Bomboclaat at No 10!

■ Burnham under fire after TikTok stars turn Downing Street into a playground

Andy Burnham was facing a furious backlash this week after rolling out the red carpet at Downing Street for a gaggle of social media influencers – one of whom promptly filmed himself miming to a filthy viral song outside No 10.

In an embarrassing climbdown, Downing Street conceded it was 'right' that Max Balegde had deleted his TikTok clip, in which he gleefully mouthed the words 'bomboclaat pussywagon chicken nuggets' after attending an event at the Prime Minister's residence.

For the uninitiated, bomboclaat is a Jamaican profanity referring to a menstrual cloth. Balegde had been invited as part of Mr Burnham's much-trumpeted drive to cosy up to online celebrities.

After a barrage of criticism from Kemi Badenoch, Nigel Farage and others, the Prime Minister's spokesman was forced to admit the post was not acceptable.

'degraded' No 10

'It is right the creator took down that content,' he said. 'It's clearly not acceptable and that is reflected by the fact that it has been taken down. Content creators are obviously responsible for what they choose to post.'

Undaunted, he insisted it was still right for the PM to listen to content creators who 'reach millions of people who don't get their news from traditional media'.

The influencers were waved through the famous black door for a No 10 reception on 9 November – and videos from the evening have been trickling out online ever since.

In another, Luke Hamnett was filmed recreating Hugh Grant's cringeworthy prime ministerial dance from Love Actually – inside No 10 itself.

The Conservatives accused Mr Burnham of turning Downing Street into a joke, saying he should never have allowed it to be 'degraded'.

'disgrace'

Mrs Badenoch said: 'I do think Andy Burnham should apologise for the way he is using No 10 as his personal studio to carry out these silly TikToks.'

She warned the clips would be lapped up by Vladimir Putin and Xi Jinping, meaning Britain's adversaries would 'see that our prime minister is not a serious man and they will think we are not a serious country'.

Turning to Balegde's video, she fumed: 'I think it is a disgrace that No 10 – that door which is a symbol of British democracy, power and authority in the world, dignity, that's where we receive people like President Zelenskyy, showing them that they have the support of people in this country – is being degraded in this way.'

Mr Farage branded the antics at the Downing Street door 'puerile and demeaning' – though he stopped short of saying he would ban influencers from No 10 altogether.

'very inappropriate'

'I wouldn't let them behave quite the way that it happened,' he said. 'It showed a slight lack of respect for the place and for the office and was really very inappropriate indeed.'

Awkward questions also remain over how the footage was shot at all, given that every visitor must surrender their devices before setting foot inside. Asked whether No 10 officials had a hand in the filming, the spokesman would only say: 'Downing Street staff were present at the reception, as they would be at any reception.'

He added: 'In terms of the filming of individual creator content, that would be for the individual content creator to be responsible for … not for Downing Street staff to do.'

Nevertheless, he stoutly defended the bash, boasting that the influencers in attendance had a combined audience of more than 470 million – and insisting Mr Burnham 'absolutely respects' the history of his famous address.

'The prime minister has immense respect for No 10 Downing Street, but he also understands that there are millions of people now who don't get their news information from traditional media and they get their information from a variety of different channels. And he's determined to reach people where they are,' the spokesman said.

Meghan's father to be sent to California to face child abuse image charges

■ Thomas Markle currently in jail in Florida

A US judge has ordered that Thomas Markle, the Duchess of Sussex's father, be sent to California to face formal charges of possessing child sex abuse images.

The dramatic move comes after a federal grand jury on the west coast cleared the way for the prosecution of Markle Sr, who is currently languishing in custody in Florida. He has been charged with two counts of possession of child pornography.

'child pornography'

Magistrate judge Lindsay Griffin ordered this week that the 82-year-old be transported to the charging jurisdiction, according to documents seen by the Press Association.

He is expected to appear before a Los Angeles judge in the coming weeks, where he will hear the charges against him and is likely to be asked to enter a plea.

The grand jury filing alleges that on or about 30 October and 4 November of this year, Markle Sr 'knowingly possessed 35mm film negatives that contained child pornography'.

