from a London-based construction company. Duncan Atkinson Casey told the jury it was not a random assault, but a planned and targeted attack that was part of a campaign of Iranian terror in the UK.

The victim, Puriya Zarati, was a senior journalist at Iran International, a Persian-language TV station based in London linked to Saudi Arabia and the Iranian opposition.

In 2022, posters were put up in Tehran of Mr. Zarati's face with the words, Wanted, Dead or Alive. He was stabbed three times in the back but has since made a full recovery. The case continues.

20% of Duchy of Cornwall estate to be sold off for progressive causes

■ Plan to boost affordable housing and environmental projects with sale proceeds

The Duchy of Cornwall, which provides a private income of over £20m per year to the Prince of Wales, is to sell off 20% of its property over 10 years.

There will be £500m invested in local communities, including in affordable housing and environmental projects, it was reported this week.

The property empire spans 128,000 acres across 19 counties, and is given to the heir of the throne, but there has been a push for a greater focus on "social impact".

"We're not the traditional landowner... we want to be more than that. There is so much good we can do. I'm trying to make sure I'm prioritising stuff that's going to make people's lives, living in those areas, better," said Prince William.

But former Home Office minister and a critic of royal finances Norman Baker said the duchy would still be a "royal fruit machine... he pulls the handle and gets a jackpot every time".

He said that the switch to more housing would not leave the duchy any worse off: "More houses, more tenants, more income," Mr Baker said.

feudal roots

In the duchy's new strategy, there will be a greater emphasis on five areas where it is a landowner - Bath, Cornwall, Dartmoor, Isles of Scilly and Kennington in south London.

The duchy has its roots in medieval, feudal land ownership, but it has been having something of an image makeover, with an emphasis on social value, such as providing affordable

"We're not the traditional landowner... we want to be more than that. There is so much good we can do." - Prince William housing and protecting the environment.

Chief executive Will Bax said: "The Duchy should exist to make a positive impact, particularly in the communities where we can make the biggest difference."

Prince William has a project to tackle homelessness, Homewards, and there are plans for the duchy to provide an extra 12,000 homes by 2040. About a third of these are intended to be affordable, with an investment in housing of £161m.

There will be £123m for work places and encouraging the creation of more rural jobs and more support for renewable energy.

That includes an expansion of solar panels on rooftops in the south west of England, with the aim of generating enough power for 40,000 homes.

There will be £20m for environmental schemes and reducing emissions, including helping to restore peatlands and biodiversity on its estates.

This change in direction also comes as pressure grows for more transparency on royal finances.

Particularly in the wake of the Andrew Mountbatten-Windsor scandal there have been calls for more financial openness, including about royal property.

Significant drop in net migration to UK

■ Latest official figures show lowest levels since 2012

NET migration to the UK in 2025 was 171,000 new figures show - its lowest level since 2012, excluding the Covid pandemic.

Meanwhile, the number of asylum seekers living in hotels while waiting for their claims to be processed in the UK has fallen by a third in the 12 months to March 2026.

But alongside this, statistics show a rise in the number of small boat arrivals, up by 3% in the year to March.

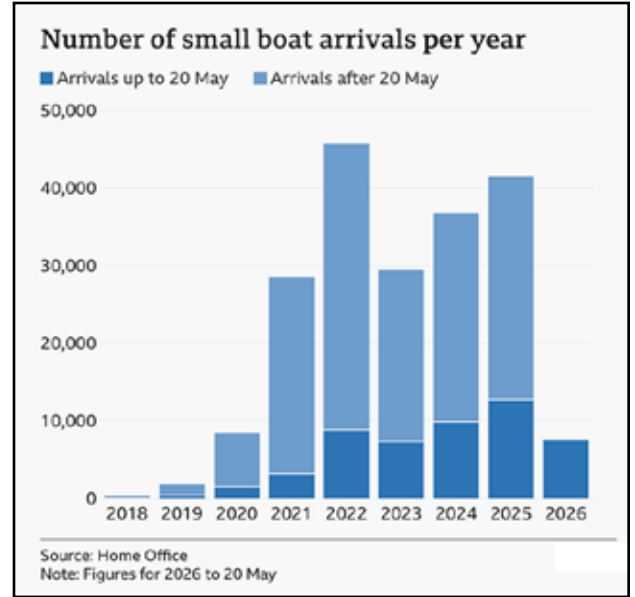

The government has been quick to claim victory. Prime Minister Keir Starmer touting the data as evidence that it is “delivering” on its pledge to introduce a “skills-based migration system”. While Home Secretary Shabana

Mahmood declared that it was “restoring order and control to our borders”.