The negatives are alleged to include images that 'involved a prepubescent minor and a minor who had not yet attained the age of 12 years old'. If convicted, he faces up to 20 years behind bars on each count.

FBI agents swooped on Markle Sr on 6 November after seizing a cache of material from two Los Angeles storage units he had rented for nearly two decades.

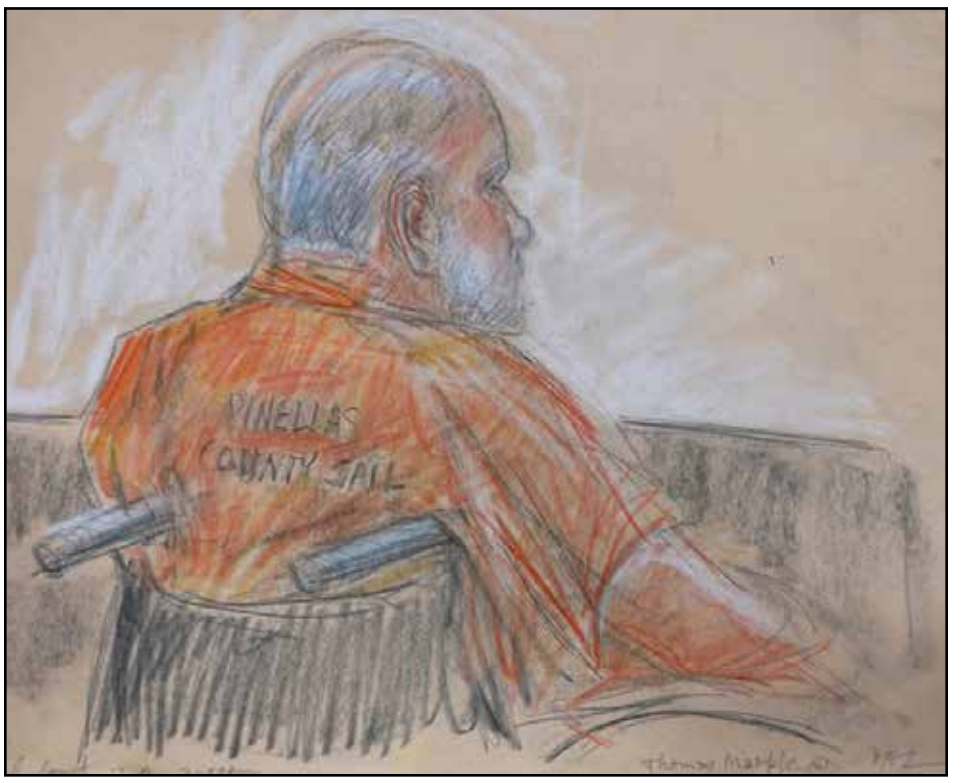

In an extraordinary family twist, he came under investigation after being reported to police in the Philippines and the FBI last month by his own son, Thomas Markle Jr, who allegedly found illegal images among his father's belongings in Cebu City.

'deeply distressed'

Markle Jr told the Sun he had tipped off the authorities about the LA storage units.

The US attorney's office for the central district of California stated: 'Every defendant is presumed to be innocent until and unless proven guilty in court.'

Markle Sr's taste of freedom proved short-lived. Initially released on conditional bail following his arrest in Florida, he was locked up again just days later after removing his electronic monitoring tag.

FLORIDA FELON: While on bail in the Sunshine State, Mr. Markle removed his electronic monitoring tag and was promptly locked up again

In an interview, Markle Sr claimed not to understand the allegations against him and insisted he did not have 'any child porn' and 'no pictures of naked kids'.

Meghan, who moved back to the UK with Prince Harry in August, has previously said she was 'deeply distressed' by the accusations against her father, from whom she is estranged.

Remarkably, she revealed she had been sent a letter via the Metropolitan Police and Royalty and Specialist Protection back in 2019 which made 'troubling and disturbing allegations' about her father – but was assured these were being investigated.

Embarrassingly for Scotland Yard, the Met has now admitted it never shared the details with other law enforcement agencies, and the police watchdog, the Independent Office for Police Conduct, is now investigating the force's conduct.

MP victimized by 'deep fake' porn calls for strong legislation to protect women

A member of parliament whose name and image were used in AI content on porn sites said the issue could make women less likely to want to enter public life.

Mims Davies, the shadow Welsh Secretary, said she received an email in her parliamentary inbox which said "her likeness was found on forums in abusive and pornographic content".

The Conservative frontbencher said people making money from deepfakes was "grotesque", urging people to report it if it happens to them so that "culprits can be held to account".

"It's completely unacceptable, it's a violation and an outrage," she told BBC Radio Wales Breakfast.

Deepfakes are videos, pictures or audio clips made with artificial intelligence to look real.

It is illegal to share or threaten to share intimate photos or videos of someone without their consent, including through deepfake images.

Davies said she had waived her right to anonymity to call for more resources to find and prosecute culprits.

Ofcom, the communications regulator, said "significant action is being taken to tackle intimate image abuse" but added there was "more to do".

Davies, MP for East Grinstead and Uckfield in East Sussex, said: "There are things you

Andrew 'bribed' to secure UK passport

ANDREW Mountbatten-Windsor was paid a £750,000 "bribe" to help a Turkish woman with her passport, the High Court has been told.

Nebahat Isbilen is suing her former adviser, businessman Selman Turk, alleging he misappropriated tens of millions of pounds of her funds.

She claims Mr Turk misled her about a £750,000 payment made to the former Duke of York in 2019, which was later paid back, dishonestly claiming the money was needed as a "gift" for Andrew's help with her Turkish passport.

Her lawyers told a trial this week that Mr Turk also instructed separate payments to Sarah, the former Duchess of York, including a £15,000 sum purportedly for her 60th birthday party in 2019.

Mr Turk denies dishonesty, arguing that Mrs Isbilen knew the money was being paid in the hope that Andrew could help her husband, who is in prison in Turkey.

His lawyers told the court in London: "Her own case is that she understood that the payment to the Duke of York was a bribe, either for assistance with her passport or her UK residency."

Andrew, who is not accused of any wrongdoing, is due to give evidence on December 14, after a judge allowed Mr Turk to issue him with a witness summons.

The trial continues.

Top Gear roars back to TV

■ Gordon Ramsay set to lead the comeback of BBC's global hit

TV chef Gordon Ramsay is to lead the new presenting line-up on BBC motoring show Top Gear, which is being revived four years after it was last on air.

Ramsay will take the driving seat alongside as yet unnamed co-presenters when the show starts filming next year. It will return to screens in 2028.

The long-running programme has been off air since 2022, when co-host Andrew Flintoff suffered serious facial and rib injuries after his open-topped three-wheeled car overturned at the show's test-track.

'fresh energy'

In a statement announcing his new role, Ramsay said he wants to bring "a fresh energy and ambition" to the show's formula of being "surprising, entertaining and [with] just the right amount of chaos".

Top Gear began in 1977 and became one of the BBC's biggest hits in the hands of Jeremy Clarkson, Richard Hammond and James May in the 2000s.

They were replaced by hosts including Chris Evans and Friends star Matt LeBlanc, before Flintoff took over in 2018 with Paddy McGuinness and Chris Harris.

But the show was "rested" after the former cricketer's crash in December 2022.

Flintoff was dragged face-down underneath the Morgan Super 3 car for about 50 metres. "I thought I was dead," he told a Disney+ documentary last year.

The BBC apologised and paid compensation to Flintoff following his crash.

PUTTING HIS FOOT DOWN: Avid car collector Ramsay has a long association with Top Gear, appearing on the show on three separate occasions

In this week's statement, Ramsay said he has had a love of cars since he grew up near the Silverstone race circuit in Northamptonshire.

'lifelong passion'

"I would climb over the fences and sneak in for a glimpse of the racing," he said. "That early excitement sparked a lifelong passion for cars, motor sport, beautiful design and extraordinary engineering.

"At its very best Top Gear has always been about the unexpected - surprising, entertaining and just the right amount of chaos.