There was criticism from other quarters, including from shadow home secretary Chris Philp who said that British citizens were “leaving the UK on a massive scale, driven by Labour’s high taxes” and that immigration from outside the EU was “far too high”.

Amid warnings from the Migration Observatory - a high-profile, independent research centre - that the net migration fall is “likely to be temporary”, the government says there is still “more to do” in meeting its pledges on migration.

Nul point again? UK's latest Eurovision quest proves tone deaf to audience

■ Bulgaria triumphs as Britain's hapless You-Tuber finishes dead last

THE UK's recent Eurovision misery went on last weekend when our latest entry came dead last and scored just one point.

YouTuber Look Mum No Computer, aka Sam Battle, earned just one point – from the Ukrainian jury – on Saturday night, and none from the public vote, with his song Eins Zwei Drei.

He posted after coming 25th out of 25: “Met a lot of amazing folk – the most important thing is we all tried our hardest.

“Regardless of what is against us. Whatever it may be. Gotta keep trying your hardest regardless of the foookennnnn outcome!!!”

His post was accompanied by a video of the singer, who performed in a pink boiler suit, celebrating the single point by raising a finger. It is the fourth consecutive year the UK has won no audience points.

The contest was won by Bulgaria's Dara, who scored 516 points across jury and audience votes, with energetic tune Ban-garanga.

Until Bulgaria's score was announced, Israel's Noam Bettan had been in the lead. The country's second-place score of 343 came despite widespread condemnation of its government's war on Gaza, and booing was heard in Austria's Wiener Stadthalle when he sang.

Ireland, Iceland, the Netherlands, Spain and Slovenia all boycotted

the song contest this year, due to Israel being included.

Romania's Alexandra Capitanescu was third with 296 points and Delta Goodrem, representing Australia, was just behind on 287.

Sam, 37, who began winning YouTube audiences in 2013 by showing off his quirky homemade instruments, attempted to get the crowd to sing with him, chanting: “When I say eins, you say zwei.”

The YouTube star wore a pink boiler suit as performers in fluffy headwear danced in a mock workshop, while he played a synthesizer, and ended up in a cardboard box.

It added that the Ministry of Justice and the government must ensure the courts were properly resourced so any prosecutions linked to Grenfell could be heard swiftly.

The Grenfell Next of Kin organisation responded to the news to say it was of “little comfort to us”.

“There is a complete breakdown in trust and confidence. We no longer have faith in the institutions responsible for delivering accountability. After years of delays, reassurances and procedural updates, confidence in the system has been shattered.

“The criminal investigation and justice process should always have come first and been given priority. Instead, the £172m public inquiry was prioritised ahead of criminal accountability and delayed our justice.”

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF WALTER VAN VORT aka WALTER B. VAN VORT and WALTER BURTON VAN VORT

Case No. 26STPB04570
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of WALTER VAN VORT aka WALTER B. VAN VORT and WALTER BURTON VAN VORT

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Mary Van Vort Marino in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Mary Van Vort Marino be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on May 26, 2026 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 2D located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate

Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

CASE NO. 26STPB05068

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of INGRID FUJIKO GEORGII-HEMMING AKA GEORGII HEMMING INGRID F; INGRID FUJIKO GEORGII-HEMMING; AND GEORGII-HEMMING INGRID FUJIKO.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by NOBUAKI IWASHINA in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE ("THE PETITION") requests that NOBUAKI IWASHINA be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 06/05/26 at 8:30AM in Dept. 418 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Stargazing with Annie Shaw

ARIES: Your ruling planet, Mars, in early Taurus is good news financially for you. Be sure to keep your options open to some degree and low-key.

TAURUS: You are going to see some new opportunities over the next couple of weeks. You have decision-maker Uranus in your money house. You should be getting over some frustrations you have had lately.