"That's the spirit we want to build on, bringing a fresh energy and ambition to create something truly thrilling for a whole new generation of audiences.

"It's an incredibly exciting opportunity, and I genuinely can't wait to get started!"

Ramsay, 60, owns an extensive collection of cars including multiple Aston Martins and Ferraris, as well as a Porsche, Land Rover and McLaren Senna.

He has also appeared on Top Gear three times as a guest - in 2002, 2006 and 2017.

Duran Duran guitarist Andy Taylor dead at 65

Andy Taylor, the guitarist for the pop group Duran Duran, has died at the age of 65.

Born in Tynemouth, he co-wrote some of the group's biggest hits, including Save A Prayer, Rio and Girls On Film; and also worked with artists like Robert Palmer, Rod Stewart and Belinda Carlisle.

In a statement, his bandmates said Taylor had fought "a long and courageous battle with prostate cancer" and "passed away peacefully at home, surrounded by his family, on Monday 23 November".

His wife, Tracey, said the musician "was the rock of our family", adding: "We will miss him every single day".

The son of a fisherman, Taylor taught himself guitar, bass, and drums and began playing professionally at age 13.

He played with several bands around the UK before answering a music paper advertisement for a "live-wire guitarist", which led to his audition for Duran Duran.

The group went on to achieve global fame through the New Romantic movement, which combined slick, melodic synth-pop with aspirational music videos and chiselled good looks.

Taylor's guitar lines - full of glassy, powerful riffs - were often a highlight of their songs, from the choppy opening of Girls on Film to the sleazy scuzz of Hungry Like The Wolf.

"Andy was there at the very beginning of our story," said his bandmates Simon LeBon, Nick Rhodes, John Taylor and Roger Taylor (his bandmates were unrelated, despite sharing the same last name).

Andy Taylor: a Duran Duran member from their earliest days in Birmingham

"From the moment he arrived in Birmingham from the North East with a guitar and an unshakeable belief in what we could become, he brought an indelible fire and swagger to our music.

"His playing drove the songs that took us around the world, and with a dry wit that was matched only by his wonderfully unsentimental, no-nonsense outlook on life he kept us grounded and gave the band its edge through the extraordinary years that followed.

"Our thoughts are with his wife Tracey, his children Georgina, Isabella, Bethany and Andrew, and grandson Albie. They all loved him deeply and we ask that their privacy be respected at this very difficult time."

Davies, who studied politics and international relations at Swansea University before embarking on a career in journalism in Wales, said the issue was likely to make women "feel less likely to want to enter public life".

"It doesn't just affect you personally, it affects families. You never know when you're walking into a room what people might be thinking.

Amazon to start selling cars in the UK next year

■US retail giant links up with Hyundai in attempt to crack £200bn British market

Amazon is planning to sell cars in the UK from early next year, in a move that threatens to disrupt the vehicle retail market.

The Amazon Autos service will be launched in "early 2027", starting with cars from the Korean manufacturer Hyundai. It will be the first time the US tech company has sold cars outside its home country.