GEMINI: Due to you hosting your cousin Uranus—the most powerful for a while now—you should move forward in a more positive manner. Nothing is a problem. Happy Birthday!

CANCER: Some past situation in your life may have surfaced after some time. This is not to be ignored. Be aware that Neptune, the self-deceiver, in bossy Aries can hold you back a little.

LEO: This is a time to prepare to enjoy some family occasions. You will be the calm presence and the peacekeeper, and life now will assist you greatly. Be careful making impulsive decisions.

VIRGO: You probably think you are far from completing whatever is outstanding right now. Take a deep breath, as it can take flight this next week or so. You are due a boost in finances.

LIBRA: Venus, your ruling planet, is currently in your cousin sign, giving you some steam to get to whatever finish line you want. It can bring something on hold back up for your prompt attention.

SCORPIO: You have the power to do whatever you wish when you put your mind to it. Now is a good time for anything you want to change. You will soon be in a better place financially due to Uranus in your money house.

SAGITTARIUS: You have blessings due by next week with the powerful blue moon in your own sign. Uranus in your opposite sign, Gemini, is powerful, and the effect can last for a while ahead.

CAPRICORN: Your ruling planet, Saturn, is settled in fiery Aries. Energy is not to be confused with being impulsive, so be ready to make some financial decisions. Relationships are improving now.

AQUARIUS: You have never liked boring situations in your life and this time it's no different; however, take a step back before making commitments. It's still not time to be certain about everything.

PISCES: Saturn, the planet of Karma, is visiting your financial area for a while ahead, for a couple of years. It is time to look at your overall life and be honest, especially about what really needs to change.

Ross Stewart among those on the plane as Scotland squad announced

Scotland have named their 26-man squad for this summer's World Cup in the United States, Canada and Mexico, with manager Steve Clarke displaying his trademark loyalty to the players that brought him to football's biggest stage.

The group includes the Aston Villa captain

John McGinn and the 43-year-old Harts goalkeeper Craig Gordon, as well as Southampton striker Ross Stewart, who "can score big goals in big games", said Clarke after ending the striker's four years in the international wilderness.

Teenage winger Findlay Curtis is also included, but there is no spot for midfielder Lennon Miller.

Southampton striker Stewart, 29, made both of his senior international appearances in 2022 but has not been in a Scotland squad since that summer after suffering injury troubles.

"It's a good story," said Clarke. "Ross, obviously, was in my squad a few years ago, showing that he can come up to this level, was good in the squad. He's had a terrible run of injury.

Scotland have never made it out of the group stage at a World Cup.

This is the first time they've qualified for the finals since 1998. The manager, Steve Clarke, says the players want to make history.

"This is the group of players who understand how to qualify for major tournaments. This will

Haaland: City should be 'angry' to lose title

Striker Erling Haaland says Manchester City should be "angry" as losing the Premier League title to Arsenal "is not good enough".

The Norway international scored his 27th league goal of the season to secure a late draw at Bournemouth on Tuesday, but the result allowed Mikel Arteta's side to claim their first top-flight crown in 22 years.

It means City failed to win the title for the second consecutive season, having come third last term.

"In the end, every game in the Premier League is difficult. We tried. It wasn't enough," said Haaland. "The whole club should use this as motivation now. We should be angry, we should feel a fire inside our belly because it's not good enough.

"It's gone two years now, it feels like forever. We're going to do everything we can, everyone that will be here next season, to win the league."

Manager Pep Guardiola is expected to leave the club this summer, with former Chelsea boss Enzo Maresca tipped to replace him

"We haven't [been] told anything," midfielder Rodri said of Guardiola's future. "Pep is still our manager and we have to recover and play the last game how it is to say goodbye to two legends of our club in John [Stones] and Bernardo [Silva]."

The 2024 Ballon d'Or winner added: "I will be sad [if Guardiola leaves] because not only what he means for the club but for this country [too]. He changed football and having the best manager in the world is always credit."

FA launches Saints probe

The Football Association is investigating Southampton's conduct after the club admitted to spying on three other Championship sides during the past season.

Southampton have been expelled from the Championship play-offs after admitting observing opponents' training sessions within 72 hours of a game, with Middlesbrough reinstated to contest Saturday's final against Hull City.

Saints have also been deducted four points in the Championship next season.