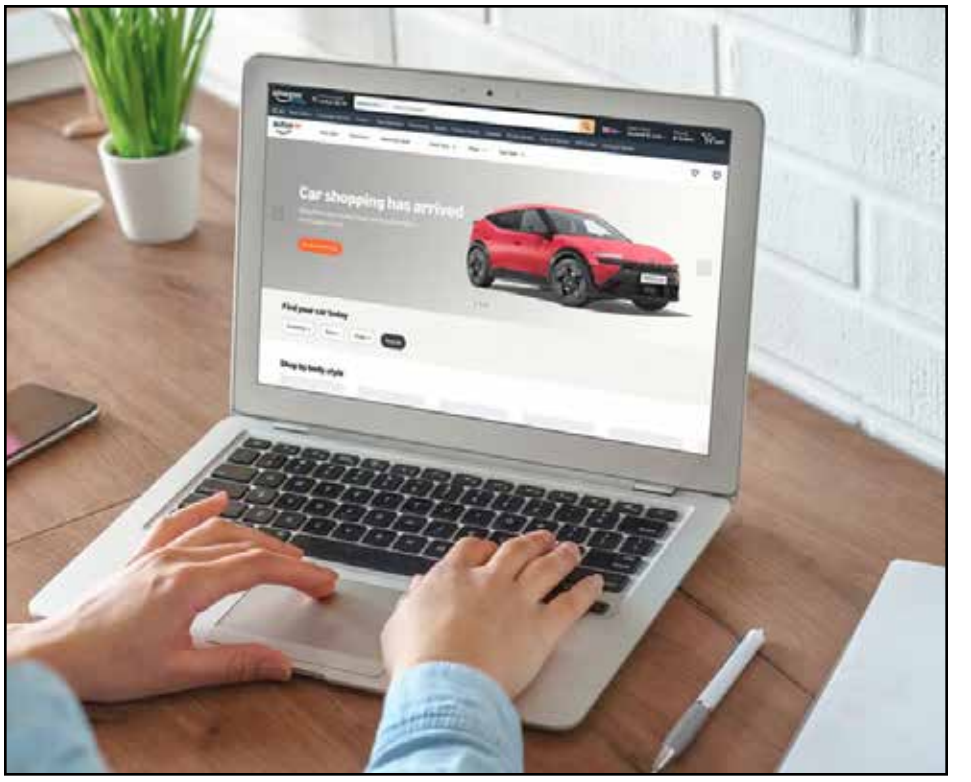

Amazon, which is the world's biggest online retailer with a market value of $2.7tn (£2.1tn), started selling cars at the end of 2024 in an effort to expand into one of the few remaining major consumer markets it had not already targeted.

Its latest move will be watched closely by car retailers that share a UK market worth more than £200bn a year.

Amazon Autos operates in 150 US cities and counts thousands of dealers in its networks, offering vehicles from 35 brands.

UK buyers will be able to buy new electric hybrid and petrol Hyundai models, as well as used cars from Vertu Motors, a large British dealership. Amazon said customers would be able to explore financing options before reserving a car and completing the purchase in physical dealerships. More brands and dealers will be announced before the launch of the UK service.

Amazon will go up against online new and used dealers, as well as traditional physical dealerships. Car companies also sell directly to consumers through their websites.

Amazon Auto operates in 150 US cities but the UK expansion marks its first foray into another country

The share price of Autotrader, the UK's largest car sales website, fell 3% this week after news of Amazon's move.

An Autotrader spokesperson said: "We've always welcomed innovation in automotive, but our focus remains on delivering the best possible experience for UK car buyers."

The FTSE 100 company also said it had a "unique depth of automotive data with AI models developed specifically for the UK market" that had "taken decades to build".

Vertu's share price rose 4% although it also announced acquisitions of dealerships. The company, listed on London's Alternative Investment Market, was valued at £269m before the announcement.

Two homeless Albanians charged with break-in at Prince's country home

■ The pair are charged with breaking in to William's house on the Sandringham estate

Two men have appeared in court accused of breaking into the Prince and Princess of Wales's country mansion and stealing six pairs of cufflinks and a clock.

Mirgen Doku, 34, and Arilen Ndoci, 32, both Albanian nationals, were remanded in custody at Norwich magistrates court charged with burglary and trespass after a suspected break-in at the royal residence in Norfolk. A third suspect has still not been caught, the court heard.

Judge Bone was told immigration services were "not satisfied" with the status of the defendants, who are both homeless, and Doku had been sleeping in the woods near Anmer House.

The court heard they entered a dressing room at Anmer Hall by climbing a drainpipe. The items stolen were of an unknown value, the court was told.

Damage could be seen on the exterior window frame, which prosecutors allege was from forced entry to the level where the dressing room could be located, the court heard.

The full allegations against the men were read to the court this week, including that motion sensors at the estate were triggered at 5.49pm this week. Motion sensors were also triggered near the window at the Orangery, and there were scuff marks on the drainpipe on the side of the building.

COUNTRY PILE: Anmer Hall is located about eight miles north of King's Lynn

The court heard the men climbed the drainpipe to gain access to the dressing room. The charges were read to the pair as they stood in the dock and they were translated by the interpreter on the link.

Doku, of west London, and Ndoci, of no fixed address, were accused of entering a dwelling with intent to steal and trespassing on a protected site, police said.

The court heard the games and conservation manager at the Sandringham estate, David Harrison, was conducting a patrol using a thermal spotter when he saw two males jump through a hedgerow and run into a wooded area.

He followed in a utility motor vehicle but could not locate the men, who were later arrested without shoes on their feet.

Suspended sentence for former England star Sterling

■ Footballer who won four Premier League titles with Manchester City, pleaded guilty to driving dangerously while inhaling nitrous oxide

Former England footballer Raheem Sterling has been given a suspended sentence after admitting dangerously driving his Lamborghini while inhaling nitrous oxide from a balloon on a motorway.

The 31-year-old, from Berkshire, who later crashed into a metal gate during rush hour, gave no reaction as he was handed a 12-month jail term, suspended for 18 months, at Basingstoke Magistrates' Court.

Sterling had pleaded guilty to dangerous driving of a Lamborghini Urus and possessing nitrous oxide on the M25, the M3, the A327 and Minley Road on 28 May.

The judge said Sterling's use of the Class C drug had became a "maladaptive coping mechanism during a difficult period" in his career.

Sterling, who left the court without making any comment, was ordered to complete 100 hours unpaid work and was banned from driving for 24 months.

He was arrested after crashing near the M3 in Hampshire.

District judge Kirsty Allman told the court this week that Sterling was seen at 01:10 BST at a McDonald's in Hayes driving "erratically and at speed" while inhaling from a pink balloon. She went on: "At 7.45am, having not slept, you made a deliberate and entirely selfish decision, to drive your vehicle without adequate sleep and whilst consuming a Class C drug, nitrous oxide."

She said this exposed a "large number of road users to a significant risk of serious harm by the manner of your driving on two motorways and in peak travel time that morning".

Witness Christopher Jennings called 999 after driving alongside Sterling's car on the M25, and "he was shocked by what he saw", Jones said, and made clear "he sighted the defendant inhaling from the balloon".

Fiona Jennings – driving on the southbound M3 – described the driving as "absolutely horrendous" and "swerving in and out of lanes", the court heard.

The court heard Sterling strayed into the central reservation of the M3, exited at junction 4A, and veered off the A327, crashing into a metal gate near a layby.

His vehicle sustained "substantial damage to the tyres and bodywork and was no longer capable of being driven", the court heard.

DOWNWARD SPIRAL: the judge described Sterling's drug use as "a maladaptive coping mechanism during a difficult period" in his career

District Judge Kirsty Allman said: "I accept that your character has been positively exemplary.

"You enjoyed a highly successful professional football career and were widely regarded as a role model for many young people through your achievements and public profile."

He was given credit for his guilty pleas.

Sterling most recently played for Feyenoord in the Dutch Eredivisie, having left Chelsea in January, but made just eight appearances in the Netherlands.

In four years at Chelsea - including a season-long loan at Arsenal - he made 59 league appearances after signing from Manchester City in 2022.

With City he won four Premier League titles, having started his senior career with Liverpool before moving to Manchester in 2015.

He is currently without a club.

In the 2021 Queen's Birthday Honours, Sterling was made an MBE for services to racial equality in sport.

Sterling's life was touched by tragedy at a young age.

Born in Kingston, Jamaica, he was just two when his father was shot dead.

His mother, Nadine, was determined to give her children a safer environment to live in. She moved to England to lay a path for Sterling and his sister to join her once she had found a home and finished her education, while cleaning bathrooms and changing bedsheets in hotels to earn extra money.

Sterling grew up on a housing estate in Neasden, north-west London, and spent part of his education at Vernon House, where teachers attempted to help the football-obsessed youngster with behavioural problems.

In an interview with the Players' Tribune in 2018, Sterling said: "I was so naughty that they kicked me out of primary school. I just didn't like to listen to anyone but my mum. That was my problem."

He was 10 when teacher Chris Beschi told him: "If you carry on the way you're going, by the time you're 17 you'll either be playing for England or in prison."