Southampton's appeal against the punishment on the grounds that it was "disproportionate" was dismissed on Wednesday evening.

A spokesperson for the FA, which governs football in England, said it "won't comment further until we have assessed the evidence".

The FA will look into who participated in the spying, assessing the culpability of those who encouraged it or knew it was happening.

There is also a spot for Bologna's Lewis Ferguson, and Curtis, who has been rewarded for an impressive end to the season on loan at Kilmarnock.

The Rangers winger, 19, earned his first cap against Japan in March and has certainly caught the eye of Clarke after that loan spell during the second half of the campaign.

Arsenal's Dowman youngest ever to win top flight title

Teenage midfielder Max Dowman claimed another record this week as clinched the Premier League title.

Dowman became the youngest player in Premier League history when he came on for his senior debut in August 2025 - at 15 years and 235 days old.

In November 2025 he became the Champions League's youngest player at 15 years and 308 days.

By scoring a late goal to seal a 2-0 win at home to Everton in March, he became the Premier League's youngest scorer at 16 years and 73 days.

When Manchester City's draw at Bournemouth on Tuesday meant Arsenal secured their first league title in 22 years, Dowman became the youngest player to win the Premier League.

He will be 16 years and 144 days old on Sunday, the final day of the campaign, and will receive one of the 40 medals given to the Premier League champions.

Players must make a minimum of five league appearances to qualify for a medal, and Dowman has played in five games as a substitute this season.

He takes the record from Phil Foden, who was 17 years and 350 days when he won the first of his six league titles with City in 2017-18.

Dowman joins former Arsenal title winners Gael Clichy and Nicolas Anelka on the list.

■ Draw for City sends title to North London for first time in 22 years

MANCHESTER City's draw with Bournemouth on Tuesday confirmed Arsenal being crowned Premier League champions for the first time in 22 years - detonating wild celebrations across north London.

Players and fans partied long into the night, with hundreds of them pictured outside the Emirates at 5am Wednesday, including Eberechi Eze, who posted pictures on Instagram, alongside teammates Declan Rice, Bukayo Saka and Jurrien Timber.

Dutch defender Timber posted a video alongside Saka stood by a blacked out Premier League trophy at the club's training ground that was designed to light up once the team won.

"Light that up," Saka says.

"Let me tell you something. Twenty-two years, 22 years. There was laughing, there was joking, they're not laughing any more. Look, it is going to be shining, it is going to be shining bright."

In another video posted by Saka, 19-year-old defender Myles Lewis-Skelly is seen holding a champagne bottle.

"They called us bottlers," said academy graduate Lewis-Skelly. "And now we're holding the bottle."

Eze's Instagram post also included a picture of an Arsenal-branded bottle in another reference to criticism the team has received for finishing second in the league for three consecutive seasons.

The club will hold a trophy parade around Islington on Sunday, 31 May at 14:00 BST, the day after they face holders Paris St-Germain in the Champions League final in Budapest.

At the final whistle of City's game, Gunners legend Ian Wright, who scored 185 times for the club and won the title in 1998, was mobbed by fans as he celebrated outside the Emirates.

There were celebrations also at the Gunners' training ground. Players and staff danced and hugged while chanting: "Campeones, Campeones, Ole Ole Ole!"

The title win came in Mikel Arteta's seventh year in charge, and underlined just what can be achieved if a manager is given time.

FANDEMONIUM: Ian Wright joins the celebrations outside the Emirates

The best gift you can give a good manager is time," former Premier League goalkeeper Paul Robinson told BBC Radio 5 Live.

"Mikel Arteta's been there a long period of time.

There a long period of time.

CUP THAT CHEERS: Aston Villa clinched the Europa League trophy Wednesday

Emery does it yet again - with Villa

Dominant Aston Villa dispatched Freiburg to win the Europa League and end a 30-year trophy drought - while manager Unai Emery vowed: "we're not going to stop".

First-half stunners from Youri Tielemans and Emi Buendia gave Villa control before Morgan Rogers' strike sealed a second major European title 44 years after they won the European Cup.

Spaniard Emery replaced Steven Gerrard in November 2022 with Villa three points above the relegation zone and has transformed them into top five contenders and, now, a European champion...with more to come, they hope.