Sterling would grow to become one of the standout English attacking talents of his generation.

Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may visit the Internet Website address www.insourcelogic.com or call In Source Logic LLC at 702-659-7766 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA08000894-24-5. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to Tenant NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLOSURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021 You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 702-659-7766, or visit this internet website www.insourcelogic.com, using the file number assigned to this case CA08000894-24-5 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. YIPPEE-KI-YAY! IT'S CHRISTMAS IN L.A.

■ The Christmas cracker with a body count is back on stage as Die Hard Xmas returns!

Forget the usual Christmas theatre fare. This year, if you're looking for festive cheer with a little more gunfire, explosions and German-accented villainy, Hollywood has just the ticket.

Die Hard Xmas: The Parody Musical is returning to Los Angeles, bringing its gloriously unlikely combination of Christmas spirit and high-octane action to the stage.

After all, why settle for another show about snowmen, elves and a jolly man in a red suit when you can spend an evening with John McClane, a building full of terrorists and the immortal words "Yippee-ki-yay"?

The question of whether Die Hard is a Christmas movie may still divide families every December, but there is no doubt where this musical parody stands.

Now in its fourth year, the production takes the much-loved 1988 Bruce Willis film and gives it a theatrical makeover, mixing comedy, original music and Christmas mayhem. The familiar story of New York cop McClane battling Hans Gruber and his gang in the high-rise Nakatomi Plaza provides plenty of opportunities for comic twists, musical surprises and affectionate movie references.

The show has already enjoyed a transatlantic adventure, playing to sold-out audiences in Los Angeles, London and New York. It has also received 28 Broadway World nominations, suggesting that its combination of movie nostalgia and musical parody has struck a chord with audiences and critics.

This year's Los Angeles run brings a change of venue, with the production moving to Three Clubs, the long-established Hollywood bar and entertainment venue on Vine Street. Its party-style cabaret setting should provide a suitably lively backdrop for a show that aims to make the audience feel part of the Christmas chaos rather than simply watching it from a distance.

Writer and co-director Sandro Monetti has assembled a talented cast including fellow Brits Niek Versteeg as John and Laura Chandler as Helga while Americans Sean Cowhig and Bonnie Gordon reprise their popular roles as Hans Gruber and Holly. The ensemble brings together performers from theatre, comedy, music and television including Raymund King, James Warfield, Allan Williams, Josh Swezey and Marshall Givens.

For anyone who believes Die Hard belongs firmly in the Christmas movie canon – or simply fancies an alternative to the usual seasonal entertainment – this should be an entertaining way to get into the holiday spirit. Just don't expect a quiet night at the theatre.

Die Hard Xmas: The Parody Musical plays Three Clubs, 1123 Vine Street, Hollywood, on December 7, 12, 13 and 17. Further information and tickets are available at www.diehardxmas.com.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call, (800) 280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this internet website, www.auction.com, for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, T.S.# 26-13284CA. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 280-2832, or visit this internet website www.auction.com, using the file number assigned to this case 26-13284CA to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. 3 File No.:26-13284CA If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Gunners left frustrated by Dortmund

Arsenal failed to make the most of their first-half dominance as they were held to a frustrating draw by Borussia Dortmund in the Champions League on Tuesday.

Mikel Arteta made six changes to the side that drew with Newcastle at the weekend with Viktor Gyokeres coming into the starting line-up for the league-phase encounter.

And it was the Swedish striker who gave the Gunners the lead when he struck a powerful looping effort from the edge of the box over Gregor Kobel in the Dortmund goal.

Arsenal were dominant after that and went close through Christos Tzolis, Noni Madueke and Declan Rice but only took the single goal lead into half-time.

That proved to be costly as Dortmund were much improved after the break, and levelled when centre-back Joane Gadou carried the ball from inside his own half before teeing up Maximilian Beier, who finished excellently into the corner in the 55th minute.

The Bundesliga leaders thought they had completed the turnaround when Jobe Bellingham tapped in from close range but the flag was up for offside.

Mikel Arteta made a triple change as he pushed for a win and the Gunners had a golden opportunity when Gyokeres got on the end of a cross inside the six-yard box but mistimed his header wide of the goal.

The result leaves Arsenal fifth in the league table on 11 points while Dortmund have a point less and sit seventh.

Cherki saves City blushes

Rayan Cherki rescued a late point Tuesady night but Manchester City's poor run of form continued as they were held to a draw at home in the Champions League by Napoli.

Enzo Maresca's side started the season in perfect fashion but have dropped off dramatically since, now having won just one of their past seven games in all competitions.

City had chances in the early stages. Elliot Anderson marauded forward and saw a low strike in the opening minute batted away by Vanja Milinkovic-Savic, before Nico O'Reilly headed over from close range.

But the opportunities dried up and it was Napoli who almost broke the deadlock on the stroke of half-time when Sam Beukema rose highest to meet Kevin de Bruyne's corner, but the header was kept out by Gianluigi Donnarumma's sharp save.

Against the run of play, the visitors opened the scoring in the second half as former Manchester United striker Rasmus Hojlund turned Marc Guehi inside out before drilling home an unerring finish.

City boss Maresca sent on Jeremy Doku and the Belgium international was the catalyst for the equaliser, picking out Ayyoub Bouaddi in the box for the Moroccan teenager to stroke home his first goal for the club.

But the Serie A side restored their lead on 76 minutes courtesy of Noa Lang smacking home a sensational volley from Leonardo Spinazzola's cross towards the far post.

The home supporters were becoming frustrated and Josko Gvardiol rattled the post as they searched for an equaliser, but Cherki showed quick footwork and drilled low into the bottom corner to salvage a draw.

MORE UNITED CHAOS!

■ Champions League: defensive frailty costs United again amid promising signs in 2-2 draw in Lisbon

Manchester United emerged from a chaotic Champions League night in Lisbon with a point but nursing a huge sense of grievance in a game littered with controversial decisions.

United were behind at the break after goalkeeper Senne Lammens saved one penalty, then 75 seconds later conceded another that was converted by Luis Suarez after the Belgian's reckless tackle on Max Araujo.

However, the visitors were furious what they thought was an equaliser by Amad Diallo was disallowed by World Cup official Szymon Marciniak, for a foul by Youri Tielemans.

TV replays showed there had been little contact but VAR could not intervene as Marciniak had blown his whistle before Amad headed the rebound after his initial shot had come back off the crossbar.

Within three minutes of the restart, United levelled when former Sporting player Bruno Fernandes converted the third penalty of the night.

Two minutes later, Fernandes profited from a huge slice of fortune when his speculative shot hit a divot and bounced over Sporting keeper Kaique Pereira.

Sporting levelled when Lammens messed up for a second time, dropping a routine cross, which Suarez converted with an overhead kick.

But there was more drama to come as it appeared United had regained the advantage almost immediately, when Pereira pushed the ball into his own net. Marcinak gave the goal but reversed his decision after spotting an infringement by Patrick Dorgu after being told to look at the pitchside monitor.

To complete the chaos, Tielemans was sent off in injury time when he picked up a second booking.

Senne Lammens conceded a needless penalty which was converted by Sporting

Isak looking ominous for Reds

Alexander Isak scored twice to take his tally for the season to 10 as Liverpool eased to a 3-0 win at Club Brugge in the Champions League Wednesday night.

Isak (above) opened the scoring early in the first half after Yann Sommer had passed straight to Bradley Barcola, who found Dominik Szoboszlai inside the box and the midfielder teed up the striker to slot in.

Liverpool should have been two up midway through the second half but Sommer produced a great save to deny Szoboszlai at point-blank range.

Alisson was rarely tested although made a good save down at his near post from Felix Lemarechal's low drive.

The hosts did start to put more pressure on the Liverpool defence as the second half wore on, but Florian Wirtz ensured there would be no late drama as he continued his good form this season with a finish at the near post.

Isak then wrapped up the scoring late on with a confident chipped finish after running through one-on-one.

The one negative on the night for Liverpool was Victor Munoz suffering an injury in the first half.
